Beaver Game Is Worrying Bearded

(By International News Service.)

LONDON.—England's bearded population is up in arms.

Up in Oxford and Cambridge the unrespectful students revived the ancient game of "beaver." When two friends are walking down the street they watch out for bearded men and as soon as they spy one the cry "beaver" is heard. The length of beards and their color count in the scoring.

Now all up and down England there are cries of "beaver." Even the troops, marching to and from their barracks, play the "beaver" game.

Indignant old men snarl about insults, and the times is full of letters of complaint.

Russians to Clear Up Money Issues

(By International News Service.)

MOSCOW.—In order to reduce the complex variety of money now circulating in Russia, all money published prior to 1927 will be withdrawn from circulation by January, 1932. Before that date it can be exchanged in the banks for new money; after that date it is worthless. Any old money of small denomination will be withdrawn by October 1 of this year; but the notes from one to five millions, and for fifty and one hundred thousand, may circulate till January.

The new notes for which this money is to be exchanged is known as the "rouble of 1932" and one such rouble is worth 10,000 of the old rubles.

New Way for Blind Reading Is Developed

(By International News Service.)

PARIS.—The curious pin-hole punctures of the Braille system of writing for the blind will be replaced by a new code of perforations which resembles our ordinary printed alphabet, according to a resolution adopted by the national congress of the workers for the blind. This will enable persons not initiated into the complicated Braille alphabet to read letters written by the blind on their tablets.

There are 25,000 blind in France who have been without the sense of sight from birth. Two thousand five hundred more blind were added by the World War.

Moore Forces Issue Statement on Vote

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 30.—(By the Associated Press).—The following statement was issued this morning at the headquarters of C. C. Moore:

Hiram Johnson's star is rapidly on the wane. If indeed it has not already set. The boasted majority of his managers of 175,000 has completely vanished and the senator is now fighting for his political life, hoping to win by a narrow margin.

The back of his political machine has been broken in a campaign of only ten short weeks by Charles C. Moore who never before has made a political fight.

That the senator with the backing of one of the most powerful political machines heretofore existing in any state in the union was not able to fulfill the promises made by him is a distinct repudiation by the people of California; for the Democratic vote of the state is strongly antagonistic to his well known national and international policies.

This body blow to the senator's political prestige will largely nullify his opposition to administration policies in Washington and marks the passing of his power in California.

18,000 LEAD FOR SENATOR IN S. F. CITY AND COUNTY

Stephens Also Gets Majority in Transbay Vote; Woolwine Out in Front.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 30.—The semi-official count for the principal offices on the primary ticket was completed by the registrar's office at 7:15 this morning. Senator Hiram Johnson carried San Francisco by 18,591 votes and Governor Stephens led Richardson by 5560. The totals for the 838 precincts in San Francisco city and county are as follows:

For senator—Johnson, 52,833; Moore, 34,292.
For governor—(Republican) Stephens, 46,941; Richardson 37,381. (Democratic) Woolwine, 5298; Jones, 3305.
For treasurer—C. G. Johnson, 45,135; Brinkop, 11,436; Millan, 18,748.
For chief justice—Lawlor, 55,359; Wilbur, 38,505.
For associate justice—Kerrigan, 58,601; Seawell, 54,391; Shurtleiff, 42,548; Sloan, 24,493.

Johnson Hails Vote as Victory Of Progressives

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 30.—(By International News Service).—The following statement was dictated by Senator Hiram W. Johnson early today when returns showed that he had been returned again to his seat in the Senate through winning the Republican nomination:

"We have won a remarkable victory. There never has been in any campaign in any state in the Union such a lavish expenditure of money and such an organized effort of great, powerful and wealthy interests.

The long, strong arm of sinister influences beyond our borders reached into the state to aid similar interests here in compassing my defeat. Nothing was left undone by our opponents. The people of this state have responded most emphatically to independent, progressive Republicanism—to the Americanism we have been preaching. California by this victory remains progressive."

DETECTIVE KILLS MAN. SAN DIEGO, Aug. 30.—The young man killed late last night in a revolver duel with Policeman P. E. Richard was identified today as Carl F. Harrison, who, according to navy officers, was dishonorably discharged from the navy last Thursday.

MOORE WINS L. A. COUNTY; JOHNSON GETS CITY VOTE

Richardson Gathers Strength As Count Proceeds in Southern Centers.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 30.—(By International News Service).—Upsets in first calculations, by which Charles C. Moore's lead over Senator Hiram Johnson is out down in this county and Friend W. Richardson's majority over Governor William D. Stephens is increased, featured the count today of the primary election returns in Los Angeles city and county.

Johnson apparently will carry the city of Los Angeles when the count is completed and will lose the county to Moore by only a few thousand, possibly less than 5000. Richardson gathered strength as the tally proceeded. As an example, 83 precincts out of 100 in Long Beach gave Richardson approximately 4800 and Stephens approximately 1500. Moore carried the same precincts over Johnson by only two to one as against 3 to 1 for Richardson over Stephens.

that Howard L. Bacon was running behind her, and that both were assured of election.

Owing to the close nature of the senatorship and governorship contests throughout the State primary effort to secure a majority of these prizes prevent prompt tallying of all local returns. Many of the township returns were permitted to be in the count. TOTAL COUNTY VOTE ESTIMATED AT 40,000.

A quick survey of the returns before they are tallied indicates, it is said, that Morgan is leading in the Alameda state senatorial contest (14th district) and Huley in the 16th. In the Assembly districts the following are believed winners: 34th, Christian; 37th, Lyman; 38th, Croter; 39th, Anderson; 40th, in doubt; 41st, Mrs. Saylor.

The total county vote has not yet been announced by the clerk's office. It is to have been in the neighborhood of 40,000.

Candidates Discuss Government Control

"Whether or not the government should be run as a business institution" was the subject of a debate which was conducted yesterday at the luncheon of the Oakland Advertising Club, at the Hotel Oakland, with J. M. MacLafferty and D. D. Oliphant, candidates for Congress, participating.

MacLafferty held that a business government was an absolute necessity, in that it would prevent the waste of public money. He emphasized the point that though there are more than 300 lawyers in Congress, that body only numbers 48 business men.

Oliphant took the position that the government is not a business.

Husband's Age to Rule Apartments

(By International News Service.) BERLIN, Sept. 2.—The Dresden Municipal Housing Board announced yesterday that it will allow apartments for married couples only to be considered as "urgent cases" and be looked after accordingly, if the husband's age is beyond twenty-five.

Victors in County Contests

Deserted Wife Is Suing For Divorce

Deserted by her husband because she was "not lively enough" on the day that her baby was buried, she claims, Mrs. Hazel Lamping Chapin, a milliner, has filed suit for a legal separation from Ray Edison Chapman, who is in prison.

The Chapmans were married in Oakland on July 16, 1913, and the desertion took place on August 17, 1921, the complaint states.

STEPHENS TAKES SLIGHT LEAD IN RICHMOND VOTE

Complete Returns From 23 of 34 Precincts Show Johnson Ahead.

RICHMOND, Aug. 30.—Complete returns from 23 out of 34 Richmond precincts gave Stephens a slight lead over Richardson and Johnson better than a two to one lead over Moore. Stephens holds 3532 against Richardson's 2446. Johnson ran up a total of 4810 against Moore's 2103.

Hanlon, running for re-election as county superintendent of schools, holds 4807 against Sedham's 2265.

In the sheriff's race Veale nosed out Reggiardo, Veale holding 4231; Reggiardo 4040, and Nixon 1901.

Joost holds 5028 for tax collector against Ensign's 1907.

In the race for assessor, Meese, incumbent, won from Davis, 4354 to 3597.

Daley holds 4568 for re-election as public administrator, against Kuefer's 3116.

Donnelly, incumbent, coroner nosed out Curry by a vote of 3265 to 4998.

Driver Blamed For Auto Accident

RICHMOND, Aug. 30.—The board of inquiry of the Southern Pacific company convened to settle on blame for the accident at Lincas street on August 20, when an automobile was struck by a train, decided yesterday that E. E. Dickerson, driver of the car, an Elrick Rogerson, who died last Saturday of injuries sustained in the crash, are responsible for the accident.

The net result of this fear of the next war and faith in the United States is pretty apt to be a general push on the part of European governments to get the United States involved in European affairs, so that when the much-feared next war does come the United States will be in, on whose side nobody knows, but every European wants the United States on his side when the next war comes.

European soldiers in the World War didn't love the American doughboy, but they respected him, and the whole of Europe wants to have the doughboy as his ally the next time the call comes to go over the top.

English Clergy Held By Old Tradition

(By International News Service.) LONDON, Sept. 2.—The clergy of England are falling down on their job, Rev. E. G. Bourchier declares. "The clergy are too official," Rev. Bourchier states. "This passion for inflexibility has killed the Church of God—this inflexibility which is the curse of the clergy. We must strip off this servitude to convention and face up every question—woman, divorce or Sunday games."

Missourians Balk At Ladies' Pipes

(By International News Service.) ST. LOUIS, Sept. 2.—Possibly women of St. Louis are old-fashioned, but the dainty little pipes which have appeared with hand-some tortoise shell handles and hand-carved bowls are not taking the eyes of the city's fair ones. Specially prepared and perfumed tobacco and the cute little holders remain on the shelves, the proprietors say. "The girls evidently continue to 'roll their own'."

Danig Pleads Cut on Occupation Costs

(By International News Service.) BERLIN, Sept. 2.—The Senate of the Free State of Danzig has applied to the International Commission for a reduction of the costs of allied military occupation, which amounts to about 250,000 pounds and 4,000,000 French francs, or 700,000,000 paper marks, respectively. The petition asserts that they represent an intolerable burden for a community of some 350,000 people.

TEN ALAMEDA PRECINCTS TELL ELECTION TREND

Judge Johnson Easily Victor Over Forep; Vote Is Like County's.

Copyright, 1922, by Oakland Tribune Publishing Co.

The complete vote in ten Alameda scattered precincts indicated that Richardson had received a proportionately heavier vote in the Encinal City than in the rest of the county.

Judge Johnson was easily a victor over Forep. The vote in Alameda on county offices followed for the most part the general county trend. Foss was given a considerable majority over Drury. Some of the figures from ten complete Alameda precincts follow:

British Chemist Says Man Should Live to Be 125

By F. A. WATY, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

LONDON, Sept. 2.—"Live to be 125" is the slogan of Professor Barton Scammell, one of England's best known chemists.

"Every animal," he says, "normally lives for a limited time, the period of its full growth. A human being continues growing until the age of twenty-five. His span of life should be 125, not seventy."

According to Professor Scammell the duration of life entirely depends upon diet. The farmer, who probably lives closest to nature, outlives the townsman by far. He lives on the fresh vegetables and fruits, which constitute the fine scientific food that the human body can assimilate.

"Regard the human body merely as a chemical organism," says the professor, "and treat it as such. To keep it at its highest efficiency it requires the continual replacement of certain chemicals. It unsupplied the body wastes and dies."

"We have discovered that the most important constituent of this organism is an alkaloid called potash. When there is a full and adequate supply of this substance, then, the body remains vigorous for long over the 70-year allotted span."

"But the trouble has been to supply potash in a form in which it can be assimilated by the body and taken into the blood. We have now discovered how this can be achieved."

"Experiments in the past five years have shown that if potash is mixed with radio-active water it can be taken into the system with the most amazing results. It not merely prolongs life, but it keeps people in what we regard as advanced middle age in a state of perfect health and efficiency."

Eloping Pastor Goes on Rockpile

(By International News Service.) GREENVILLE, Ohio.

"I want to do some good here. I want to convert these men to the teachings of Christianity."

This plea voiced by a prison official by Rev. Walter W. Sulz, serving a year's sentence in the Dayton Workhouse for eloping with his pretty eighteen-year-old organist and deserting his wife and nine destitute children.

Turning a deaf ear to the former pastor's request, the officials said they would return him to the rockpile.

ANOTHER WAR CONSTANT FEAR OF EUROPEANS

By DAVID M. CHURCH

(International News Service Staff Correspondent.)

LONDON, Aug. 30.—Europe, and particularly Great Britain, is suffering from shell shock.

The World War's effects have not worn off and there is a constant fear throughout Europe of the next war.

Despite the League of Nations, the Washington Conference and individual efforts to check war, all Europe talks of the next war, hoping against hope that it will never come, but firmly believing that it will.

Lloyd George, Europe's super-optimist, even has his fears. Not long ago, in a speech to a gathering of churchmen, the premier gave his views of the next war, declaring it would be the most brutal in all history. The prime minister was very cautious in qualifying his statement about the next war with the phrase "if it comes," but he left no doubt with his audience that he fears that wars will again ravage the Old World.

The words of Lloyd George had not grown cold when Viscount Grey, another British leader who is not regarded as a pessimist, made a speech in which he gave warning that he, too, cherished grave fears of another war some time in the distant future.

Predictions of war and rumors of war are given the greatest prominence in the European press. Perhaps the people do not become excited over the rumors of war, but the press certainly does.

When King Constantine makes a gesture against the Turks the European press becomes violently agitated. If there are menacing motions on the part of the Soviet government of Russia against the headline writers get extremely busy and trot out their biggest type.

A single newspaper succeeded in working the population of London up to a war pitch by a campaign demanding greater aerial protection. Day after day this newspaper dined into its readers that London might be wiped out of existence in a few hours' time by aerial raids of the ever-expected next war. The newspaper not only succeeded in arousing London's

$28,500 IS VOTED
BY CITY COUNCIL FOR MUSEUM SITE

Asserting that he was not sufficiently informed on the museum project of the city council, Commissioner Edwards this morning objected to final passage of the ordinance buying the Thomas Powell and Pacific Unitarian properties on Harrison street, and the ordinance was passed over his head.

The council appropriated $14,500 as first payment on the Powell property, and $12,000 as first payment on the Unitarian lands. Both these tracts will extend the present Kenall property to Harrison street and along it. The total purchase will amount to about $140,000. The present amounts are about one-sixth the total.

Architect Howard Gilkey said one piece of property could be purchased for $25,000, while it is being bought for $30,000. "Are you aware that this is going on, gentlemen?" asked Edwards. "I see nobody answers. Accuse no one, but I say these discrepancies should be explained."

"If we did answer," said Commissioner Baccus, "you would not be satisfied anyhow." "I have seen no authority for anyone to enter such negotiations," said Edwards.

"The negotiations are a matter of public record," said City Attorney Leon E. Gray. "Gilkey made no statement that the land was for sale at $25,000. He said he thought it might be bought for that. It couldn't be. The figure was checked up and the Oakland Real Estate Board made an appraisal which was accepted."

"The city attorney," said Edwards, "seems to be the only one who knows anything about the matter."

"How did you find that out?" asked Commissioner Carter. "You have no answer for me," said Edwards.

"We don't have to answer you," said Carter. "Call the roll," said the mayor. The purchase ordinance was carried by a 4-1 vote.

Santa Fe Protests

Pier Head Danger

RICHMOND, Aug. 30.—The city council has received a petition from the Santa Fe railroad for a change of the pier head in the pier head line extended so far in front of its slips here that it might prove dangerous to the ferry boats during stormy weather. The petition and accompanying maps were referred to Colonel Herbert Deakne, United States engineer in charge of rivers and harbors.

TRIBUNE RADIO GIVES ELECTION NEWS TO COAST

Vast Territory Served by Station KIX With Increased Power for Occasion.

The results of California's 1922 primary election were flashed last night to fully 600,000 people in the bay district and to many towns and cities along the Pacific Coast by the TRIBUNE'S radio and bulletin service.

Never before in the history of a newspaper have the results of an event of this kind been so widely spread over such a vast territory. Operating on increased power, the TRIBUNE'S radio broadcasting station last night was the most powerful apparatus of its kind in operation anywhere along the Pacific Coast.

In hundreds of towns and hamlets it furnished the returns for practically the entire population as fast as the results in the various counties were known. In Oakland, where a huge screen was erected on Franklin street between Twelfth and Thirteenth, the TRIBUNE flashed the returns to thousands who came and went during the evening. Hundreds remained throughout the evening.

NEWS GIVEN LOCALLY. By telephone service the TRIBUNE furnished the Oakland theaters and other public gathering places with bulletins, and in this manner spread locally in the extensive distribution of the results as they became known.

A feature of last night's broadcasting of the returns was the promptness with which KIX flashed them to a waiting world. For an example, the United Press sent a flash by wire from Bakersfield at 11:45 o'clock and another from Redding at 11:46. At 11:48 radio had thrown the information contained in those wire flashes to the entire Pacific Coast. Three minutes from the time the particular result was known in Bakersfield, all California knew it.

The local returns were gathered by a fleet of cars with a specially trained staff. So overwhelming were some of the majorities that the radio for the consumption of the local listeners-in was broadcast at an early hour, telling of the election of Frank Barnett for sheriff, Decato for district attorney, and Garrison for auditor.

ALONE IN FIELD. The TRIBUNE'S radio service was the only station broadcasting locally, and it was the TRIBUNE'S staff that the radio audiences depended upon for news of the election.

From various reports it is certain that they were not disappointed. During the forepart of the evening Mrs. Mabel Brundidge Horton of Los Angeles, a mezzo soprano, accompanied by Mrs. Hazel Welmer, furnished a number of songs for the entertainment of those listening in between bulletins, and later, Walter J. Welch, the TRIBUNE'S singing newsboy, entertained with several selections between election bulletins. Welch also later entertained the crowd in front of the bulletin board on Franklin street.

The city attorney's office and the county clerk's election bureau are both praying that there shall be no hairline decisions at the recent election. They hope that the winners will have a heavy majority, no matter how it goes.

Otherwise an election recount and civil engineer's survey may be needed to straighten out the difficulty in "Lake Wood Park," where the Oakland-Piedmont line crosses.

On Monday, City Attorney Gray was asked to inform the residents of this tract just where they should vote. Gray told them that a person "votes where he sleeps." Those who slept on the Oakland side of the line were Oakland voters. Those who slept on the Piedmont side had to vote in Piedmont.

But, like a malignant agency laughing at the law, the line is diagonal and cuts slantwise across the residents' lots and houses. Consequently, many residents were still worried as to where to vote.

County Clerk George Gross told them to vote in Piedmont, as they registered in Piedmont and their house numbers are there. This, it is admitted, is a just decision except in case the election is very close, when the verdict can be questioned and a survey can be made to find just where these tract residents sleep.

In Yolo county, according to City Attorney Gray, an election was turned because six laborers slept in a bunk-house and were wrongly voting from their eating house, which was in another precinct.

SCHOOL FOR DIPLOMACY. LEXINGTON, Ky., Aug. 30.—Establishment of a college to be part of the University of Kentucky to train young men for the diplomatic and consular service is provided for in the will of Dr. James Kennedy Patterson, for forty-one years president of the university, which was filed for probate here yesterday. The proposed college would provide four years' additional training for students who have had four years' college work.

23,074 VOTE TO SAVE SEQUOIAS; 25,088 NEEDED

Majority of 8517 Registered For Plan in 294 Precincts Out of 315.

"Save the Sequoias" was not heeded by the people of Oakland. It was, apparently, heard by a considerable portion of them but not by enough, since the necessary two-thirds vote to carry the proposed redwood park was not forthcoming.

It was close, but apparently, adverse to the bonds. In a total of 294 precincts out of 315 in the city the vote was: For park bonds, 23,074. Against the bonds, 14,557. A majority of 8517 in favor of the bonds. An affirmative vote in this number of ballots of 25,088 would be necessary to carry the proposal.

BLOODHOUNDS CATCH BOY. BRISTOL, Eng.—Trained by bloodhounds after his escape from Warminster Reformatory, 16 year old Richard Claremont was recaptured.

By telephone service the TRIBUNE furnished the Oakland theaters and other public gathering places with bulletins, and in this manner spread locally in the extensive distribution of the results as they became known.

SHIFT IN SCHOOL BOARD LINE-UP EXPECTED SOON

Baccus to Resume Place in Street Department, Is Prediction.

Now that the smoke of election battles is almost over and matters are more or less settled, the transfer of Commissioner William J. Baccus to the street department is foreseen as one of the immediate actions of the city council. Baccus was transferred from his street department half a year ago in order that he might become commissioner of finance, which rises with it the ex-officio membership to the board of education. At that time conditions were such in the board of education that the city council decided to take a hand. The transfer of Baccus switched the majority in the board and changed its subsequent policy. Commissioner Harry Edwards, commissioner of finance, was transferred to Baccus' street department. As Edwards was a familiar acquaintance of Baccus, it is little to say about the change.

But now Baccus wants the street department back. He admits that he always did want it. He says he never wanted to leave it except under pressure.

Some weeks ago, Baccus requested that he be transferred back to the street department.

"The crisis in the board of education is over," said Baccus. "The budget is in and the teachers' contracts are made up. My work is through."

Mayor Davis, however, objected. The mayor pointed out that many amendments were coming up, all affecting the Oakland city government, and he desired to make no move which would disturb the

CANDY MEN SEEK SWEET TOOTH OF EASTBAY CITIES

Manufacturers' Exposition at Idora Park to be Opened by Confectioners.

"Candy Day" will inaugurate the big second annual East Bay Manufacturers Exposition at Idora Park, which opens October 14 and will continue through October 22.

October 14 will be celebrated as "Candy Day" throughout the nation and it is planned by the Associated Candy Manufacturers of the Eastbay cities to make the event at Idora the greatest on the Pacific Coast.

Tons of candy will be distributed, according to the plans now under consideration. Eastbay candy manufacturers will vie with one another in introducing the Eastbay folks to the sweets in which they specialize.

Meanwhile space in the exposition is being rapidly sold. With 120,000 visitors at last year's event it is hoped to bring 225,000 people to the exhibition this year.

On opening day last year 25,000 people passed through the gates and this year the opening day's attendance is expected to exceed 50,000.

No event just like the East Bay Manufacturers Exposition has ever been staged in Alameda county.

The keenest kind of interest is being manifested in the show. Every product manufactured, from Richmond to Livermore, will be on display. The big plants are taking out extra large space in order to make the proper display of their goods.

Heavy increase in the sales following the exposition last year has given stimulus to this year's show.

Joseph N. Martin is director of the exposition and B. L. Y. York executive director. Harold Oliver, of the California Cap Works, Richmond, is president of the executive board in charge of the exposition.

Indorsements of the various commercial and civic organizations is expected within the next few days.

Heir Claims Fraud in Woman's Estate

Elizabeth Muller and Julia Krause are charged with cheating and defrauding Mrs. Anna Elzabeth Muller, now deceased, out of property valued at $1600 by making false promises of giving her a life interest in the property, in a suit filed today in the superior court by Louis Anderson, an heir.

The complaint declares that they were induced by false promises because she was old and feeble and induced her to deed the property to them by making false promises. Anderson asked that the property be recovered by the court. The property was conveyed to the defendants on December 8, 1913, and the fraud was not discovered until August 20, 1922, the complaint avers.

291 LIVES LOST AS TYPHOON SINKS JAPAN CRUISER

Practically Entire Crew Perish When Huge Vessel Founders.

LEASD WIRE TO TRIBUNE.
TOKYO, Aug. 30.—The Japanese coast cruiser Nittaka sank off the coast of northern Saghalien in the typhoon which swept those waters four days ago, according to advices reaching here this afternoon, with a probable loss of 291 lives.

According to the report reaching here but sixteen members of the vessel's crew, numbering 307, were saved.

The Nittaka was a second-class cruiser with a tonnage displacement of 3420. She was 235 feet long and had a nominal speed of 20 knots. The vessel was launched in 1901. Her armament consisted of six 6-inch guns. She bore two and one-half inch armor at the water line.

SANTIAGO, Chile, Aug. 30.—(By The Associated Press.)—Only six persons, including two passengers, out of a total of 322 on board the Chilean steamship Itata were saved when the vessel sank yesterday off the Chilean coast near Coquimbo.

Mayor Lifts Bans On Bathing Suits

(By International News Service.)
ST. JOSEPH, Mich., Aug. 30.—The flapper voice is solidly behind Mayor A. R. Morford. Why? Because he has removed the limit of feminine bathing attire. By reason of Mayor Morford's benign attitude all of the neighboring beaches have broken into a violent rash of one-piece bathing suits.

"St. Joe isn't modest," says Mayor Morford, "but it champions sensible sex'garb because it believes swimming is one of the greatest outdoor sports. Some bathing beaches are strictly and prudently regulated that they are coming to a slow death. Such a fate will not befall St. Joe if I can help it."

Why They Parted

"I was down with pain in my right side which at times almost caused me. Most all of the doctors said operation. But what I want to tell you is the pain disappeared with the first dose of your medicine and I never see any since. Aysa's wonderful remedy has the right name—gas, sour stomach and dyspepsia have left, too." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucous from the intestinal tract, and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded at all druggists.—Advertisement.

Why Are Some Women Popular, happy, beloved and successful, while others drag out a negative existence, of no use to themselves or anyone else? Except in a few cases the answer is to be found in a state of freedom from the troubles known as "female." The well woman radiates cheerfulness and energy, while the ailing one repels because of her lack of these qualities. It is not necessary, however, to harbor aches and pains, and the "blues" that make one a detriment to society. The use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought relief to such women, and given them a new lease on life.—Advertisement.

MISS NADINE BARBE, prize beauty of university, who will assist in Alliance Francaise activities

Activities of Alliance for Coming Season Under Way Among Students at Berkeley.

BERKELEY, Aug. 30.—Activities for the coming year will be inaugurated on the campus tonight by the Alliance Francaise, composed of French students at the University of California, when J. Neltner, French consul general at San Francisco, will address a meeting to be held in the auditorium of the University Y. W. C. A., Alston way and Union street.

Because of his distinguished service Consul Neltner has the rank of "The Legion de l'honneur." His subject this evening will be "Benefits of French Association to American Students." At this meeting plans for the year's work will be outlined by the students. All students interested in French thought and language have been invited to attend tonight's open meeting, which has for its purpose the fur-

CRIPPLE CREEK STRIKES AGAIN BOOSTING CAMP

Famous Colorado Gold Mines Are Renewing Outflow of Yellow Metal.

By MICHAEL F. DACEY,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo., Sept. 2.—The Cripple Creek Camp, once the greatest gold camp in the world is coming into its own again, after a period of comparative inactivity since 1918, with the reopening of many famous workings and the discovery of new veins of rich ore.

Rich "surface" strikes, recently made in the camp, are drawing scores of prospectors to the camp, and, with new machinery being installed in numerous underground mines, Cripple Creek is staging a real "come back" as a gold-producing center.

Finding rich gold ore at grass roots at the same time that new veins were being discovered, a depth of more than 2,500 feet below the earth's surface is one of the "freak" developments of the new prosperity in the camp.

"STUMBLER" ON GOLD
Sol Cain, one of the pioneer prospectors of Cripple Creek, literally "stumbled his toe" on a body of ore of great extent and value, less than a dozen feet below the surface, at a point over which countless feet have trodden for thirty years since the precious yellow metal was first located in the shadow of Pike's Peak here. Cain is taking ore from his shallow shaft valued as high as $300 of gold to the ton and has a real gold mine in the making.

Other important strikes have been made recently at or near the surface, and mining men are declaring that the day of the "grass root mine" has returned.

The famous Fox and Mine, from which millions of dollars' worth of ore have been taken in the past, has located an immense body of ore at a depth of 2,600 feet, the lowest producing level in the State of Colorado, and ore is being taken from this new vein which has set the record for as high as $10,000 to the ton at the mill.

ALL PRODUCING AGAIN
Practically every active mine in the Cripple Creek field is producing gold ore running two, three and four ounces or better to the ton—at a time when one-ounce gold is considered profitable production.

From the early nineties, when the first strike was made in the Cripple Creek region, until America's entry into the World War, the fame of this camp spread until Cripple Creek was a name to conjure with among mining men throughout the entire world. Huge fortunes had been extracted from the mine, and the camp was famous for powder, steel, coal, labor and everything used in wresting the yellow dust from mother earth. Gold mining highly unprofitable, with the price of gold standing still at $20.67 per ounce.

As a consequence many mines here were forced to close; miners drifted away to other employments and the "greatest gold camp in the world" took on a look of desolation.

With better mining conditions now prevailing and fabulous finds being made on every side in old and new properties, the faith of those who stuck to the camp through the dark days of depression and decline is being vindicated, and today Cripple Creek is making rapid strides toward a new goal of prosperity that is attracting widespread attention among mining men and capitalists throughout the country. Mines are reopening; prospectors are again dotting the hillsides, and the great gold camp has taken on a new lease of life.

'Drunk' Bumps Man, He Laughs, Then Misses $23

(By International News Service.)
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 2.—"He" who "lets it all out" in a "best," J. P. Ferris admits this age-old axiom is correct. While Ferris was standing in the aisle of a street car a man, apparently intoxicated, staggered toward the front.

"When he lurched against me I laughed," Ferris said. All of the passengers favored him with an indulgent smile as he alighted. When I reached my destination I missed my billfold, containing $23.

"I guess the laugh was on me."

Hawaiian Divorce May Be Amended

(By International News Service.)
HONOLULU, Sept. 2.—Continued complaints of the looseness of divorce laws in the territory of Hawaii may lead to the adoption of the interlocking divorce system of the interlocking divorce system of some other system which will prevent the immediate remarriage of divorced parties.

Under the present territorial law either party in divorce proceedings may remarry immediately upon receiving the decree. Judge John R. Desha, of the Court of Domestic Relations, believes this tends to make divorce more prevalent.

AMERICANS WILL MOVE ATLANTIC, SAYS JUNKER
CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 30.—The Great Lakes-St. Lawrence waterway, proposed to link the Great Lakes with the ocean and give a vast expanse of territory in the United States and Canada a direct ocean shipping outlet, is receiving comment in many sections of the world.
An article by Carl Junker, editor of the Out Post of Vienna, is one appearing in Europe. One paragraph of the article reads: "Westward marches the culture of the world. Likewise, just as the sun travels with its light and life, the old Atlantic ocean must go west too, and as Americans get what they wish, the Atlantic will move west when they say the word."

BRITISH LEADING U. S. IN CHINA, IS OBSERVER'S VIEW

Trade Diplomats Quick to Gain Advantage in Change of Government

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 30. — England is gaining a commercial and economic advantage over the United States in China through the backing that nation has given the central government in China, which is now in power, according to Colonel Charles E. Davis, a special correspondent for the Times-Union of Albany, New York, who has just arrived here after a two years' stay in the Orient.

The United States, through its representatives, failed to grasp the opportunities consistent with changing conditions in China, while England has taken full advantage of them, Colonel Davis believes. As a result the American business man has been crowded out by the English business man, he says.

"Peace in China, seems for the time assured," declared Colonel Davis. "Sun Yat Sen is eliminated as a disturbing factor and is practically a prisoner in Shanghai. He will undoubtedly co-operate with the constitutional parliament now in session at Peking. This parliament will probably frame a strong constitution for the United States of China. There is also strong anti-foreign sentiment in China right now."

The Japanese are jubilant over the results they obtained at the Washington conference, Colonel Davis also declares. Japan feels that she compelled the United States to concede them everything in the Pacific, he says, especially the status quo on fortifications, particularly in the Philippines.

1922 GRADUATE MADE AIDE IN "Y" GYMNASIUM

Shirley Snow of the senior class of 1922 of the Oakland High School has been appointed assistant physical director of the Oakland Y.M.C.A. He will have charge of the boys' and young men's departments—swimming and gymnasium teams, the combined membership of which is 400.

Snow was active in Oakland High, having been yell leader, commissioner of entertainments, on the board of control and in the orchestra. He is well known to Y. M. C. A. members and has been an active leader in gymnasium classes and gets good results in discipline and training on the gym floor.

Y. M. C. A. Classes Begin Fall Work

"All gymnasium classes are now in full swing," is the announcement that comes from W. A. "Bud" Kearns, Physical Director of the Oakland Y.M.C.A. "The gymnasium has had a thorough renovation, the floor refinished, the hand-ball court repainted, and all features of the department put in ship-shape for members as they come back from summer vacations."

Volley-ball enthusiasts already are crowding into the daily classes, as well as the business men's class at 5:30 Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

Glen Williams, assistant physical director, says that the 8:00 p. m. class may be the largest the local association has ever had. Considerable interest is being manifested in the swimming activities since the repairs and improvements made in the pool last winter, and several special events are on the calendar for this season.

Plymouth to Give Course in Dancing

Plymouth church conservatory announces the opening of the fall class in aesthetic dancing, next Friday at 3:45 p. m. Miss Phyllis O'Brien, who had charge of the department last year, again will direct the classes. Plymouth Sunday school teachers and workers met last night at dinner at 6:30 in MacDonald hall.

Rev. Anderson Will Talk at Night Service

Rev. Harry O. Anderson, who has just returned from an evangelistic campaign in the eastern states, will speak tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in the Danish Norwegian Baptist church, Twenty-fifth avenue, near Fourth and Street. He will relate his experiences while on his eastern trip. The public is invited.

TO ELECT OFFICERS

The Young Women's Foreign Missionary Society will meet Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock in Emanuel class room of the First Methodist Episcopal church. Officers for the coming year will be elected. The hostesses for the afternoon will be Mrs. B. L. Smout and Mrs. O. M. Hager.

Expert on Identity Details New System

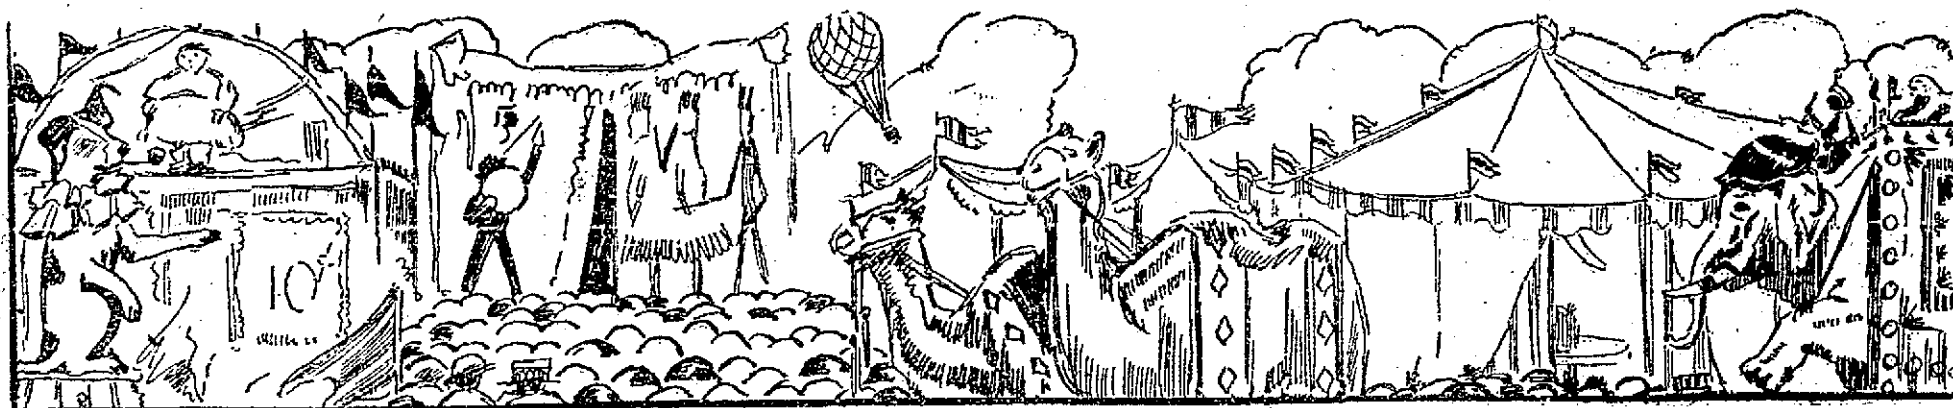

R. A. Abbey, identification expert of the Berkeley police department, today delivered an address on the newly invented system of identification of handwriting, now being used by the Berkeley police, before the "Loyal Knights of the Round Table" at luncheon at the Hotel Oakland. The lecture was illustrated with numerous pictures and slides.

Circus Day Specials that will enable you to Save on your Needfuls what you spend at the Circus

A circus can have no greater pocketbook appeal than these special bargains we're putting on, and the pleasure from these will last long after the beat of the drums has ceased. So great are the savings offered in a dozen cases that your buying opportunity must, of necessity, be limited to one hour.

Women's Bungalow Apron Dresses

The fact that they are made of the famous "Amoskeag" ginghams guarantees their quality. Various styles from which you may choose and different plaid and check patterns, too.

Women's Aprons at 95c

will be appreciated as unusual values when you know that they would regularly be priced at $1.39. Most attractively made of ginghams, percale and beach cloth and piped in contrasting colors. And they have the kind of pockets which are so very necessary when working about the house.

MEN!

See these
98c

They are comfortable as well as good looking and all at this exceptional low pricing. All sizes, in white and ecru and made with collars and cuffs attached.

Here Are High Lights of Circus Day Programs

SHOW GROUNDS—Forty-fifth and San Pablo Avenue.
PERFORMANCES—2 P. M. and 8 P. M. Doors open one hour earlier.

TICKETS—On sale all day tomorrow for both performances at Sherman, Clay & Co.

White and yellow ticket wagons continuously accessible for purchase at the show grounds. Red ticket wagon opens simultaneously with the main entrance.

ARRIVAL—In 100 double-length railroad cars, comprising five train sections from Sacramento via Southern Pacific. Unload at Emeryville spur tracks. First section due at daybreak.

NOTE—There will be no morning street parade.

The big double circus is on its way to Oakland.

Some time between midnight and dawn that greatest of all tent shows—the Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey—colossus of 1922—made greater than before by the addition of Europe's foremost trained wild animal acts and more than 200 performing horses, is coming to town for the first time since the consolidation of America's two big circuses. The different sections, totaling 100 railroad cars, will come here from Sacramento via the Southern Pacific. Unloading will take place on the Emeryville spur tracks.

As quickly as the trains arrive their contents will be transferred to the show grounds, San Pablo and Forty-fifth street. First in line to the small boys will be the vast menageries—the biggest ever traveled. There will be a baby hippopotamus, six giraffes, a picturesque cavalcade of zebras, camels, zebras and "sacred" cats, and six herds of elephants. Added to these will be an endless procession of closely-covered cages housing hundreds of strange menageries animals.

30 TENTS ERECTED.
The morning will be utilized in erecting the 30 tents of the tented town. One houses the dens occupied by the wild animal acts. Another shelters the stables of trained horses which the Ringling Brothers imported from Europe last winter.

These who watch the building of the "big top" will, in addition to three rings and five stages, note a trio of immense steel arenas. It is in these that the wild animals will be performed tomorrow. These many additions have so increased the task of putting this great double circus in place that it has become necessary to eliminate the street parade.

There are more than 700 performers with this season's circus, and fully half that number of trained animals. Two hundred superbly schooled horses, representing Europe's finest equestrian acts, form a big new feature. Another includes twenty high school horses ridden by riders of international fame.

The wild animal acts include jungle beasts who ride upon swiftly running horses, juggle like humans, perform tricks of balancing or play at old-fashioned keepers. They include troupes of tigers, lions, polar bears, leopards, panthers, jaguars and trained pumas.

COMEDY ACTS.
Comedy acts are offered in prodigious number. There are Hallenbergs' bears that walk upon tight ropes or ride old-fashioned bicycles, slithering white bears that "shoot the chutes," Huling's famous troupe of acting seals, Loyola's wonderful French poodles, including the whirligig dogs.

Among the hundreds of men and women stars are Lily Letzel, queen of all aerial gymnasts; Ernest Clarke and the noted Clarksons in hazardous casting acts.

The main-tent program opens with a grand introductory pageant magnificently costumed, replete with nursery tales enacted in pantomime by hundreds of story-book characters. A hundred clowns in five times as many original stunts promise no end of fun for juvenile patrons.

Tomorrow's performance will begin at 2 and 8 p. m. and the doors to the menagerie open an hour earlier.

American Press Leads World, View
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 30.—Reed Hayes, general manager of the Commercial News Service spoke last night before the Foreign Trade Club. In the course of his address he said that news and trade go hand in hand. "Every American," said Hayes, "should be proud of all American newspapers. You may disagree with one or many individual newspapers, but as a national institution, no country in the world has their equal for honesty and fairness of purpose."

Amador Assn. to Hold Annual Picnic

The Amador County Association will hold its fifteenth annual gathering this year in East Shore Park, Richmond, on Labor Day, Monday.

September 4. A basket luncheon at noon, with free coffee and a program of dancing has been arranged by L. H. Tibbitts, president; Mauris Brinn, vice-president; Benny Breece, treasurer, and Francis Bert, secretary of the organization.

Review Planned to Aid Hospital

The "Merry Whirl of 1922" is the title of a colorful and gorgeous review with a New York flavor which will be produced at the Auditorium on September 28, 29 and 30 as a benefit for the Baby Hospital.

Rehearsals are now in progress for the review under the direction of Miss Lila Stewart, who produced the spectacle of two years ago, which was entitled "The Merry Whirl of 1920." It is promised that this year's production will surpass that of two years ago in splendor, color and dash. Groups of college girls, society maidens and solo dancers picked from the beauty and talent of the Eastbay district will make up the ensemble.

Reservations for tickets can now be made at Baby hospital headquarters, Hotel Oakland.

ACCUSER'S BODY FOUND
CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—The body of W. W. Talcott, who jumped from a lake steamer after bringing charges against Dr. A. J. Moore, conductor of a school to "heal homes and hearts," was found by life guards today. Talcott alleged that after his wife became a disciple of Moore's philosophy her affection for her husband cooled.

Fish are good as fertilizer because they contain phosphoric acid and nitrogen.

PUBLISHER IS WELCOMED BY OAKLAND MEN

First of Series of Dinners to Newcomers Given For C. S. Young.

The first of a series of dinners to welcome newcomers to Oakland was given by a group of business and professional men at Hotel Oakland last evening in honor of Charles S. Young, publisher of the Post-Enquirer, who was welcomed to Oakland last night.

In all of the many addresses which were given the importance of community effort was emphasized. Co-operation in the San Francisco Bay district was pledged, and the new movement for the advancement of Northern California was given an additional impulse. Nearly all the speakers touched on the value of newspapers to a community.

Letters expressing regret that they could not be present were read from M. H. DeYoung of the Chronicle, Charles Stanton of the Examiner and John S. Neylan of the Call-Post.

PROMINENT MEN SPEAK
Joseph King, president of the Chamber of Commerce, introducing Joseph R. Knowland, publisher of the Oakland Tribune, as toastmaster. Among those who spoke were Harrison S. Robinson, Irving Kahn, H. C. Capwell, R. B. Hale, Ed. Rainey, representing Mayor James Rolph of San Francisco, and the guest of honor.

Young, in response to the many expressions of good will and welcome, related some of his experiences in the newspaper field, and declared that despite close ties in the East and Middle West, there was no room for argument when the other came to him to come to Oakland. "I accepted," he said, "and then asked what the proposition was."

RETURNS ARE READ
Returns from the election were read between speeches and a soloist was heard. In the party from San Francisco were: A. O. McCormick, Fred S. Nelson, George A. Chase, Thomas J. Coleman, R. B. Hale and Ed. Rainey.

Among the Eastbay men in attendance were: W. H. Brockhagen, Robert Brasse, G. A. Babler, Norman B. Campbell, H. C. Capwell, R. A. Carrington, Jos. E. Chase, Tom Coleman, Albert Clark, T. A. Crelin, Walter Duane, C. E. Her 12.

HOTELMEN MAP STATE PROGRESS AT HOTEL DINNER

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 30.—

California progress was the byword of every speaker at a luncheon given yesterday at the Hotel St. Francis by Harry M. Toy, proprietor of the Hotel St. Francis, in honor of John E. Shea, secretary of the Northern California Hotel Association, whose activities at the national convention of hotel men at Boston won the next year's representative for San Francisco. Representative of the Northern California Hotel Association and newspaper publishers and other prominent Californians were guests and speakers at the luncheon.

Toy, the host, in his address, outlined the four projects which he declared were nearest his heart. Toy said that he was boasting first the revival of the Portola festival; second, keeping the Pacific fleet in San Francisco harbor more of the time, and giving local merchants a chance to increase business, the opening of the Reno-Truckee highway, and restoration of historic monuments in California, particularly the missions and mission bells.

Shea, the honored guest, outlined what he declared a program that will make California a pleasure ground for tourists from all parts of the United States and the world.

Congressman Julius Kahn met the popular approval of the gathering when during his brief address he predicted great prosperity for California and declared that tourists from nearly all sections of the United States are fast recognizing the superior advantages offered here.

Other speakers and guests at the luncheon were: Toastmaster, Henry Barker, proprietor of the Key Route Inn; Kirk Harris, speaker for the Northern California Hotel Men's Association; Charles Cook, former president of the Southern California Hotel Men's Association; Wallace Alexander, president of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce; Margaret Morgan, San Francisco woman supervisor; M. H. DeYoung, publisher of the Chronicle; Examiner; Joseph R. Knowland, publisher of the Oakland Tribune; Ed. Rainey, secretary to Mayor James Rolph Jr.; and Charles A. Field editor of Sunset Magazine.

GIRLS WHITE SONG HIT.
SANTA FE, Aug. 30.—A well-known song, "Lilacs Bring Thoughts of You," words by Miss Leonora Burns and music by Miss Eunice Wheeler, has been accepted by an eastern music publishing house. The two young women are employed in the Southern Pacific company's central mail room in San Francisco.

HELD TO ANSWER
Police Judge Edward J. Tyrrell today held Ma Davis to answer to the superior court on a statutory charge involving a 17-year-old girl. Davis was arrested a week ago on the complaint of Police Inspector John Gannon.

Syria Continues War on Aggression From West

BERLIN, Aug. 30.—Syria is ready to keep up economic relations with France just as with the other Powers, but the overwhelming majority of her population hates the French mandate. Prince Chekib Arslan, noted Oriental statesman and leader of the Syrian independence movement, told me on the eve of his departure to London.

He went there at the head of a delegation from Syria and Palestine which raised a strong but futile protest with the assembly of the League of Nations at the latest meeting in the British capital when the league confirmed the French and British mandates over Syria and Palestine.

"Taxation in Syria is heavier now than under the Turkish rule," Prince Chekib Arslan continued. "Business has gone back tremendously and the population feels that our country is treated like a colony. It is known that the anti-French feeling in Syria after several notables of our country between French troops and the native population in Damascus, and the French have applied strict repressive measures in the country."

Syria after several notables our big cities had called upon Charles R. Crane, former American minister to China, who was touring Syria, and complained to him about the practices of the French authorities, protesting against the imposition of the French mandate upon Syria.

The Arab population of Palestine is in a similar state of mind. It violently opposes the British mandate which makes a small minority of Jews masters of a country with an overwhelming Arab and Mohammedan population.

"We retain our hope for the freedom of our home through all the hardships and struggles we have still to face. As for myself, I shall never divert from the ideal of our freedom. More than 700 years ago the fathers of my family fought the crusaders. I advocate close economic co-operation with the rest of the world, especially America, but, I, too, shall continue to struggle against western political aggression."

BRITISH BIRTHS, MARRIAGES GAIN, DEATHS DECLINE

LONDON, Aug. 30.—Pessimistic predictions that the English are a dying race are believed by the latest batch of vital statistics, which show that instead of decaying the English people are more virgins than ever before in their history.

The latest compilation is for the year 1920, and this report shows that the marriage rate has increased, the birth rate has increased, and the death rate has decreased, and altogether England is in a flourishing and populous condition.

The shining records which are causing great enthusiasm in England set forth these facts for 1920: The marriage rate was the highest ever reported—20.2 per cent per 1,000 of all ages.

The birth rate was 25.5 per 1,000 the highest since 1909.

The number of deaths was 957,752, the largest number ever recorded.

The death rate was the lowest ever reported—12.4 per 1,000.

These facts have been presented, now England is swelling its chest with pride, but wrinkling its brows and queasy. "Why?" Beer Held Responsible.

Beer and post-war marriages are held responsible for these statistics by many sociologists.

merous, but there are doubts whether they are always happy or wise marriages, the sociologists say.

Although there are many who would like to hide the fact, it is true that these records were set up when the war restrictions upon the sale of beer and alcoholic stimulants were most strict.

The review of the marriage statistics shows that during the first three-quarters of the year there was an exceptionally large number of marriages, but that this number dropped off during the last quarter, and the sociologists are certain that this proves that the marriage rate depends upon the state of trade and general prosperity.

The statistics also show that the remarriage of widows under twenty-five has increased more than ten times since the pre-war days.

Illegitimate births show a very decided increase. During 1920 there were 44,947 illegitimate children born in England and Wales, an increase of 5,071 over the preceding year.

War services, which increased the health and physical strength of English manhood, is held responsible by many experts for the apparent increase in virility in the English people.

U.S. TEACHERS TO GET FRENCH TIPS

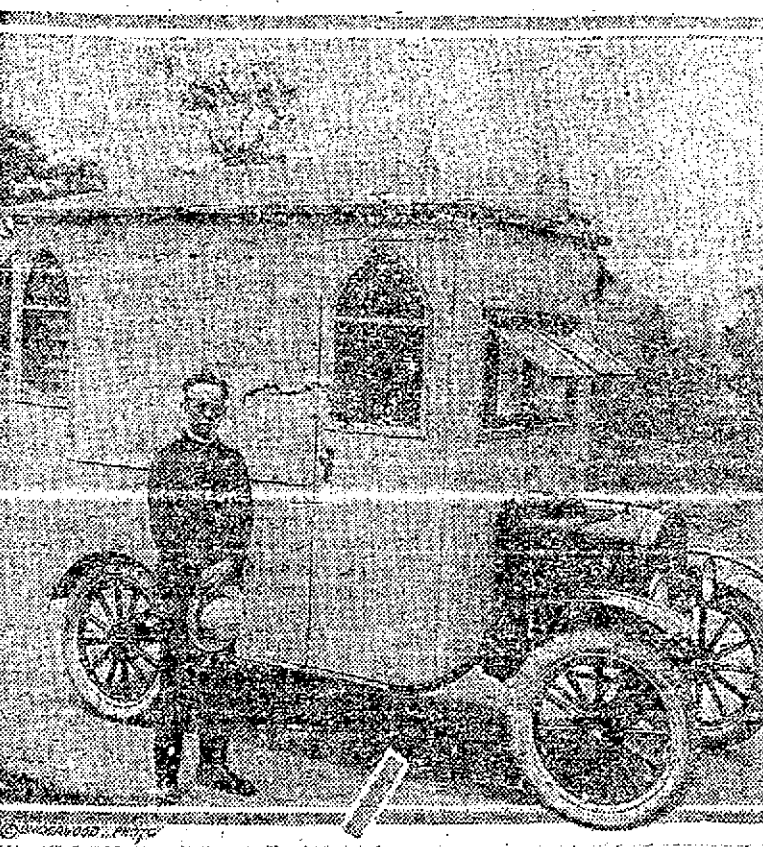

PARIS. —Most French teachers in American schools know outrageously little about French life and customs and speak French with an accent that couldn't be understood in Paris, according to Professor Albert A. Meras, department of modern languages, Columbia University. Wherefore Prof. Meras is making arrangements with the Sorbonne to that a certain number of students from Teachers' College, Columbia, who are specializing in the teaching of French, may take a part of their course at the French university. Next summer, Prof. Meras has announced, the first group of students will be sent over as a trial of the method. A Columbia professor will accompany the group, who will be candidates for a master's degree.

13-Year-Old Boy Given Prison Term

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. —Only thirteen years old and an inmate of the State penitentiary! This is the plight of Bruce Miller, of Kansas City. Bruce was received from Benton County, after having been sentenced to serve two years for robbery. Falsifying that he was nineteen at the time of his arrest didn't cause the court to be any too lenient with him. Mother love has since intervened in an effort to keep her son's record unblemished from the stain of a prison record. Mrs. Miller established the fact that Bruce is only thirteen and appealed to Judge C. A. Calverd, of Clinton, before whom the youngster was arraigned, for a revocation of sentence. It is understood the prison board is planning to recommend the parole of the boy, who had acted as a lookout for a man who robbed a store.

Go Ye Into the Highways

REV. BANFORD CLARKE, New York's famous "poet-painter-preacher," who illustrated his sermons in the Pillar of Fire Church, Brooklyn, with canvases which he painted himself, occasionally varying it by giving out one of his own verses from the pulpit, has prepared to take Scripture literally and obey the injunction: "Go ye into the highways." To this end, he has caused to be built a tiny "traveling chapel," steeple, stained glass windows, and all upon a Ford chassis. He started out by trundling his church along Broadway, stopping and preaching to the crowd from his perambulatory pulpit. The chapel contains a small organ, which Mrs. Clarke plays. The steeple folds down when he wants to put the car in a garage. This photo shows Rev. Clarke and his "traveling chapel." —Copyright, 1922, by Underwood & Underwood.

DOCTORS DIFFER IN INSANITY VIEW

LONDON. —Irreconcilable views between law and medicine have been one of the chief features of discussion at the meetings of the British Medical Association at Glasgow. These differences have been deepened by recent murder cases in England, particularly the Ronald True case. Dr. Andrew Allison, Professor of Medical Jurisprudence at Glasgow College, Glasgow, insisted that much useless controversy would be avoided if the lawyer and the doctor had each some knowledge of the function of the other. The doctor must understand the precision required by law. Equally important, the lawyer should appreciate the limitations of medical evidence, he said. Because of misunderstanding, medical evidence was frequently regarded as unsatisfactory. Chief among the differences between law and medicine lay in the criminal responsibility of the alleged insane. The difficulty rests in the determination of what constitutes insanity. The latest and the most satisfactory method may easily satisfy the legal test of insanity, but the majority of those now certified as insane by doctors would probably escape by this test. Medical men realize that there is no infallible symptom or characteristic that can distinguish the criminal of unsound mind from the sane criminal. It has been truly said that "the mad and the bad pass by insensible gradations from the one into the other." "The state of common law is clearly unsatisfactory," said Dr. Allison. "The jury in criminal cases are swayed by many considerations, and no one can tell what their verdict may be in a particular case." "There is always the danger that the merely vicious may escape punishment, while the mentally unsound may be sent to imprisonment."

WOMEN IN STATE FACE PROBLEM OF LONG SKIRTS

PARIS creates the fashions; New York bows to them; but California adopts them to her own needs," declares Mrs. Hazel Hyman, who has just returned from her fall buying trip to New York. "In New York skirts just escape the ground." "California women like their freedom and independence. Considered by many the best dressed women in the United States, they adapt the style to their own particular type and their own individual charms." "Lavin green is the newest shade now sweeping New York. Black, too, is a decided favorite, with the many shades of brown and blue enjoying unusual popularity." "The new autumn silhouette in frocks is the longer skirts with new arrangements of drapery. Sometimes the drapery is caught in front, Egyptian fashion, sometimes at the side after the Greeks, now with trailing ribbon ends, or perhaps with an exotic jeweled buckle. But always to the ankle and always with an uneven hem line." "Maitresse is very fashionable new fabric. Wrung velvet is an innovation. The hats, on account of the longer skirts, show a tendency toward the large, square hat type—usually black, often with a sweep of feather." Mrs. Hyman found the new season's wraps to be graceful, enveloping coats of great richness of fabric and fine point. Most noticeable are the exceedingly large sleeves. "How about bobbed hair?" Mrs. Hyman was asked. "Is it really passé?" "It may be in Paris, but it is decidedly the vogue in New York." "Even to the scaffold." "More restrictions will not cause the difficulties to disappear, and it is the duty of the medical and legal professions to assist each other in reaching a satisfactory solution."

CARUSO'S WIDOW IS DISINHERITED

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—All of his children, including Mrs. Dorothy Caruso, widow of Enrico Caruso, were disinherited by the will of the late Park Benjamin, filed for probate yesterday. Anna Bolchi Benjamin, an adopted daughter, was left $60,000, the residue of the estate going to the widow, Mrs. Ida E. Benjamin, whose address is given as Goshen, N. Y. Upon Mrs. Benjamin's death the principal will go to the adopted daughter. Benjamin gave as his reason for cutting his children off "the untoward conduct of the children toward their father." The children opposed the adoption of Anna Bolchi Benjamin, who was at one time Mrs. Caruso's governess. Professor Lacroix, of the French Museum, made this statement in reply to the recent prophecy made by Dr. Milton Nobles, of Philadelphia, that volcanic action would wipe out the Continent of Europe within a month. Lacroix interviewed M. le Professeur Lacroix and quotes the professor: "Even supposing you see I am generous with supposition—that all the volcanoes of the world began to erupt at once. All the world would not effect the solidarity of our planet. The effects of all volcanic phenomena are essentially local."

"NELLIE GRANT," WHITE HOUSE BRIDE, IS DEAD

Only Daughter of General Succumbs to Illness of Many Years.

CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—(By The Associated Press.)—Mrs. Franklin Hatch Jones, only daughter of General U. S. Grant, one of the country's few "White House brides" and one of the nation's popular heroines of the last century, died at her home here today. Death was due to paralysis, which made her an invalid several years ago.

Mrs. Jones, who was affectionately known throughout the land as "Nellie Grant," is survived by her husband, a Chicago banker and former assistant postmaster general in the Cleveland administration; two brothers, Clydes S. Grant, Jr., of California and Jesse R. Grant of New York; two children by a former marriage; Algernon and Vivian Sartoris; and several nieces, among them the Princess Catherine.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at the Chicago home, with Doctor James McCure of the McCormick theological seminary officiating. Burial will be at Springfield, her husband's old home.

Death was not unexpected as for two weeks Mrs. Jones had been falling rapidly as the attack of paralysis from which she suffered, extended to her brain. For several days she had been too weak to be moved. Nellie Grant was born on July 4, 1833, at Wistonwich, the estate of Colonel Dent, her grandfather.

Dry Agent to Face Charge of Perjury

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 30.—Facts concerning the charge that Roy Wilmut, prohibition agent, committed perjury while testifying in the case against William P. Crowley, who was charged with a violation of the prohibition act, but acquitted, are today in the hands of the Federal Grand Jury, with prospects of an indictment being brought against him.

All information of their possession was placed before the grand jury by United States Attorney John T. Williams and his two assistants, while the inquisitorial body heard testimony regarding the case from Crowley and his son Donald, aged 15.

The accusation of perjury against Wilmut grew out of the fact that he swore to a complaint alleging the purchase of seven cases of champagne for $20 from both Crowley and his son. Wilmut subsequently admitted he made the purchase from the son and his wife were on a vacation.

Gasoline Tax to Build Roads, Urged

(By International News Service.) WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—Thomas H. MacDonald, chief of the Bureau of Public Roads of the Agriculture Department, is in favor of a Federal tax of one cent a gallon on gasoline to help pay for the building and upkeep of public roads.

"Forty million dollars annually can be raised for road building and maintenance by a tax of one cent a gallon on gasoline," he declared. This method of raising funds has been adopted in Arizona, Arkansas, Colorado, Connecticut, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi, Montana, New Mexico, North Carolina, Oregon, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, South Dakota and Washington. Of these States only Oregon, New Mexico, Colorado and Kentucky had such a tax prior to January 1, 1921. The tax in Maryland, Mississippi and South Carolina has been adopted during the present year, and several other States are considering such a tax.

Boy Attempts to Poison Playmate

(By International News Service.) YOUNGSTOWN, Aug. 30.—Taking a two-ounce bottle of carbolic acid out of a dresser drawer, six-year-old Joseph Larrage left his home No. 405 North Walnut street, going to the Walnut street playgrounds the youngster, it is claimed, urged Felio Frastorn, ten, to swallow the contents of the bottle.

When Felio refused Joseph tried to compel him to drink the poison. Some of the acid burned Felio's face so severely that a physician was called.

Japanese Told to Act as Americans

(By International News Service.) HONOLULU, Aug. 30.—In reply to all Japanese residents in Hawaii to consider themselves Americans and to work for the good of Hawaii as a part of their own country have been given by K. Yamasaki, Consul-General for Japan at Honolulu, in a recent address.

"The Japanese in Hawaii should consider that they have become Americans, and with that spirit they should work constantly for Hawaii," Mr. Yamasaki said in part.

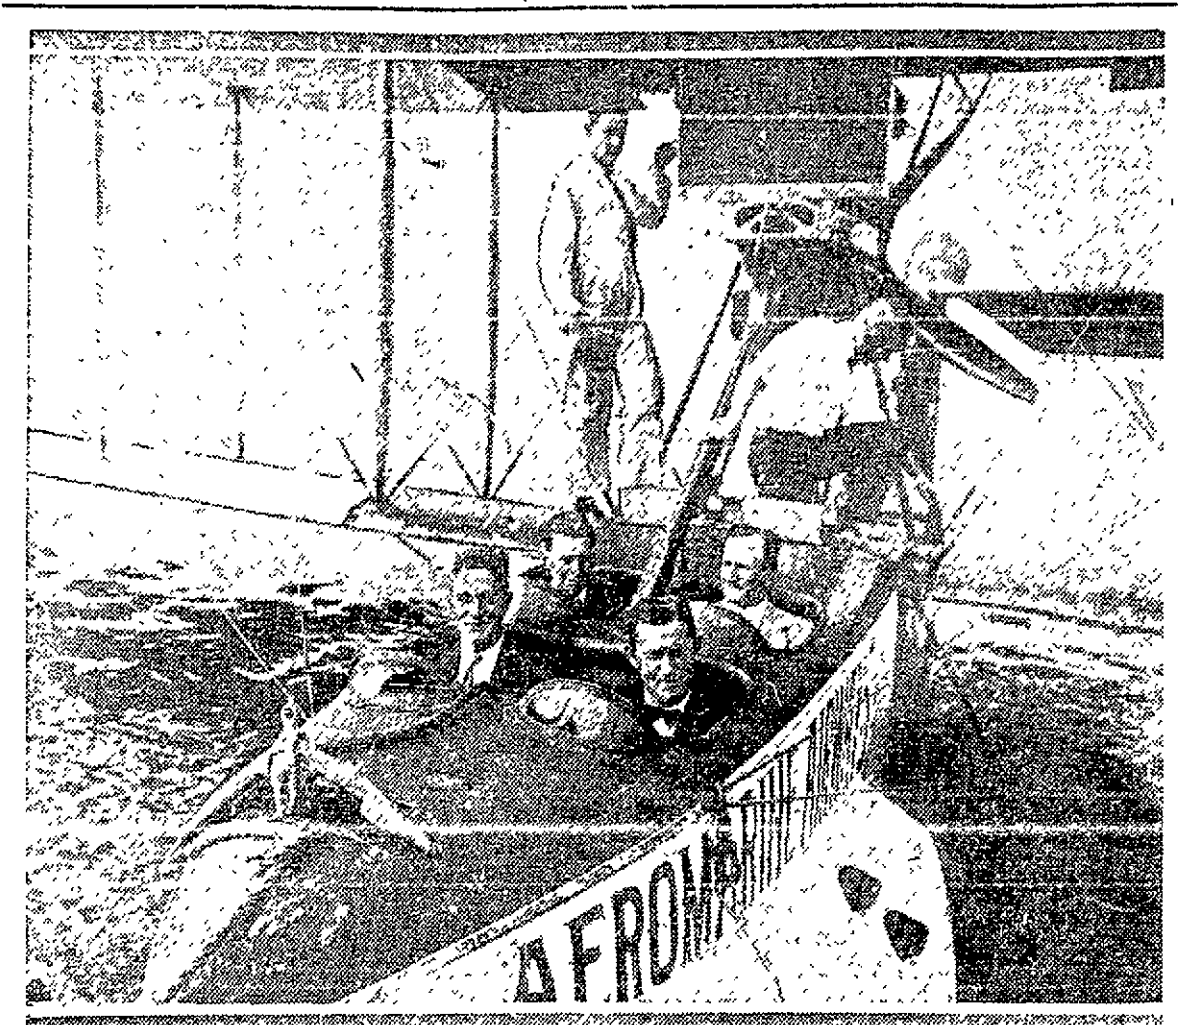

Woman Eats on Table Where She Slew Mate

PARIS.—In presenting evidence against Mrs. Etienne Jobin, the prosecution claimed that the woman subsequently ate her meals from the table on which she had dished her body of her husband. The death of Jobin had been a mystery until Mrs. Jobin was heard discussing it with an employee named Burger, who was arrested with her as a result.

SUIT INVOLVES GUATEMALA ROAD

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 30.—Circumstances of a fictional character were contained in a suit in the Superior court here today calling for an accounting from Adolph Stahl and the American Finance Company of New York and San Francisco of proceeds amounting to more than $1,000,000 from the Ocos Railroad of Guatemala.

The suit was filed in the name of C. A. Darling, cited with the citizens of the republic of Guatemala, all said to be stockholders in the railroad.

The facts recited in the complaint are that Stahl organized and built the Ocos railroad in Guatemala in 1896 at the cost of $1,500,000 and held stock in the company; that in May, 1903, the company and influence of Estrada Cabrera, then president of the republic, a "fix" hearing was held in the Court of First Instance, and by alleged fraudulent means Stahl gained control of the company. It is further set forth that efforts have been made from time to time to have the order of the alleged fraudulent hearing set aside to no avail.

In 1909, according to the complaint, President Cabrera was deposed, but the railroad already had been sold by Stahl, and the then matter appeared to be futile.

Coal Owners May Restore 1921 Wage

DENVER, Aug. 30.—(By The Associated Press.)—Representatives of thirty coal producing companies, including the Colorado Fuel & Iron Company, appeared before the state industrial commission here this afternoon for a discussion of proposals to restore the 1921 wage scale in Colorado coal mines at once.

Wages of the miners were reduced approximately 30 per cent last November. Before the hearing convened groups among the operators indicated that the commission would be asked to authorize the increased wages, effective September 1.

Chairman Bell of the commission said the commission had received notification from the Colorado Fuel & Iron Company of its intention to increase wages to the level of the 1921 scale.

WOMAN IN WILL LEAVES INCOME TO AID YOUTHS

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 30.—Unusual provisions were contained in a will disposing of the $30,000 estate of the late Mrs. Lizzie Wilty, who died here August 18.

The will was filed for probate in the superior court today by attorneys Powell and Dowling. Mrs. Wilty left her entire estate to the Episcopal church of California with the provision that the income of the estate should be devoted to aiding and helping needy boys and men discharged from reform schools and penal institutions.

Another unusual provision contained in the will tends to explain the foregoing provision. It was set forth in the document that the deceased had one boy, Leroy, who disappeared 32 years ago and has never been heard of since.

If still living he is now 49 years of age. The will provided that should he ever appear, he is to be paid $100 a month out of the income of the estate for the rest of his life.

DROPS DIVORCE TO AID HUSBAND

Because her husband, Philip C. Valentine, of Oakland, is facing a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated in addition to a $50,000 damage suit, Mrs. Joyce Valentine will not press her divorce suit against him, thus, she says, the alleged section of his relatives that she married for money.

Valentine is in custody at San Jose as the result of running down Mrs. McDonald, who has filed the $50,000 damage suit against him for injuries sustained. He was recently discharged from the state hospital at Agnew.

Mrs. Valentine, who is living with her sister at 1320 Hyde street, San Francisco, said: "It is true I filed suit for divorce against Phil last May, a month before the accident happened. But now that he is in trouble and the prospects are that he will be a poor man, I am going to stand by him."

'KICK' IN MELON LEADS TO HUNT FOR BOOTLEGGER

SIOUX CITY, Ia., Aug. 30.—Police are puzzled.

Answering a call Tuesday night they found Andy Rodisch, Andy Klatt, and a watermelon.

Klatt and Rodisch were on the verge of a fight to decide which one would get the last portion of the melon.

It smelled and tasted like moonshine whisky, they said, so Rodisch and Klatt were taken to the police station and charged with intoxication.

Now the police are on the trail of a bootlegger, who, it is believed, has hit upon the idea of pouring whisky in a watermelon and selling it as a "Georgia cocktail."

Paris to be Served By Chicago Cabs

(By International News Service.) PARIS, Aug. 30.—Fifty "yellow cabs" from Chicago soon will exert an Americanizing influence on Paris taxi cab service.

The cabs will be brought over in time to operate at the beginning of the winter season, according to John Hertz and Charles A. McCulloch, of the Chicago Yellow Cab Manufacturing Company, who have organized a subsidiary company here. They will be run on a profit-sharing basis, similar to that in Chicago, but will be operated at Paris taxi cab prices.

Drivers of the new cabs will be selected according to their ability to handle American fares. Politeness will be a prerequisite.

$10,800 LOSS IN BUNGO DETAILED

The manner in which he was fleeced of $10,800 by a gang of confidence men met in Oakland was related today by William G. Woolfrey of Moosejaw, Canada, before a jury in Judge George Samuel's court, which is trying John Lakeman on a charge of grand larceny as being a member of the gang.

Testimony finally began in the case today after many months of delay in the police and superior courts. Lakeman, through his attorney, Frank Cary, only consented to go to trial after exhausting every legal expedient which ended with the denial of a writ of habeas corpus last week.

The defense is trying to establish that Lakeman, who was arrested while laid up in a local hospital from a broken shoulder, is not one of the gang and that Woolfrey is mistaken in his identification.

met a man named Sterling on the street who introduced him to Lakeman and another man named Chetwood. They then unfolded a scheme by which he could become rich through a mining stock deal, he said. As a result he sent to Canada for his money and was taken by the gang to Reno, where they took his money and then declared they had made a mistake and invested it in the wrong stock with the result that it was lost. This was on October 23, 1921. It was several weeks later before Lakeman was arrested by the Oakland police.

Organ Pumper Dozes, Found Six Days Later

BISHOP, STORTFORD, Eng., Aug. 30.—Frank Philpot, aged 60, pumps the organ at St. John's Church. He became tired, and perhaps the minister was a little loud in his sermon, at that rate the services were not conducive to sleep. Frank dozed himself away in a hot-air chamber in the rear of the church, where he could not be disturbed by any hot air from the main part of the church. It took Frank several hours to sleep of his restlessness, and when he awoke he was locked in. Six days later he was discovered, but is now recovering.

Youth Held in Theft

Victor Reposa, 13 years old, is being held for investigation by the police in connection with the burglary of the American Creamery garage. The place was entered on the evening of August 21. He is alleged to have taken a large number of tools. He was arrested yesterday by Police Inspectors Tom Wood and Tom Gallagher.

Islanders Quit Fishing; Take Up Bootlegging

LONDON, Aug. 26.—The Bahamas are not the only islands along the North American seaboard that count Mr. "Fussyfoot" Johnson among their benefactors. The statement in the gazetteer that "fishing is the sole industry" of the French island of St. Pierre Miquelon no longer applies.

This island, which has 2,000 inhabitants, and is situated off the southwest coast of Newfoundland, forms an important strategic position for those traders who are engaged in flooding the States with surreptitious whisky.

Exciting scenes are witnessed during the hours of darkness along the coastline of Maine, from which St. Pierre Miquelon is between 600 and 700 miles distant. The whisky is sent in bulk to St. Pierre, and from there it is conveyed in fleets of fast motorboats to the Maine coast.

The task of avoiding the revenue cutters and running the contraband ashore is one of many perils—a calling that appeals to the adventurous and brings back the romance of the old days.

LIGHTS OUT.

The real danger begins when the three-mile limit is reached. The revenue cutters, with lights out, await their prey in perfect silence. Suddenly they hear the thrum of a motor-engine, and a fast smuggler's cutter races past them at top speed in the darkness. The revenue boat is off in pursuit in a moment, and by a prearranged signal half a dozen other government boats join in the chase.

The smuggler's craft draws the pussfoot attack and then slows down. The revenue boats gradually overhaul their prey. They close in, and at the revolver point demand surrender. The smuggler hauls down his flag. The revenue cutters board the foe and find empty kegs.

Pussfoot has been spotted! While the revenue boats have concentrated their attention on a decoy smuggler, a dozen other craft, carrying out their campaign regardless of cost and on a gigantic scale, there is no lack of money. Every case of whisky is paid for in cash before it leaves England.

LARGE PROFITS.

The dealers who handle the contraband make profits substantial enough to justify the risks they run. A bottle of whisky, for which they pay about 5s. in Great Britain, will sell more than 20s. in the United States.

"If Americans want subscriptions to a political fund to keep up prohibition all they have to do is to go to the Scottish distillers and they will get all the money they want," said a prominent British distiller. "More whisky is now going to the West than ever before."

MANY WOUNDED IN HOT BATTLE AT CORK CITY

Violence Also Renewed At Belfast and Bomb Wounds Three Children.

By DANIEL O'CONNELL, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

DUBLIN, Aug. 30.—Many soldiers were wounded in an all-night battle which raged between Free Staters and irregulars at Cork. The irregulars finally were driven off. Red Cross headquarters in Cork were fired upon. Two military lorries filled with Free State soldiers were blown up by a mine and a number were badly injured.

Irregular attacks at Tralee and Limerick were repulsed.

BOMB WOUNDS CHILDREN

BELFAST, Aug. 30.—(By International News Service.)—Three children were among the victims of a new outbreak of violence here today. They were wounded by a bomb explosion. A man was shot dead.

LONDON, Aug. 30.—Michael Collins' death has strengthened the determination of the provisional Irish Free State government that there can be no settlement on the terms of unconditional surrender, says the Daily Mail's Dublin correspondent.

Anna Q. Nilsson Injured About Face and Shoulders

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 30.—Anna Q. Nilsson, film star, was under the care of a physician today, following an accident near San Fernando, in which she was severely burned about the face and shoulders.

Craig Ward, her leading man, and Percy Hildner, head cameraman, also were burned, it was said, but not seriously. The accident occurred when Miss Nilsson as engineer and Craig as fireman piloted a locomotive through a "staged" forest fire. It was reported, flames leaping from excelsior "underbrush" saturated with gasoline, burned Miss Nilsson's clothing.

GIGARS AID IN MOVING TRAIN

(By International News Service.) LONDON, Aug. 30.—An amusing story illustrating the methods by which American Relief Administration workers have to accomplish their jobs in Russia is being told here by a Russian business man who recently returned from Moscow and who himself saw the incident he describes.

At three o'clock one morning the express train in which he was traveling drew up at a good-sized station, on the platform of which a large crowd had gathered round the station master and another figure, giant-sized, clad in pajamas, bed-room slippers and a pair of horn-tipped glasses which at once identified him to the native eye.

He was demanding that his car be hitched to the express train, and the official was refusing, because the car in question was a goods car containing medical stocks.

"But I'm taking American supplies to the people on the Volga—your own sick people," shouted the giant.

But still the station master refused. Rules were rules, and he for one was going to obey them.

"All right," said the giant. "Then I'm going for my revolver." And he disappeared into the goods car. He reappeared with a box, opened it, and produced a cigar.

"Here, try that and see how it suits you." He gave one to the chief official. "You're the assistant?"

He turned to another. "Have one. Now see whether you can help hitch the car." He turned to a third man. "You're the fellow who rings the bell, eh? Go ahead, take one." The men all took cigars.

They departed and hitched on his car.

WAGE WAR BEGUN BY MAINTENANCE OF WAY WORKERS

Arguments on "Just and Reasonable" Pay Prepared Before Labor Board.

By CHARLES R. LYNCH, United Press Staff Correspondent.

CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—The battle for higher wages for railroad maintenance of way men opened today before the railroad labor board. Following the refusal of the board to accept the living wage principle of the employees as the basis for fixing a new wage scale, maintenance leaders prepared to present arguments to show that a living wage was a "just and reasonable" wage were the same.

President Grable wired to Senator Cummins, Iowa, co-author of the Esch-Cummings bill, asking immediate congressional action to amend the transportation act to definitely define a "just and reasonable" wage.

Big 4 Disclaim Part In Shopmen's Strike

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 30.—Strike of the railroad shopmen is a closed incident with the big four railroad brotherhoods, at least temporarily.

This was the statement of William G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, as the conference of big four chiefs opened shortly before noon today.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Aug. 30.—One Southern railway guard was killed and another seriously wounded when they were ambushed near the Hamburg yards in South Carolina, across the river from here, today.

TROOPS RECALLED

HARRISBURG, Pa., Aug. 30.—A virtual end to the coal strike in the bituminous fields of Pennsylvania was recognized by Governor Spruill with the recall of National Guard troops who have been guarding the fields since July 21.

Four troops of cavalry and one machine gun troop were ordered home today. The recall will be recalled within another week, the governor said.

Church Folk Must Abide "Blue Law"

RITTMAN, Ohio.—Because church workers demanded enforcement of the "blue laws" and the closing of the local movie theatre, Mayor Shackelford refused to permit two churches here to show on Sunday evening the motion picture entitled "Alice in Wonderland."

Albhus Goffinet, fined $25 for operating his movie theatre on Sunday—his arrest being in response to a complaint by church officials—immediately offered to those responsible for his arrest free use of his theatre for the purpose of exhibiting the films banned from Sunday showing.

Man Absolved For Accidental Slaying

TEXARKANA, Ark., Aug. 30.—Ernest Barfield, who Saturday night shot and killed his sweetheart, Miss Galantha Athens, under the impression that she was a night prowler who had been molesting him, was today acquitted of the charge of murder by the coroner jury which heard the evidence in the case.

The inquest had been continued from Sunday morning until tonight, owing to the physical collapse of Barfield after the shooting.

PITTSBURGH SOFT COAL STRIKE IS ENDED BY TREATY

Settlement of Anthracite War Expected With Meeting to Compromise.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Aug. 30.—The bituminous coal strike in the Pittsburgh district came to an end shortly after noon today, when the Pittsburgh Coal company, the largest commercial producer of the region, signed an agreement with district officers of the United Mine Workers. This company was the last in the district to accept the union terms under the Cleveland amendment.

By JAMES T. KOLBERT, United Press Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—Settlement of the anthracite coal strike appeared much nearer today as committees of operators and miners prepared to meet in Philadelphia to consider a compromise proposal of Senator Reed of Pennsylvania, terminating the dispute. Acceptance of the proposal would eliminate the troublesome arbitration issue, thus far the stumbling block to all peace discussions.

President Lewis of the United Mine Workers said that if the question of arbitration were out of the way, the other questions "would not be insurmountable."

The Senatorial proposal also is believed to provide for a commission of operators and miners to investigate conditions in the coal fields.

Legislation authorizing President Harding to operate the mines and railroads should an occasion of dire necessity arise was left out of the legislative program for the remainder of the Senate session today.

"The move was made to satisfy growing opposition to legislation authorizing the President to take over the mines and roads."

Bank Head Marries Former U. C. Student

RICHMOND, Aug. 30.—Charles J. Cray, president of the First National Bank, and Mrs. Ruth Carson Yount, of San Francisco, were married in San Francisco yesterday afternoon.

The bride is the daughter of E. B. Carson, an official of the Southern Pacific Company. She was formerly a student at the University of California.

The bridegroom is one of Richmond's best known bankers. He is a member of the Richmond Lodge of Elks, and an alumnus of Stanford. He recently returned from a tour of the Orient and Europe.

$8889 RAISED FOR BOY SCOUT FUND IN DRIVE

Third of Quota Obtained, Campaign Workers
Learn.

Approximately one-third of the total sum of $25,000 which the leaders in the Boy Scout campaign intend to raise by Saturday, has been collected thus far, it is announced. The total is at present $8889.

The amount was announced at the daily report luncheon at Hotel Oakland, at which it was found that collections for the past 24 hours were $2865. Boy Scouts themselves attended the luncheon, helping to check up the figures and carry out the meeting arrangements. Among those were Lincoln Spoomaker and Christy Allen, President Abe P. Leach, head of the drive committee, was chairman of the meeting and introduced Postmaster Joseph J. Rosborough, who told of the remarkable success which had greeted the drive that is being carried on simultaneously in Hayward.

Hayward is carrying on its own drive to finance its work there, said Rosborough. "At a meeting yesterday 23 business men subscribed $1015 in three minutes. It was a 100 per cent subscription, every man giving his share. It shows that Hayward has gone into scouting in earnest and is determined to put the organization on a permanent working basis for the future."

Men Lost On Hunting Party Are Rescued

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 30.—Elmer J. Adams and J. P. Beatty, of Los Angeles, were rescued after they had become separated from other members of a hunting party and had been without food and water for 48 hours on San Clemente Island, off the Southern California coast. They built a large fire, which attracted the attention of two vessels.

Society to Attend Wedding In Berkeley

Five hundred guests will witness the nuptials of Miss Hope Somerset, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Somerset of Berkeley, and Donald Walsh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Marion Walsh of this city, this evening at St. Mark's Episcopal church in Berkeley.

The ceremony will be at 8:30 o'clock. Quantities of pink peonies are to adorn the altar forming a bower for the reading of the ritual. Baskets of other blooms will be placed about the church.

It is to be a pink wedding, the gowns of the attendants to harmonize. Mrs. Jack Okell, matron of honor, will wear a gown of coral Chantilly lace, draped, and Miss Harriet Fletcher, maid of honor, will wear a blue lace gown. Each attendant will wear a high lace comb, embellished with sequins as a striking addition to her costume. The gowns will be made with long panels in train effect.

The bridesmaids: Mrs. Edward Pennington, Miss Dorothy Grissim, Miss Katherine Bentley and Elizabeth Moore will wear frocks of chiffon. Miss Grissim to be in peach; Miss Bentley in pink; Miss Moore in orchid and Mrs. Edward Pennington in yellow. Crystal beads will be worn in the girdles which will trail two feet from the hem of the gown in cascade effect.

Ophelia roses and snap dragons are to be carried in the shower bouquets. The bride gown will be of ivory satin, draped and trimmed with ropes of pearls at one side. Miss Somerset will wear a tulle veil edged with old rose point lace, a coronet of the same holding the veil in place. Butterfly orchids, gardenias and lilies of the valley will be carried in the shower bouquet.

Kenneth Walsh is to be best man for his brother and the ushers, Mark Butterbaugh, Arthur Adams, Fitzgerald Marx, Harold Havre and Jack Okell.

Rev. Franklyn Augustus Martyn, rector of St. Clement's church will read the ritual.

The wedding interests scores of families throughout the state. Miss Somerset was graduated from Vassar last semester.

MISS HELEN SCHIECK, who will be a bridesmaid for her sister, Miss Gertrude Schieck this evening when the latter will wed Arthur Leonard Smith.—Boye Photo.

In the south after which the couple will come to San Francisco where the bridegroom elect has transferred his business interests.

William H. O'Connor of Fruitvale entertained Saturday evening at his residence in honor of his son W. H. O'Connor Jr., who left for San Diego after spending two weeks with his parents. Among the guests were Anthony J. Rossi, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Barthold, Mr. and Mrs. J. Lawton and others.

AFTERNOON WEDDING IN BERKELEY

At 5:30 o'clock this afternoon the wedding of Miss Gertrude Schieck and Arthur Leonard Smith will take place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Schieck of Haste street, Berkeley, more than fifty guests to witness the ritual to be read by Rev. Father Towey of Newman hall, University of California.

A wedding supper will follow the service.

The bride will wear a Chantilly lace frock and carry lilies of the valley and blue roses. She will wear the usual veil of tulle and orange blossoms.

Miss Helen Schieck who will be maid of honor for her sister will wear orchids georgette and silver. Little Nancy Jane Schieck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Schieck of San Francisco, will be flower girl and be gowned in pink tulle. She will carry a basket of Cecil Breuner roses.

Guy Cole of Oakland will serve as best man.

The bride to be is a University of California graduate and an Alpha Omicron Pi sorority member.

Smith is a son of Mr. and Mrs. James Smith of New York and a graduate of Michigan University.

Magnate's Second Wife Hunts First
To Share Wealth

CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—Mrs. Lottie Bock, of Chicago, first wife of John Bock, wealthy California mine owner, is being sought here by Mrs. Eleanor Bock, who married Bock after he had been successful in Klondike and other mining fields and quietly had obtained a divorce.

"I can't rest until I find her," Mrs. Eleanor Bock said here today, explaining Bock had left his first wife in Chicago to seek his fortune.

"Mr. Bock has money now and I want her to have her share," the second Mrs. Bock asserted.

According to the wife's story, Lottie Bock was a dressmaker who for many years was a seamstress for some of Chicago's prominent women. Bock left for Klondike and she was to carry on at her work awaiting the day when he would return with the wealth both fondly hoped he would find.

But while Bock found mining wealth he also found the woman now his wife and for love of whom he divorced the other.

TURKS ADVANCE ON GREEKS OVER 12-MILE FRONT

Latter's Forces in North Anatolia Cut Off From Main Body of Troops.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 30.—Turkish Nationalist troops are advancing against the Greeks over a 12-mile front in the Bulejik sector of the Anatolian battlefield, said despatches from the war zone today.

The evacuation of Karahissar, 150 miles southwest of Angora, by the Greeks has cut off the Greek forces in the northern part of Anatolia from the main body.

Heavy casualties have been inflicted upon the Greeks and many prisoners have been captured, according to claims made by the Nationalist war office at Angora. Bad weather is developing and rain threatens to interfere with the Turkish offensive.

The Greeks in northern Anatolia are falling back upon Broussa, their base. This force is in a dangerous position and the Turks are threatening to roll it up entirely. Broussa is 200 miles west of Angora, and 55 miles south of Constantinople.

The Turks are employing extensive forces of cavalry as well as heavy artillery. In the region of Karahissar the Greeks were compelled to leave valuable stores of war supplies behind when they retreated.

An American destroyer lying in the harbor at Broussa has been warned not to communicate with the shore. All the Anatolian ports have been ordered closed.

Hawaii Princess to Attend Convent

Princess Liliuokalani Kawanakoa, descendant of the old royal family of Hawaii, arrived in San Francisco yesterday and will enter the St. Dominick convent in San Rafael, where she will take a four-year course. She is accompanied by her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. George C. Beckley.

The Hawaiian princess received many gifts and presents of flowers when the steamer Matsonia, on which she was a passenger, left Honolulu.

HUNDREDS NAMED IN U. S. PROBE OF HERRIN OUTRAGE

Witnesses Guarded From Intimidation Regarding Grand Jury Visits.

MARION, Ill., Aug. 30.—(By the Associated Press)—Names of several hundred persons, alleged participants in the Herrin massacre, in which twenty-two persons were killed, have been furnished the special grand jury investigating the mine war, it was learned today.

In order to save time, Assistant United States Attorney General Middlekauff, who is assisting in the inquiry, interviews witnesses before they enter the grand jury room.

Names of witnesses are no longer being made public. This action was taken on advice of State's Attorney DeLoe Duty, who declared witnesses would leave the country through fear if their identity became known. The witnesses appear nervous as they wait in the corridor outside the jury room.

Mrs. Thomas J. Russell, who cleaned up gambling activities in Hurst, near here several years ago, made application to serve on the jury in place of her husband, who she avers recently recuperated from a breakdown. The judge, however, refused the application unless made by Russell himself. So far, Russell has not done so.

FOUR U. S. SHIPS PURCHASED BY OAKLAND FIRM

The A. Berovich Company of Oakland has purchased the following vessels from the war department, according to an announcement made today. The Alert at $3771, Nero $5200, Erubus $12,583, and the Nanshan for $9331. The last three named vessels were used as colliers and are still in good condition. They are now at anchor in this harbor.

Another fleet of vessels from the war department was sold to the Barde Steel and Machine Company of Seattle. They are the steamer Glacier, $22,900; and the submarine F-2, $1500; submarine F-3, $1500. It has been reported that several other vessels of the war department will soon be sold, and the submarines will be junked, while the colliers again may see service as merchant crafts under private ownership.

U.S. Consul Aide Threatened by Munich Crowds

LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE,
BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

LONDON, Aug. 30.—The American vice-consul at Munich, Albert Halstead, and his wife were subjected to a hostile demonstration by a menacing crowd of German sight-seers at the Schloss Herrenchiemsee Sunday, says a dispatch to The Times. When Halstead procured authority from the Bavarian government entitling him to exemption from the special prices charged foreigners, thereby admitting him to the building for 25 marks instead of 600 marks collectible from foreign visitors, there were angry protests, and the cry was taken up. "Americans have full pockets and empty hearts! Out with the foreigners!" The attendants interfered and restored order.

Derby Aboard Ship On Voyage to S. F.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 30.—Carrying 534 officers and enlisted men and a number of passengers, the United States army transport Chateau Thierry arrived here yesterday from Honolulu. Two other transports, the Buford and Henderson, will arrive this week. The Chateau Thierry has aboard Secretary of the Navy Denby and the greater part of the class of Annapolis Naval Academy which recently visited Japan. Colonel Herbert Deakins, army engineer, was among those arriving on the Chateau Thierry yesterday, and also Colonel Joseph F. Janda.

Legion's Delegation Welcomed by Joffre

PARIS, Aug. 30.—(By The Associated Press)—Marshal Joffre at the Invalides palace yesterday afternoon welcomed the group of members of the American Legion who came to France some time ago to visit the battlefield.

"You are my comrades," said Marshal Joffre to the Legionnaires, to whom he was introduced by Col. Harry Ayres, editor and owner of the American Star. "God bless you," the marshal added. "We shall never forget you."

DRY RAIDS CAUSE LIQUOR SHORTAGE

SAN BENITO, Aug. 28.—Activities of customs officials and prohibition officers in making seizures of liquor in the border sections is reported to have resulted in a shortage in dry territories farther up the coast.

Dry officers recently returned to headquarters in Brownsville after a raid in the Rancho district, south of San Benito, bringing a wagon heavily loaded with tequila, akularenta, mescal and other liquors of Mexican manufacture. Approximately 1000 quarts of prickly pear liquor were transported recently by government officers from natural channels flowing from the river to the more distant sections up the state.

Enforcement officers in Corpus Christi report diminishing stocks and declare that rum runners are experiencing unusual difficulty in bringing in fresh supplies. An unconfirmed report has it that dry agents are operating two airplanes in the Corpus Christi district and are keeping booting operations down to a minimum.

Federal Troops Rout Nicaraguan Rebels

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras, Aug. 28.—Nicaraguan government forces have routed the 250 Nicaraguan rebels commanded by Martinez Funes, who attacked the Plaza Tucuman, in Honduras near the Nicaraguan border. The rebels lost many men in killed and wounded. Funes was gravely wounded.

No Personal Interest Really

In a courthouse in the northern part of the state of New Hampshire they were trying a will case. A witness for the contestant took the stand. Under oath he testified that on a certain day in a certain house he saw the decedent sign the will which was now in dispute.

Immediately the lawyer for the other side was on his feet announcing to the court he was prepared to prove that as a matter of fact the will had been signed in another house under altogether different circumstances at a time when this person could not possibly have been present.

Whereupon the man on the stand spoke up and said:

"Mebbe you're right."

The trial judge turned upon him.

"What do you mean then by stating under oath what you just have stated?"

"Wall, Judge," said the witness calmly, "I don't keer a darn about the case no ways."

Uncle Wiggily Stories

by HOWARD R. GARDNER

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE BABY BIRD.

UNCLE WIGGILY awakened one morning in his hollow stump bungalow while the late August sun was shining in his window. He made his red, white and blue-striped rheumatism crutch look like a big stick of peppermint candy. Without quite knowing why or how, Uncle Wiggily felt very happy. Perhaps you have felt just the same some morning when you knew your lessons and were glad to go to school.

"Oh, how jolly I feel this morning," cried the gentleman rabbit as he hopped out of bed, landing on the floor with a bounce that shook the whole bungalow. "I must certainly take a walk in the woods this beautiful day. Nurse Jane! Oh, Nurse Jane!" called Uncle Wiggily.

"What is it, Mr. Longears?" the muskrat lady answered. "Oh, are you only just getting up?" she went on, as she heard him moving about in his room. "Why, it is nearly 9 o'clock and the sun has been up for many hours!"

"Oh, well," replied Uncle Wiggily. "I think the sun went to bed a bit earlier than I did last night. We stayed somewhat late at the moving pictures. Mary Chaplin was so funny, don't you think?"

"You mean Charlie Pickford!" laughed Nurse Jane. "Yes, he was jolly. But now come to breakfast."

So after a breakfast of broiled carrots with turnip lace around the edges, Uncle Wiggily hopped across the room once or twice. "My, but you are gay this morning!" cried Nurse Jane, backing into a corner with a pile of dishes, so Uncle Wiggily wouldn't bump into her. "What is the idea?"

"The idea is that you and I are soon going for a walk in the woods," answered Mr. Longears. "Together we may have an adventure."

"I shall be most delighted to go, and it is very kind and polite of you to ask me," said Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy.

Soon the jolly old shining sun saw the two animal friends adventuring through the woods together, Uncle Wiggily holding Nurse Jane's paw so she wouldn't stumble and fall.

"Look, what is that!" suddenly cried the muskrat lady as they passed a bubbling brook. "Is that the Skillyer Scallery Alligator?"

Uncle Wiggily carefully looked through his spectacles.

"That is a mother otter and her family of little otters," answered the bunny gentleman. "Let us watch them."

They saw the mother otter teaching her little otters how to swim. Otters are animals that spend much of their time in the water, catching fish on which they live. The fur of the otter is most beautiful.

This family of otters was having a wonderful time. The mother otter perched herself on a rock and slid into the water. One by one the baby otters did the same, some of them falling and splashing in, rather than sliding. The mother otter did all sorts of tricks, jumping up in the air and almost turning somersaults. Then she would take a little otter on her back and swim across the brook.

"Now I have shown you what to do, you must all swim by yourselves, children!" called the mother otter at last. "Swim after me!"

Away she paddled down the brook, and after a little, all the baby otters swam behind her. Uncle Wiggily and Nurse Jane set out again.

"What pretty those tiny otters were!" sighed the muskrat lady. "I wish I could have taken one of the furry babies home with me."

"I wish the same," spoke Uncle Wiggily, "but I fear Mrs. Otter would not have liked that very much. No matter how many children one has they are all loved. And now I think we had better—"

But at that instant Uncle Wiggily came to a stop, for right at his feet something dropped. Looking down, Uncle Wiggily saw that it was a baby robin.

It was one of what is called a second brood, for often the mother robin hatches two batches of eggs so that little birds come from them late in summer and early in spring.

"Oh, you poor dear little bird!" cried Nurse Jane. "You seem to be cold," and well might she say that for the baby robin was shivering, for it had on hardly any feathers, being newly hatched.

"I am cold!" peeped the baby bird. "It was nice and warm in the nest, under my mother's fluffy wings, but it is cold here. Oh, I have fallen out of the nest, and I am so cold! What shall I do?"

"I'll help you," kindly offered Uncle Wiggily. "Wait a minute! Let me think. Ah, I have it!" he suddenly cried, as he saw a fuzzy caterpillar crawling along a stone. "You will help keep the poor, cold, baby bird warm, won't you?" asked the bunny of the caterpillar.

"Of course I will—most gladly," answered the fuzzy creature. "Alone by myself I could not do it, but I will call my brothers and sisters!" In a gentle voice the caterpillar called, and soon a dozen or more fuzzy caterpillars came crawling forth.

The furry crawlers wound themselves around the poor shivering baby bird until he looked as though he had on a woolly overcoat.

"Do you feel better now?" asked the largest caterpillar.

"Oh, much chirped the little robin, no longer shivering. 'Tis so good to be warm again."

"Then stay here a little while, and I'll find your mother, who must be flying off in the woods looking for food, and I'll have her and your father fly back with you into the nest," said Uncle Wiggily, as Nurse Jane wrapped a tiny caterpillar about the baby bird's toes.

Uncle Wiggily soon found the father and mother robins, who were very thankful to the bunny, to Nurse Jane and to the furry caterpillars for what they did. And Mr. Longears said, as the baby bird was lifted back into its nest:

"What a jolly adventure!"

Winifred Black FOLKS and THINGS

THE LOOK IN HIS EYES.

Dear me, how hungry we were! Starving to death, every one of us! We'd been driving in the wind and we'd been down to the beach and we had listened to the breakers, and on the way home we passed through a great forest and heard what the wind was saying there, and all along the road we saw people building little fires and cooking good things. How good the smells—broiling over the coals and the coffee—

I really thought one of the men in our party would jump out of the car, snatch a coffee pot from the first picnicer and escape with it, before they could catch him.

A GLORIOUS WELCOME.

We held him in by main force and hurried as fast as we could through the street twilight. The wild flowers crowded along the fences and the wild blackberries did their best to push them out of the way. Lupin, blue and yellow and white—Indian paint brushes, scarlet and cardinal and crimson—forget-me-nots as blue as the bluest eyes you ever saw—daisies, white and gold—meadow-sweet, a foam of delicious cream—buttercups as yellow as gold and shining as if some little fairy had spent the day polishing every single petal, clover and new-mown hay, rose-colored hills and purple shadows, and in the middle of the valley a rushing river—how fair—how fair to see!

And when we got to the ranch, there was the table all set with the quaint dishes made by the French peasants—with Jean and his rake on one plate and Marie and her milk-pen on the other—and the big sturdy cure with little children dancing around them—there was a gay bunch of flowers in the center of the table. The men walked in the orchard and talked of cranes and of fires and of engines and in fifteen minutes the dinner was ready.

MOST BEAUTIFUL OF ALL.

Chicken pie and mashed potatoes, and green peas and new onions boiled in cream, and lettuce salad with a fine dressing, and pudding and cake and coffee—and the little woman who was responsible for it all blushed like a rose and laughed like a child when we told her how good it was and asked her how in the world she managed.

"I was up at five," she said, "and had everything all ready by nine and all the cool things were cooling, and all the warm things were ready to be warmed, and I timed myself and it took me just fifteen minutes to have them all on the table."

"Oh!" said one of us. "It's a shame to make you so much work!"

"Work?" said the miracle woman. "It wasn't work—it was fun—just doing it, myself, and finding out that I could. Why, I loved it! That's why I had just fun all day—I was thinking how surprised you'd all be."

And of all that I saw on that day of joy and beauty, the look in the eyes of the young husband when he looked at his wife and was proud of her for her spirit and her cleverness was the most beautiful thing of all.

3-minute Journeys

WHERE UNMARRIED WOMEN LIVE IN TREE-TOP HOMES.

In Papua, consisting of British New Guinea and the former German New Guinea, now British, which lies in the Pacific Ocean east of the Dutch East Indies, the unmarried woman must be "looked up."

This is necessary because she lives in a tree high above the other natives, in a shanty little hut made from bamboo. From this perilous perch uncomfortable "quies" looks down on her comfortable relatives and friends with envy. And she sighs for the day when "Romeo" will serenade her in her "balcony."

The bamboo tree-top home is just large enough for her to eat and sleep in, and when there is a storm it sways and bends, sometimes crashing to the ground while she sleeps. However, it's all in a lifetime with the New Guinea girl, and she looks down at the roomy huts of those below her and hopes.

When she becomes a wife she moves into a house about twenty-five to thirty feet long, fifteen to twenty feet wide, and eight to ten feet high. The roof of the house is made of bamboo thatched with the leaves of pandanus trees, or of cocoanut or arec palm and supported on a central rot of posts. The sides are low and made of the same material.

The average New Guinea hut is decorated with the lower jaws of pigs, the skeletons of fishes and the dried skins of the flying fox. These the New Guinea unmarried woman admires deeply from her home in the tree-tops, for to her the ugly decorations are very beautiful. The more pigs' jaws and skeletons adorn a house the more favor the family finds in the eyes of the other natives.

The men of the tribes have many wives, who slave for them. The women do all the work in the fields and go out and gather the pineapples and bananas. Every man has his favorite wife, who lives in luxury while the others toil. When the favorite wife dies all of the other wives must have their heads and plaster their faces with lime as a token of respect, if not regret, for the departed.

Mrs. Harding will be the first Lady of the Land ever to have cast a vote, she having sent her registration as a legal voter to Marion.

HUNTER ROOMS THREE DAYS IN MOUNTAINS, LOST

Letter Carrier From San Jose Finally Makes Way to Lick Observatory.

SAN JOSE, Aug. 30.—Henry Ivor Jones, local letter carrier, today is recovering from the effects of two lonely days and nights experienced last Saturday and Sunday when he became separated from a party of hunters in the mountains back of Mount Hamilton and was lost for 48 hours.

Together with Jerry and Thomas Fellmuth and Frederick Drew, all local young men, Jones set out upon the hunting trip Friday evening. The men separated early Sunday morning in quest of deer. That was the last seen of Jones. When night time came and Jones had not put in an appearance his friends, believing he might have been accidentally shot, set out as a rescue party, firing their rifles as they went, but without success.

When Saturday night, Sunday and Sunday night passed without trace of Jones, a searching party was formed. Jones, it was found, had left the city for Mount Hamilton a telephone call from the Lick observatory announced that Jones was safe.

ENLEAGUED AGAINST DECREE OF LONG SKIRTS

MONTREAL, Aug. 30.—Twenty of Montreal's smartest and prettiest girls, rebelling against the attempt of style creators to force long skirts on women, have formed a "no-longer-skirt league." Members are pledged to cling to the abbreviated variety and do all they can to induce other young women to keep their skirts short.

STUDENT BODY ELECTS
RICHMOND, Aug. 30.—Harold Oberland presided at the first meeting of the Junior High school's student body Monday in the Assembly hall. Officers were nominated and will be voted on today.

Two in Fist Fight Seek to End Charge

SAN LEANDRO, Aug. 30.—Assault and battery charges brought by J. V. Bettencourt against Louis Hecker, both of this city, were asked to be dropped by the former today. According to Bettencourt, the affair, arising over an argument and leading to a fist fight last Sunday night at a resort on Alvarado street, had been settled amicably by the two men. The complaint was sworn to before Judge W. J. Gannon of this city.

WRONG CLOTHES SPOIL GIRLS' WEEKEND

"Oh, hello, Elsa! What kind of a week end did you have with your friends down in the country? You have talked so much about visiting them. I am glad you got to go at last."

"Oh, they were so nice to me I should have had a wonderful time. They have invited me to come down again in two or three weeks or whenever I can."

"But you didn't say what kept you from having a perfect time."

"I—I don't know. I guess something is wrong with me. They had such lovely clothes and everything. I felt sort of unimportant and embarrassed. I couldn't be natural. They must have thought me an awful tramp."

"Oh, so, never that. But it does take away one's self confidence and lessens one's respect for one's self to feel poorly dressed. Are you going to get something new before your next trip?"

"I should say I am. I wouldn't go again if I couldn't have a new dress. Goodness knows how I can afford it though."

"If that's what's worrying you I can solve your difficulties. Go to 115 13th street and get a suit and a dress. Dame Fashion has again made her headquarters at this popular store. Remarkable values and you know Cherry's allow you six months to pay. You can make arrangements for a convenient payment down most easily."

Cherry's store for men is at 528 12th street.—Advertisement.

HAYWARD

HAYWARD, Aug. 30.—Formation of an actively functioning horticultural department, for the purpose of bettering the quality of fruit yield here, is being undertaken by orchardists of the Alameda county farm bureau under the direction of Russell T. Robinson, county agricultural agent, it was announced today. The organization will be formed on the same basis as the Alameda county poultry breeders' association. The introduction of long pruning and the control of brown rot,

Boy Scout Council At Hayward Planned

HAYWARD, Aug. 30.—Hayward is to have its own Boy Scout executive and its own Scout council, independent of the Alameda county council being formed, it was decided yesterday by members of the Scout committee leading the drive. Funds for Scout work now under way here. In order to make this new arrangement possible the quota for Hayward has been increased from $2000 to $3500.

Leaders in the drive are apparently certain that the sum will be over-subscribed. The Scout move here has been well received by every civic organization, by business men and by individuals generally.

The Rotary Club has adopted Scout work as its major program of work, and has subscribed a sufficient sum to the move to make the increasing of the quota possible.

Checks Up on Traffic Begins at Hayward

HAYWARD, Aug. 30.—The transportation committee of the Hayward Chamber of Commerce today began a collection of statistics from traffic companies connecting this city with Oakland and San Francisco by means of which it is believed that a sufficient need for increased transportation can be shown to bring about an increase. The San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railway company, according to M. A. W. Lee, secretary of the chamber, has already promised additional service.

The increased service promised by the company, Lee said, should start soon. The promise was made late in the spring, and was to be made good in the late summer or early fall. Attempts will be made to secure increased service from the Western Pacific and possibly from the Southern Pacific railroads.

Native Sons Hold Picnic at Hayward

HAYWARD, Aug. 30.—The picnic of the Native Sons of the United States, No. 129, N. S. G. W., held Sunday in Hayward was attended by a large crowd of natives and their friends from all parts of the county. There were a prize fox-trot and athletic features under the direction of Sheriff Frank Barnett and Richard Hamab. The Native Daughters' race was won by Betty Meinert. Other events were won by Tony Peterson and Frank Peterson.

The picnic contest was won by the son of James J. Dignan, grand aide of the N. S. G. W. A banquet followed the picnic at a downtown restaurant. Louis Peroviti was chairman of the evening and the following were present: M. H. Weber, P. Weber, A. Weber, P. Weber, C. Dilse, N. J. Weibert, P. Rosewarne, W. H. Dunlap Sr., W. H. Dunlap Jr., and C. Welen. The wives of the members were also present. Dancing followed the banquet.

Teachers Entertained At Garden Fete

HAYWARD, Aug. 30.—Miss Anne Obermuler was hostess this afternoon at a garden fete and watermelon feed in honor of the teachers of the Hayward grammar schools. The event took place at the home of Miss Obermuler, 722 B street.

Other features planned as entertainment for the teachers during the early weeks of the term are a wienie roast and corn husking party at which the trustees will be hosts.

C. OF C. AT SANTA ROSA MOVES TO ASSIST GROWERS

Appeal Sent Out for Help in Picking Hops, Grapes and Prunes of District.

SANTA ROSA, Aug. 30.—The Santa Rosa Chamber of Commerce has today taken action in an endeavor to relieve the shortage of labor that confronts the growers of hops, prunes and grapes in this section of the state.

It is asserted that 2000 hop pickers could be given employment at once, and as the crop is mature, unless they are obtained the growers will suffer a loss. This condition in the hop fields is similar to that which confronted the growers of Utah and Hopland, according to Chamber of Commerce officials.

As a result of a call sent to the cities about San Francisco bay, many families have recently arrived in this vicinity, and men and their wives and children are finding employment.

Among the inducements held out by the Chamber of Commerce officials are free camping ground and the prospect of work for at least two months.

DEPUTY INVOKES WHEEZE TO KEEP OUT OF FOCUS

SAN JOSE, Aug. 30.—As a jester Deputy Sheriff E. A. Raymond is fast becoming an expert. The witty one of Sheriff George J. Lyle's staff hung on his latest non-plusser this morning as follows:

A photographer was endeavoring to take Sheriff Lyle's picture. Lyle, being somewhat adverse to the camera, declined with thanks, whereupon the photographer pleaded vigorously, declaring that he would be "doctored" for inability to land the picture. This led to Raymond's latest pun when, by way of consolation, he remarked:

"Oh! Don't mind a little thing like that. Just tell your boss that you asked the sheriff and that he replied in the negative."

A few more like that and the jester is going to be unhealthily for Raymond around the county jail.

Couple Celebrate 43d Anniversary

RICHMOND, Aug. 30.—The forty-third anniversary of their wedding was celebrated last Saturday evening when Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Springer entertained a number of relatives and friends at their home, 101 Ohio street. A wedding feast was enjoyed and the aged couple received many presents.

Those present included Mrs. E. Stocker, Mrs. Radick, Mrs. J. Jacobs, all of Richmond; Mrs. E. A. Palmer of Oakland; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Scholl, Mrs. J. Michaels, Mrs. and Mrs. A. Schwartz, Mrs. Ray Jacobs, Mrs. A. P. Munter and daughter, Irene, of San Francisco.

RETURN FROM OUTING PLEASANTON

RICHMOND, Aug. 30.—Larkin J. Younce, cashier of the First National Bank, has returned with Mrs. Younce from a two week's vacation during which they were in Alpine country, then motored to Lake Tahoe and were on their way to Yosemite when an accident to their car forced them to make the trip into the valley from Merced by railway.

Those present included Mrs. E. Stocker, Mrs. Radick, Mrs. J. Jacobs, all of Richmond; Mrs. E. A. Palmer of Oakland; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Scholl, Mrs. J. Michaels, Mrs. and Mrs. A. Schwartz, Mrs. Ray Jacobs, Mrs. A. P. Munter and daughter, Irene, of San Francisco.

RED CROSS CHIEFS ATTEND MEETING

SAN LEANDRO, Aug. 30.—Acting as this city's representatives, the Mesdames B. F. Masch and J. J. McCarthy, and Miss Ruby Mason, chairman, secretary and director, respectively, of the San Leandro Red Cross Chapter, attended the opening of the organization's convention at Berkeley today. A report of the convocation will be made by the representatives before the local members at an early meeting.

Dexter Darling, brother of Omar Darling, San Leandro contractor and builder, arrived in this city today. According to expressed plans, he intends to begin construction on a number of new homes soon.

Farley Granger, secretary of the San Leandro Chamber of Commerce, visited Alvarado today on official business.

A local delegation of baseball fans, consisting of a number of merchants, together with 22 schoolmates from Fremont High school, attended the ball game at Oakland yesterday afternoon to witness the initial appearance of George Sorensen, San Leandro boy, now playing with Salt Lake. The fact that Percy Chavez, 17-year-old local boy, now a member of the Oaks, is playing against Matthews, his chum, will divide the sentiment of the delegation considerably. William Matthews, brother to the ball player, heads the local rooters.

John Fleming, accompanied by his son, Daniel Fleming, returned today from a six weeks' combined business and pleasure trip in the southern part of the state and Mexico. Practically every southern point of interest was visited.

S. P. Warns Youths Not to 'Hop' Trains

SAN LEANDRO, Aug. 30.—A written request from the office of the trainmaster of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, asking that the city marshal's office cooperate with the company in prohibiting the large number of young boys who loiter about the station from jumping on and off of switching trains, has been received here.

Accidents have happened in the past, explained the trainmaster, by the boys climbing under and over the cars while in motion, and unless some action is taken fatalities are liable to result at any time.

The local police have been instructed to maintain a strict watch at the railroad stations in the future, and chase away any young, adventurous youths seen in this immediate locality.

Plans For Fete Made By Native Daughters

SAN LEANDRO, Aug. 30.—Final plans for participation in the Admission Day celebration, to be held at San Jose, Sept. 8, were made at a special meeting of the Native Daughters at the home of Mrs. Addie May Silva, on East Fourteenth street, last night.

It was decided that a large truck, to be appropriately decorated with flags, banners and the organization's colors, would be obtained for the occasion, to be entered into the opening parade.

Fifteen local members, attired in keeping with the nature of the affair, will ride on the truck. Mrs. Mae Sorensen, of Hayward, is chairman of a committee in charge of all arrangements.

Officer to Check School Attendance

SAN LEANDRO, Aug. 30.—Joseph Brown, San Leandro police officer, has secured a new title. Hereafter, in addition to his connection with the city marshal's office, he will be known as the special attendance officer of the San Leandro school district. Appointment was made at a meeting of the local school board. Brown's duties in his new position will be to keep close tab on pupils who fail to make appearance at their classes, particularly those who are known to possess a disinclination to devote their days to educational pursuits.

Images were introduced into various churches about 300 A. D.

HUNTING PARTIES GOING OUT AFTER MULE TAIL DEER

Many Sportsmen Will Take Field in North as Soon as Season Opens.

An army of nimrods will soon be on its way this time in quest of the mule tail deer, the kind that abounds in this section of the State. The hunting season on mule tail deer opens on Friday, the first of September, in District No. 1, which takes in some of the northern mountainous counties.

According to hunters who have been looking over the favorite spots in this district, the outlook is excellent for sport, as many deer have been seen in all of the counties in this district.

The following hunters from here will be on the job bright and early on the opening day: Sid Martin, Charlie O'Donnell, Dick Ward and Frank Wake, Bartels, Eskvoo county; Jack Siltz, Joe Fenton, Bob May, Burney, Shasta county; Alan Hart, Trinity county; George Schaefer, Alturas county; Bill O'Neil, Ed. McCarrick, Earl Pearson, Al Lenz, Henry Speigel, Bill Bunce, E. B. Dampier, and R. B. Weeks, Bullbuck Mountain, Shasta county; Jack Meyers and Frank Lumb, LaPorte, Sierra county; Gus Wilson, C. A. Fitzgerald, Mount Shasta; "Raz" Johnson and A. Moon, Rubicon river, El Dorado county; Everett Crannell and C. Mund, El Dorado county; Bart Burke, Brad Perry, Joe Danner and Gerard Hatheway, Tuolumne county.

DRILL TEAM WORK

RICHMOND, Aug. 30.—Officers and members of the degree team of Richmond Chapter, Order of DeMolay, are urged to be at Masonic hall banquet room this evening at 7:30 o'clock to practice degree work.

The school board will meet tonight and talk over matters pertaining to the demand of the school council for water delivered to the

News Notes of Vallejo And U. S. Navy Yard

VALLEJO, Aug. 30.—Yard officials have been advised that the fleet will not arrive at San Francisco bay until September 5, instead of August 31, as announced a week or so ago. The battleships Oklahoma and Pennsylvania will arrive in the bay, however, before the week is over to be docked at Hunter's Point. As a result of the delay in the arrival of the fleet in the lower bay the U. S. S. Argonne, which is to leave the yard today and at first scheduled to leave for the east on or about the first of the month, will not sail outside the Gate until after the fleet drops anchor in San Francisco bay.

A. W. Wehe, industrial manager of the Vallejo Chamber of Commerce, is home after a visit to Santa Cruz. Wehe says he has several big propositions to place before the local booster body in the near future.

Dr. James W. Brownlie has returned to Vallejo after a two weeks' training course at the Army Medical Corps encampment at Monterey. Dr. Brownlie holds a commission of first lieutenant in the Army Medical Corps.

John Sales had his face cut and right foot sprained Tuesday when his motorcycle and a roadster collided at the corner of Santa Clara and Maine streets.

According to stockholders of the Central California Oil Company the drillers have reached a depth of over 300 feet at the well in Contra Costa County. Many Vallejoites hold stock in the company.

Dr. Robert Dempsey is home after a trip to Alaska and other points in the north.

The job of replacing a broken section of seawall at the north end of the Mare Island station has been started. The sum of $200,000 is to be spent this year on the contract.

The school board will meet tonight and talk over matters pertaining to the demand of the school council for water delivered to the

DENBY EXPECTED AT MARE ISLAND BY NEXT SUNDAY

Naval Secretary's Visit at the Yard Will Be Made a Notable Occasion.

The Commandant of the Twelfth Naval District will arrange for the visit of Secretary of the Navy Edwin Denby to the yard this or next week.

It is believed that the head of the navy department will visit the station on Sunday and if such is the case it will mean that a number of the officers as well as civilian attaches will be unable to make auto trips to various parts of the state as had been intended, as the heads of divisions as well as civilian clerks must be on hand when the secretary comes to the yard on an official visit.

The secretary's visit will be made the occasion of impressive ceremonies.

The navy tug Unadilla is to be sent to San Francisco Friday for the use of the secretary while he is inspecting the various government establishments around the bay, including Mare Island. The head of the navy from all accounts is to spend all of his spare time inspecting the government stations and has accepted but one invitation for a banquet, that of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce.

Supervisor J. B. Thornton underwent an operation for appendicitis yesterday afternoon at the Vallejo General Hospital. He is under the care of Dr. B. J. Klotz, who says he will not be out of danger for at least two more days.

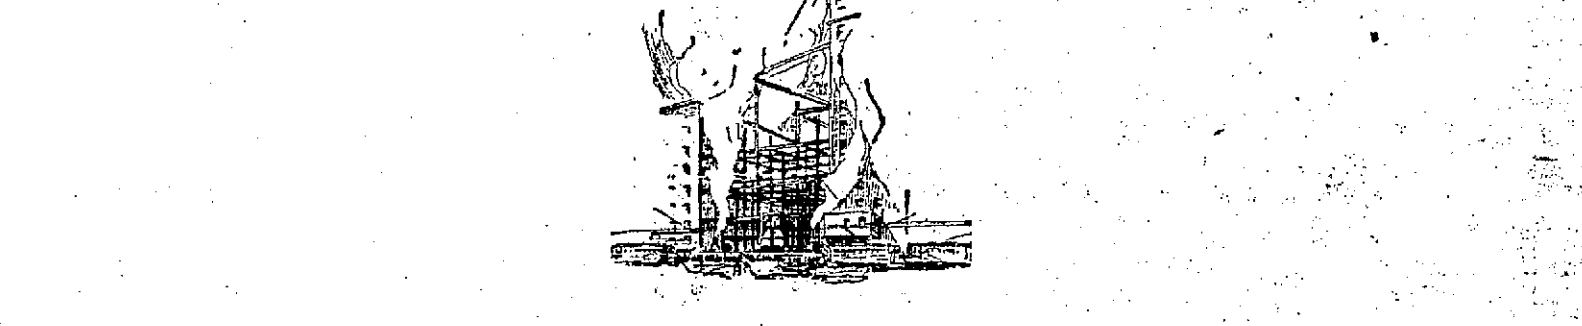

U. S. Checks Up On Livemore Winery

LIVERMORE, Aug. 30.—United States prohibition agents are today checking up the wine supplies of the W. E. Meyers & Co. winery here, as a result, it is said, of discoveries that there is a shortage of some $500,000 in the stock of the concern.

Mrs. Minnie Lea's Funeral Is Held

RICHMOND, Aug. 30.—Funeral services for Minnie Eliza Lea, wife of Finice L. Lea, who died Sunday at her home on Mead street, Stega, were held today from a funeral parlor. The remains were cremated at Sunset View cemetery.

Deceased was a native of California, 52 years old. Besides her husband, she is survived by four children: Beulah R. Forest, F. Louis V. Lea, all of Richmond.

Why the "two words" were dropped from the name of "THE OAKLAND BANK" OF SAVINGS

WHEN the founders of this bank gave it the name, "The Oakland Bank of Savings" fifty-five years ago, they only dreamed that it would one day become the great commercial institution of a throbbing industrial city.

DURING the first forty-five years, while Oakland and "The Oakland Bank of Savings" grew together, the name accurately described the service most needed by the community and consistently rendered by this bank. Between 1900 and 1910, the population of Oakland increased more than 124 per cent. The demand was for homes—and more homes. "The Oakland Bank of Savings" responded to the demands for financing this home building program as only a State savings bank could. It rendered a service matching the needs of the time.

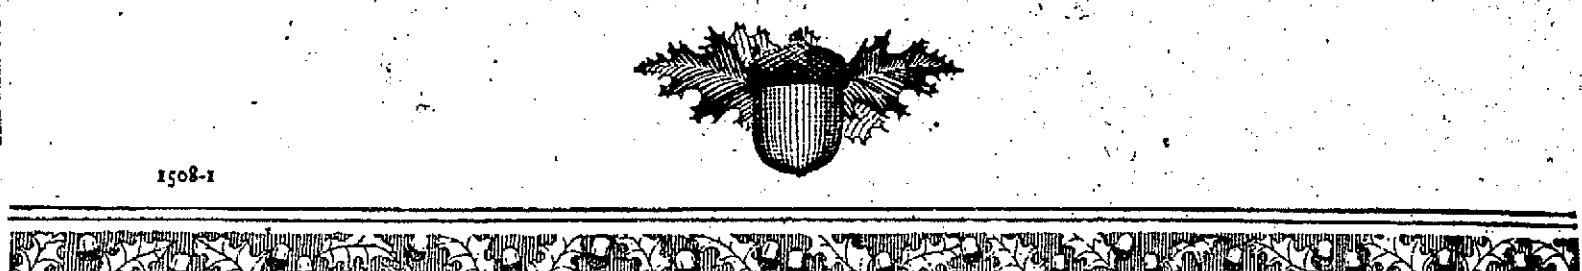

Industrial Growth Begins

THE year 1906 marks the beginning of Oakland's great commercial and industrial expansion. It also marks the beginning of the remarkable growth of this bank's Commercial Department. In the five years prior to 1920, the number of industrial wage earners in Oakland increased 175.3 per cent. The Pacific Coast Shredded Wheat Company and other large industries came to Oakland at the beginning of this period of industrial growth.

JOHN A. HICKS, VINEYARDIST OF SAN JOSE, DIES

Democratic Leader and Former Member of Legislature Closes Career.

SAN JOSE, Aug. 30.—With the death here yesterday of John E. Hicks, pioneer real estate dealer and vineyardist of this city and county, California has lost one of its most prominent figures in political and financial circles, the deceased having been closely affiliated with these circles throughout the active period of his life.

Hicks passed quietly in his rest yesterday morning in the O'Connor sanitarium, where he had been ill for many weeks. He is directly survived by two sons, Leo R. and Raymond A. Hicks. He was 70 years old.

John A. Hicks was one of the early leaders of the Democratic party in California, in 1904 being one of the California delegates to the national Democratic convention at St. Louis, where for many years he was a member of the state central committee of that party and the county central committee here.

He was born in San Francisco in 1852. There he grew to young manhood, graduating in 1871 from St. Ignace college. Following his graduation he entered the commercial field, but later became interested in San Francisco politics. In 1878 he was appointed deputy county recorder there, serving until 1887, when he was elected as San Francisco's representative in the State legislature.

Following his term in the State legislature Hicks became deputy county assessor in San Francisco, thereafter serving two years as special inspector of customs in the United States treasury department there.

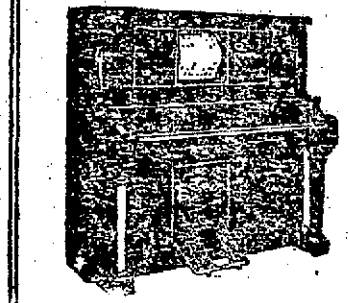

It was in 1886 that John W. Hicks first made his home in San Jose, establishing his office here while in the capacity of deputy internal revenue collector for the coast counties extending from San Mateo to Santa Barbara. In 1890 he entered the real estate and insurance business here. His home has been on The Terrace, Los Gatos since that time. Mr. Hicks leaves large holdings in San Francisco, Santa Cruz, Los Gatos and San Jose, his estate said to be valued at more than $200,000.

Hicks was prominent as a member of the local Knights of Columbus, being a charter member of the San Jose council, founded in 1899. He was a member of the San Jose Chamber of Commerce, the San Jose Realty Board and the Santa Clara county board of underwriters. Funeral services have been arranged for tomorrow, Thursday morning, at 9:30 o'clock, from St. Joseph's church. Interment will be in the family plot in the Los Gatos cemetery, where the deceased's wife, Mrs. Jennie R. Hicks, is buried.

L. A. Pastor Accepts Call to Petaluma

PETALUMA, Aug. 30.—Rev. Henry Stauffer, pastor of the Park Congregational Church at Los Angeles, has accepted a call to the First Congregational Church of this city. Stauffer will arrive here in October. Before going to Los Angeles he was assistant pastor of the Congregational church at Columbus, O. Stauffer succeeds Rev. Farrington of San Francisco, who resigned many months ago.

101 PARLORS TO BE IN PARADE

SAN JOSE, Aug. 30.—A total of 101 parlors of Native Sons and Native Daughters of the Golden West will be in the line of march of the great Native Sons' day parade here September 9, according to a statement here today by local celebration committee members, that number having already signified their intention of being represented in the parade.

Lodi and San Miguel parlors are the latest to announce their participation. It being the first time in twenty years that the latter parlor has taken part. These two parlors will arrive on a special train Saturday morning, September 9, and will detain at Fourth and Santa Clara streets, there to be assigned a place in the parade.

There will be 31 parlors of Native Daughters. It is stated, and a total of 15 bands, 16 drum corps, 21 drill teams and 20 floats to augment the spectacle.

Monkey Bites Off Boy's Second Finger

SANTA CRUZ, Aug. 30.—Weldon Levinson, 23, Bay street, young son of John Levinson, met with a serious accident Sunday at Lavega park, when in company with his father and mother, he suddenly stumbled and stuck his right hand and through the wires of the monkey cage.

One of the monkeys that some boys had been teasing just prior to the time the Levinsons came along, bit the second finger of the boy's right hand off at the joint.

Livermore Chapter Will Entertain

LIVERMORE, Aug. 30.—Semper Fidelis chapter, Order of Eastern Star, will give a motion picture show in the Bell theater here on the evening of September 11, according to announcement. Pictures of the Shrine parade in San Francisco, the Livermore rodeo and the Shriners' transcontinental caravan during its stop in Livermore, will be shown. The general public is invited to the show.

Woman Lawyer Entertained by San Jose Folk

SAN JOSE, Aug. 30.—Miss May Meyer, prominent woman attorney of Washington, D. C., who has been visiting in this city since the recent national convention of the American Bar Association in San Francisco, is the recipient of much attention socially here, a number of events having been carried out in compliment to her. Miss Meyer is a cousin of Henry P. Dusing of this city.

Mrs. Arthur E. Holmes entertained delightfully for the pastern visitor last Saturday, staging a prettily appointed luncheon at Alum Rock lodge, where a coterie of close friends assembled. Other local women to entertain for Miss Meyer have been Mrs. Walter A. Folger, Mrs. A. H. Jarman and Miss Edith Jarman.

Mrs. Kenneth E. Frazier of Oklahoma City, Okla., has been a visitor in this city during the past two weeks, the guest here of Mrs. F. R. Thorwald at the latter's home in South Twentieth street. Mrs. Frazier's stay in San Jose is indefinite.

Former Judge and Mrs. William A. Bessly, who have been touring in all parts of the world during the past year and a half, are at present in Lisbon, according to word received by their friends. They are planning to set sail from that city for Rio de Janeiro in early September, it is stated.

Mrs. Thomas L. Blanchard and Miss Florence Carder, well known in San Jose social circles, have returned to this city from a pleasant vacation outing at The Cedars.

Mrs. Flora Rankin is once more occupying her home here, having returned from a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Repetto, in San Francisco.

Miss Gladys Holmes of Los Angeles has been the house guest here of her cousin, Mrs. A. E. Holmes, for the past fortnight. Miss Holmes has in turn been the guest of Mr. William Holmes and Miss Gladys at the Hotel Stewart, San Francisco.

BENICIA NOTES

BENICIA, Aug. 30.—The school enrollment this year is ahead of last year both in the high and grammar branches. The grammar school enrollment is 360, with thirty-two pupils from out of town schools attending this year. Miss Huddard who has charge of the Kindergarten work, will also take care of the drawing for the grammar grades.

Mrs. F. Prader spent the week end with relatives in San Jose.

Miss Schaefer, the Red Cross Nurse, has started a class for the high school boys in "first aid." It is also planned to start classes both in the school and for the young ladies of Benicia soon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Chisholm, Otto Singler and W. L. Crooks returned from Strawberry Friday after several months vacation.

John A. Wilcox of San Francisco transacted business Monday.

H. J. Hoffman of San Francisco was a business visitor in Benicia Monday.

NOTED EDUCATOR ADDRESSES CLUB

SAN JOSE, Aug. 30.—Dr. Henry Suzzallo, nationally known president of the University of Washington and a graduate of the local high school and State Teachers college here, addressed members of the San Jose Rotary club at that organization's weekly luncheon in the Hotel Edwards.

Dr. Suzzallo, suffering from a cold, was to speak only briefly. He is here enjoying a short vacation, visiting with his many friends here.

Questioned as to whether or not he is contemplating acceptance of the presidency of the University of California, Dr. Suzzallo said: "I would prefer not to be interviewed on that matter. There is no other motive to my visit here, however, than to take a brief vacation and rest."

Pastor Speaks At Lions' Luncheon

SAN JOSE, Aug. 30.—Rev. Frank W. Linder, pastor of the local First Methodist church, is the speaker of the day today at the weekly luncheon of the San Jose Lions club, to be held in the Commercial club banquet hall. The preacher is to bring an inspirational message on the advancement of the city along civic lines generally.

Cub Robert Borchers is to act as chairman of today's meeting, and is promising an interesting social program, punctuated by plenty of music.

The Lions club is at present considering several movements for the good of the community, among them being fire prevention, a buy-at-home campaign, immigration movement, Boy Scout and Camp Fire Girls movement, helping eighth grade graduates to enter the high schools, and the question of law violations. Dr. Linder will touch upon this latter subject today.

Turlock Merchants To Close For Fair

TURLOCK, Aug. 30.—Arrangements are practically completed for the Hinar fair, which will be held on Wednesday and Thursday. This year's fair is expected to surpass the one held last year in both numbers in attendance and exhibits. A crowd of 10,000 was present last year during a rainstorm. One of the big events will be a race between the Fords of the vicinity. The Turlock merchants have all agreed to close Thursday afternoon and give their employees a chance to attend the affair.

POLICE SEEKING ASSAILANT OF SAN JOSE GIRL

Ruffian Strikes and Tears Clothing of Victim Before Cries Bring Aid.

SAN JOSE, Aug. 30.—Police of this city today are endeavoring to locate a man who last night waylaid and attacked Miss Marie Pasetta of 62 East Julian street. He was frightened away when the girl's screams attracted neighbors in the vicinity of Second and Julian streets, where the incident occurred.

Police officers who investigated the attack found Miss Pasetta in a hysterical condition, her nose bleeding freely from a blow from the fist of the ruffian and her face bruised. Her clothing was torn. The man had stepped from behind a tree, grasped the girl and thrown her to the pavement, where he struck her and attempted to choke her. He had fled as the girl's cries brought assistance, and succeeded in eluding the officers, who scoured all parts of the neighborhood.

Miss Pasetta was returning home from work at O'Brien downtown confectionery store.

Old People's Home Project Discussed

TURLOCK, Aug. 30.—A meeting of the Chamber of Commerce the question of a Swedish old people's home was taken up. The Swedish church has been contemplating the erection of such a home for some time, and they had practically decided to locate on Hillman, but now there is a movement to have the home in Turlock. A committee was named to investigate the matter. At the same meeting another committee was named to inquire into the reason why so much of the Turlock trade was going outside of the city. Dr. F. Lane will control the investigations of the city.

If you see it in The TRIBUNE tell them so.

Auxiliary Women Prepare Program at San Jose

SAN JOSE, Aug. 30.—Women of San Jose and Santa Clara are making lavish preparations for their reception next week to several thousand members of the American Legion Auxiliary of California, which is to meet in State convention here simultaneously with the American Legion on September 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8. Prominent women from all parts of California are anticipated at the conference.

Presented herewith is the program as tentatively outlined for the auxiliary convocation, this being its first publication:

Program of the third annual convention of the American Legion Auxiliary:

Monday, September 4, 7:30 p. m.—Meeting of Credential Committee.

Tuesday, September 5, 9:30 a. m.—First session: Opening of convention by President Florence E. Kelly; opening prayer by Martha Decker, department chaplain; address of welcome by C. B. Goodwin, city manager, San Jose, address by Hon. W. D. Stephens, Governor of California.

Boy Grasps Axle of Truck to Save Life

LOS GATOS, Aug. 30.—Whitford A. Trow, 16 years old, doubtless owes his life today to his agility in grasping the axle of the truck by which he was run down yesterday, thereby preventing the full weight of the heavy vehicle from passing over his body. Trow was riding a bicycle on First street when the truck, driven by Luis Keane of the Young Transfer company, ran into his wheel. Although Trow partially saved himself, it is feared that he suffered internal injuries.

Election Clerks Quit Posts; Reprimanded

SAN RAFAEL, Aug. 30.—After arguing between themselves for an hour over the method of counting ballots, Cornelius Murray and Manuel Dias, election clerks, closed their booth at Las Gaitinas, five miles from here, drove to San Rafael together in a buggy last night and laid their dispute before County Clerk Robert E. Graham for decision.

"Both of you are wrong in not having those ballots counted and in this office a long time ago," was Graham's decision.

FAMILY BARELY ESCAPES FROM BURNING HOME

Seven Compelled to Flee in Nightclothes as House in San Jose Blazes

SAN JOSE, Aug. 30.—Seven members of the W. H. McMin family, residing at 577 University avenue, this city, last night had a narrow escape from death when fire which broke out in the lower floor of their two-story home almost shut off their avenue of escape. Several of the five children of the household escaped with their night clothes on fire, terrified as they ran through the house.

None of the property of the McMinns was saved, they having just time to escape with their lives. A 13-year-old boy of the family discovered the fire and aroused his parents and the remaining children.

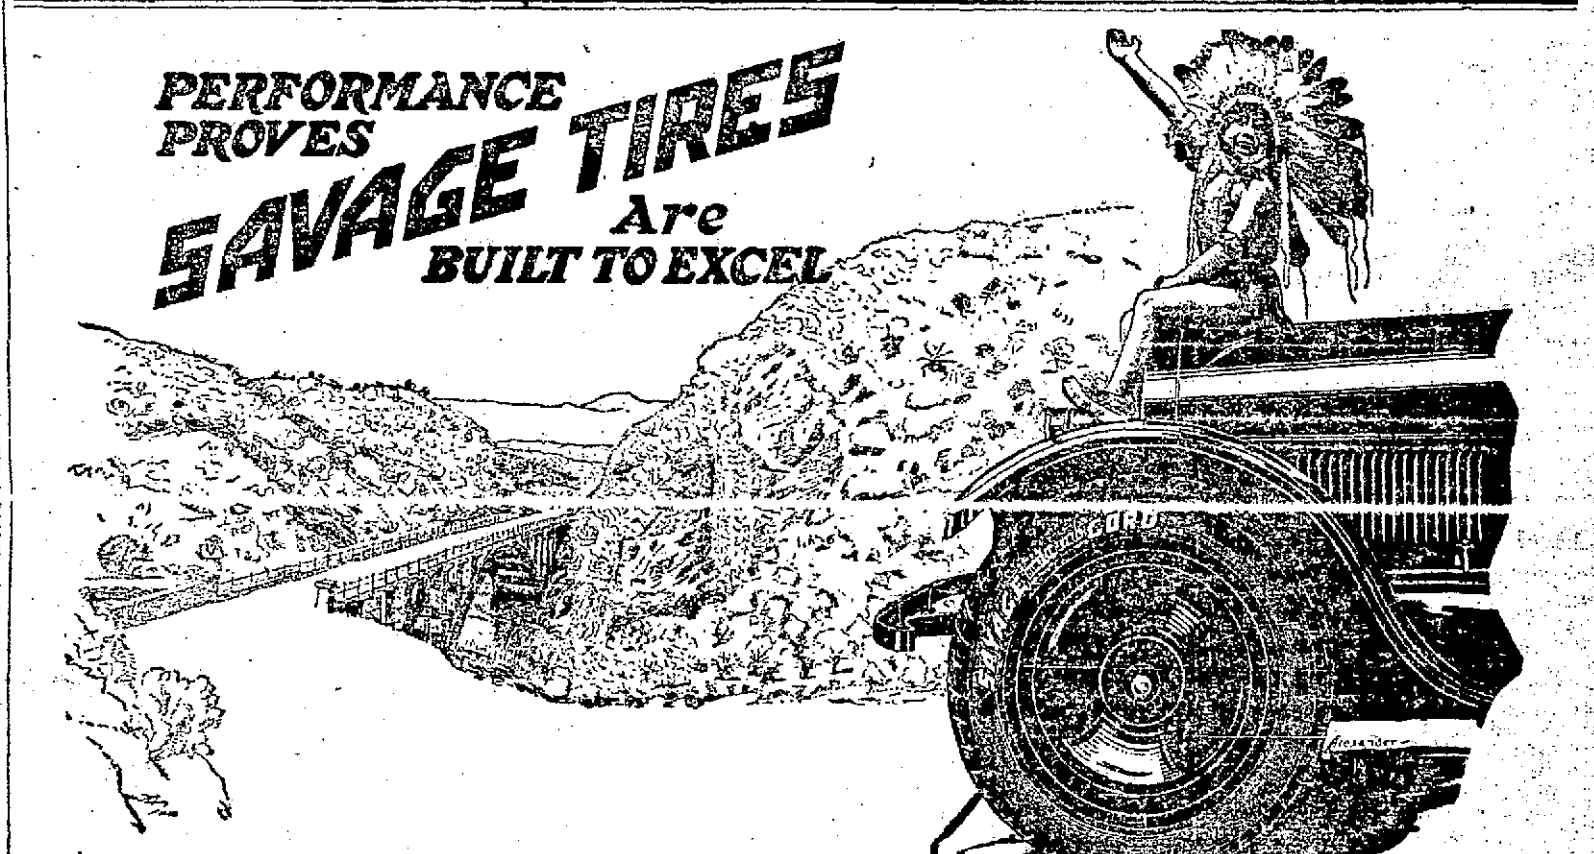

The fire broke out in the kitchen of the house from some unknown cause and spread rapidly toward the front. The home was completely destroyed. It being outside the city limits and away from fire protection.

Santa Cruz Schools Enroll 652 Pupils

SANTA CRUZ, Aug. 30.—The registration at the end of the first day at the high school was the biggest in the history of the school. It reached 652, of which 245 were freshmen.

Principal Bond says the total registration will without doubt reach 775.

The new teachers are: Miss Eudora from Nevada City, commercial; Lillian Brown of Orland, physical education for girls; Miss Knappe of Los Angeles, Spanish; English and civics, Miss Mildred Taylor, Sutter Creek, English; Mr. Whitlock from Polytechnic high, San Luis Obispo, history and civics; Mr. Levy, Fresno, chemistry; Mr. Streeter, Los Gatos, printing; Miss Liles, after two years' study at Columbia, returns to her work, domestic arts.

IN IMPERIAL VALLEY, CALIFORNIA

A country in the process of tremendous development cannot tend to everything at once. Roads are usually heavily traveled, and usually, too, are not, for the most part, greatly improved. The Imperial Valley is in that stage—developing rapidly—severely testing, meanwhile, the rubber equipment of automobiles.

The heat of this reclaimed desert, so far as tires are concerned, is a problem in itself. All in all, then, Imperial Valley is not a country adapted to great tire mileage.

Under these adverse conditions, Savage Tires are performing remarkably well—showing conclusively the stuff they are made of.

In Road Construction Work

Cars of the Highway Commission are equipped with Savage Tires. As occasion demands, these machines are dispatched without regard for mechanism or road builders' outfits. In this service our product is rendering from 3000 to 5000 miles greater mileage than has been received from any other make of tire ever used.

Through sheer performance ability the Savage Cord is a favorite with "the guardians of the ditches" who drive along the irrigation canals, inspecting them for leaks or damage. Traversing roads "alongside the ditches, left rough and uneven by the excavated material dumped from dredges, often flooded to the depth of a foot, our tires plow and navigate through, giving excellent service and maximum mileage—the most important consideration under these trying conditions.

On Stage Runs

Operating over the mountains to San Diego and return, stage line operators have received from Savage Cords as high as 65% greater mileage than the best mileage secured from other makes.

The Reason

The performance of our Cord tire is attributed largely to the seventeen outstanding constructional features our engineers put into that product. Other good makes of tires embody one or more of these same features, but no other tire that we know of begins to embody them all.

Almost any tire will give satisfactory service under ideal conditions. Some makes will even render satisfactory service under certain adverse conditions. Certain makes of tires will perform best on long drives over pavements, other makes will show to better advantage on dirt highways—and so it goes.

Our object has been to build Savage Tires to perform equally well under every condition—on the short haul of the heavily laden commercial car, on the heated roads of the sandy desert, over mud and stones of the land of forests or the broad dirt highways of the plains.

That we have accomplished our purpose is evident from the results users of Savage Tires are getting—everywhere.

THE ARGONAUT FIRE

Penned in the depths of a mine by a fire which burned hundreds of feet over their heads, exhausted the oxygen, and prevented the entrance of any fresh air forty-three men, in the full knowledge of their predicament, waited the sound of approaching rescuers. On the surface, dropping down to the fire which grew in volume and sent choking fumes up the long shaft, men made frantic struggle against time and overwhelming obstacles. From a nearby mine a party of hard-rock men drilled and blasted to remove a concrete sealing wall. If they got through, they were told, it might help and it might make things worse.

The disaster which brings sudden death and leaves its tragic story in the open cannot stir the sympathies and will-to-aid as does one of the kind which is drawing a sorrowing and horrified attention to the Argonaut mine at Jackson. The picture of men lying quiet to conserve the precious air, men resigned to their fate yet holding to life and a faint hope, is one to tear at the heart. How futile are those who senny about to see nothing is left undone! How ready are fellow miners, a shoe clerk, a cigar-stand man, to risk their lives!

To those wives and mothers who have stood by the smoking mouth of the mine, stood in their kitchen aprons as they come from work with the word of the accident, the heart of the country has gone out. It is easy to form hasty judgments. There are many, already, who have placed the blame.

The time for the fixing of responsibility is after all the facts are in. If there are any lessons to be learned from the Argonaut fire they should be applied at once toward preventing any repetition. If men must give their lives in accidents like this it is due them that out of the sacrifice comes something for the protection of their fellows. Let there be a sane and sober sitting of all of the facts.

Contra Costa county is getting ready to participate for the first time in the State Fair. If the farmers and cities get together there should be little trouble in assembling an exhibit which, for variety and quality, should attract statewide attention.

WASTING OIL RESOURCES

In ten years no less than 12,850,000 barrels of oil were destroyed by fire in the United States. In the last three years $13,951,121 was the loss from oil tank and refinery fires. These are the reasons why, at last, "something is going to be done."

A fire is doubly destructive when it removes something which cannot be replaced. The wasting of oil means the time when the fields can no longer supply the demands is brought so much nearer. No one believes the oil in the ground is going to last forever. The Bureau of Mines, and others, have conducted investigations concerning the causes of the tank fires and means to prevent them. In the majority of instances lightning set the blaze.

The bolt of lightning does not slip from the sky, hit the tank, and start a fire. Generally it strikes somewhere near a tank and the static charges in nearby structures are unified. At many points where the electrical contact is poor sparks leap the gaps. Sometimes this is between the wooden roof and the steel sides of an oil tank and the spark leaps into inflammable vapor. Then, if the tank is not built tight, there is a flash and a new fire.

The National Board of Fire Underwriters have urged that the tanks be built of steel and concrete and made air-tight. The Petroleum Institute is taking up the question and it is predicted millions of dollars will be saved by a program to be put under way.

Mills College year opens with twenty-five new faculty members. The growth of this college to a place of undisputed leadership among women's colleges of the west and its recognition by the colleges of the country is something in which California and the Eastbay may find cause for pride. Mills College will grow just as fast as it will be allowed to grow. There are enough young women from all parts of the country who wish to come to Oakland and this college to tax the capacity of all those buildings contemplated in the endowment program of the institution. The community may welcome these young people and, in many cases, their parents, any time it encourages Mills College to the growth its attainment and popularity demand.

NARCOTIC LAWS INEFFECTIVE?

An end to confusion regarding the enforcement of the Harrison Narcotic law and opportunity for proving or disproving charges which have been made against certain small groups of medical men and pharmacists is promised in a House resolution demanding Congressional investigation.

This resolution, known as 258, has the endorsement of the American Medical Association and "The Druggists' Circular." It declares there are upwards of two million narcotic addicts in the United States and that the situation has created a menace to the physical and moral welfare of the nation. That this situation has been "further aggravated by the administration of existing laws," and there is "an organized conspiracy on the part of certain administrators and physicians to drive narcotic addicts into established sanitaria purporting to treat and cure narcotic addiction," are declarations demanding attention. New addicts are being created by the very laws intended to curb the use of narcotics, according to this resolution.

The medical association and the pharmacists were quick to give their support to the resolution which concludes with the proposal that a committee of Congressmen inquire into all phases of the subject. They declare that, in their opinion much of the present evil is the result of ill-advised administration of the law.

The charges in the House resolution and in the endorsing resolution of the American Medical Association are sufficiently grave to warrant prompt inquiry.

PORT PLANNING

Port planning is a recognized phase of city planning. With the introduction of new devices and the growth of new ports, a problem listed among those of insistent demands for solution is that of the reorganization of harbor facilities.

If the ports of the world possessed standard equipment and similar terminal methods, disposal of freight would be more rapid, ships could make return trips sooner after arrival, and costs of carrying would be reduced. Mariners know no two ports are alike. They know there is a need for improvement in most of the places where vessels load and unload and that, with this improvement, many of the problems of the cargo carrier would be solved.

Next month the American Association of Port Authorities will meet in Toronto and the subject of port standardization will be the principal one discussed. It is a problem of many difficulties as it involves the expenditure of money by cities, states and nations.

If a bill before Congress is given passage postage stamp collectors will be saved worry and labor and a new impetus will be given to that form of collecting. The bill would permit reproductions of stamps in the albums and do away with the difficulties which have attended the finding of the proper squares in the books. Philatelists, in urging this bill, urge that it is difficult to describe stamps without pictures. It is said considerable pressure is being brought to bear in favor of the measure, a pressure which may indicate the size of the stamp-collector vote.

Altogether original was the Detroit magistrate's method of determining how he should regard a man charged with cruelty. The charge was that the man had beaten his six-year-old stepson with a strap. The magistrate held out his hand and had a blow struck upon it with the same strap. He was thus able to judge of the value of the defendant's testimony, that he only administered "slight taps." As the slight taps discolored the victim's flesh the magistrate felt that he had a fair pointer as to their slowness, and acted accordingly.

BLOWING ACROSS AMERICA.

The Scientific American thinks that somewhere in the upper reaches of the air there is an eastern wind movement of high velocity. It cites the experience of Major R. W. Schneider, who flew six miles above the earth and headed his plane due west. He rose at Dayton, flew for one and one-half hours at 100 miles an hour and landed 200 miles east of Dayton. This indicated a gale from the west of about 300 miles an hour at the altitude reached. Subsequent high flights give evidence that this wind movement is constant and approximates 250 miles an hour.

Major Schneider now suggests that a practical use could be made of this wind. He would go up at San Francisco until he was about seven miles above the earth. Then he would head due east with the gale at his back. The air line distance from San Francisco to New York is about 2600 miles and it is believed that the combined speed of the plane and the advantage given by the wind would give a rate of 345 miles an hour. This would permit the flier to travel from San Francisco to New York in eight hours. There would be danger of freezing to death en route and special planes would have to be constructed but the Scientific American says that "if some daring pioneer like Major Schneider should demonstrate that the thing is possible, we have no doubt that the means of carrying passengers in safety would be forthcoming and as well the passengers to be carried. It would be quite a sensation to breakfast in San Francisco and dine the same evening in New York. Unfortunately the return trip could hardly be made in the same time."—Indianapolis News.

Have you ever read any of those poems which have been translated from the Chinese and Japanese by more or less celebrated Americans? And do you think them alluringly wonderful, pliantly chic or tommyish rot? It is our opinion, long withheld by a cowardly sense we were not rising to heights expected of the average reader, there has been more hokum than hokku in this Oriental stuff. We do not dispute the art in the original, their effects and their meanings to the Chinese and Japanese, but we do maintain nine out of ten of the translations put forward with pretence and soft tones, mean nothing at all. It was but the other day a Chinese poet remarked he had never seen chop suey in China and would not recognize from any of the translations anything even faintly resembling Chinese poetry. Right then a whole lot of us who have been making solemn gestures of acceptance toward the hokku verse found belated courage. Many things are foisted on the public in the name of art and very seldom is one brave enough to voice disapproval. If it has not been for this Chinese poet who uttered a submerged protest we might be puzzling today over the newest hokku translation and seeking to convince ourselves it was good. Isn't it probable a little more courage of conviction would rout a freakish front of fakes?

It may be pointed out the tree, unlike the pedestrian, cannot dodge and is without power of recourse to the autist. When this thing is carried out and the tree is given the rights to which it is entitled the public may find a little time to urge similar measures for the protection of men and women.

NOTES and COMMENT

Kansas City Times: "They are passing the hat for justice in Illinois. Public justice having broken down in the twentieth century and in one of the greatest states of the nation, the citizens are compelled to fall back on private justice. Government being helpless, or unwilling, or afraid, or incompetent to perform the first of its functions—that of administering justice in the state, the people had to recall its delegated powers and act to protect itself. What has government in Illinois to say to this? What has government in America to say to a 'HerrifWeek' drive for funds to prosecute murderers immune from public justice?"

Washington Star: "A dispatch from Chicago states that 'the nation's biggest class of Ku Klux klansmen—4690 candidates—was initiated just outside of Chicago late last night. The rites were held in a great field, hundreds of automobiles being parked in a big circle a quarter of a mile in diameter.' It is said that the ceremonies were witnessed by 25,000 persons. The number of klans in Chicago is put at eighteen, while the number in Cook county outside the city limits is put at twelve."

Kansas City Star: "Senator Pomeroy reports with emotion to the Ohio Democratic convention that the Republican party has broken its campaign pledges of two years ago. There is nothing that distresses a Democratic candidate more than to have the Republicans break their pledges."

New York Sun: "Feminists who think the part of women in business life hurtful will find little to support their belief in recent findings of the Retail Credit Men's National association. 'Dead beats' of the feminine gender are becoming decidedly fewer, and not even the recent period of financial depression halted the progress of the race toward a period of 100 per cent payment of debts. The latest survey of the Retail Credit Men's association women have learned in business may well account for this decrease."

Boston Globe: "The straw vote of the Literary Digest on prohibition shows a decided sentiment in favor of modification, but we are not particularly encouraged, because an earlier vote conducted by the same magazine indicated the opinion that Joseph Hergesheimer was the most distinguished author developed in America within the last decade. A community which thinks that Mr. Hergesheimer is the best of its living novelists is pretty sure to remain dry."

Madison Mail-Tribune: "Signs of anarchy are materializing throughout the land, and the anarchists have for their laudable purpose the seizure of the army and the navy, and the remodeling of America into a Russia. People should not be hasty in condemning an organization they know nothing about, and withhold judgment until they know the facts. They are brothers in the Bank."

New York Globe: "In his constructive proposals for legislation dealing with the emergency revealed by the coal and railroad strikes President Harding is essentially sound. His program will be openly opposed or reluctantly accepted by the economic reactionaries of both parties in Congress and out, but for all this it is based on justice and upon reason."

Trying to get another woman's husband is not so amazingly new, but doing it with the alleged endorsement of the man's mother is what gives the San Francisco story a startlingly strange newness that is unwholesome. By EDGAR A. GUEST

INJUSTICE.
My boy, when you shall older grow,
There's much which you shall come to know.
You shall discover, as you learn,
Strange things at every twist and turn,
And you shall hear, as on you pass,
Class bitterly denouncing class,
And all an outcry of discontent,
Supported well by argument;
Nor will the truth be very clear
In all the heated speech you'll hear.

You'll see the strong oppress the weak,
The powerful trample down the meek,
And dreaming that the world is fair,
With good men smiling everywhere,
You'll wonder, as you older grow,
Whether this life is good or no,
You will be torn from side to side,
Find rottenness decaying pride,
And see ingratitude destroy
The very fountains of its joy.

For ages long all human thought
This constant strife of class has fought,
Injustice revels rampant here
And difficult is thinking clear,
For in the tumult and the shout
At times your best of friends you'll doubt.

For they will very often do
What seems a vicious thing to you,
But you will note that every plan
Is to reform the other man.

Be true yourself, my boy, and give
Your neighbor every right to live,
Be fair, be honest, brave, and strong,
And certain that you do no wrong.
For laws, nor force, nor argument,
Will end the storm of discontent,
The hope of justice lies with you,
In all you are and all you do,
That is your purpose and your trust,
That you shall never be unjust.

about YOUR HEALTH

What You Ought to Do To Find Cause of Backache.
By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D., Commissioner of Health, New York City.

Where is there a woman in the world who does not at some time or another suffer from backache? While this symptom is not monopolized by women, it is almost universal among the gentler sex, and is comparatively infrequent in men. In many cases it is due to some trouble with the pelvic organs. In these, attention to the primary condition will bring relief.

Woman's troubles are not so hard and tiresome as those of men. Consequently, the gentler sex is more liable to suffer from fatigue. One of the first places a woman feels fatigue is the back.

Perhaps one of the most frequent factors in producing backache is the faulty footwear some women wear. It is amazing what relief from backache and neckache follows proper adjustment of the shoes. The height of the heels has a decided effect on the alignment of the spine and the carriage of the trunk. Muscle strain is produced by the abnormal position. When the ten million men were examined in selective draft, it was a surprise to discover how many had flat feet. This weakness of the foot may be responsible for pains in the legs and in the back. When the backache is due to flat-foot, it may be overcome sometimes by the following exercise:

Rise on the toes, roll the weight to the outer side of the feet, and then drop the feet flat on the floor. Repeat these exercises for five minutes twice a day. Continued for some time, this method will help to correct the flat-foot, and may relieve the backache.

Chronic constipation is another cause for backache. Until the intestine is emptied the symptoms may continue.

The absorption of pus from teeth, tonsils or other organs may produce muscular pains here and there, including backache. Eye-strain may have neckache and shoulderache among other symptoms.

Kidney disease, lumbago, floating kidney, diabetes and various other conditions may produce backache. Trouble with the backbone, such as inflammation, fracture, displacement and curvature of the spine, is another cause for backache.

Ulcer and cancer of the stomach, hemorrhoids, and other deep-seated inflammations may result in backache.

Don't endure backache forever. Find out what is wrong and have the trouble corrected.

ALASKAN SHOPPING TOUR.

Archie Rice, formerly of California, has written the following to the New York Herald: "The assignment to visiting work in Alaska of one of the first two Red Cross nurses to be maintained by the Jane Delano memorial fund suggests a little incident of life in the Arctic region."

"Molly, known to all early sourdoughs in back of Nome, lived on Dexter creek. She was the daughter of a great warrior chief of a tribe that went to war so often that only Molly and her sister Emma and their mother remained of that tribe. Molly, being married and a mother, had three blue-black tattoo marks radiating down from the middle part of her lower lip.

"Molly and her husband, and Emma were being hospitable, and the husband was telling me how it was with distant Alaskan Indians in the matter of trade."

"For a silver gray fox skin he had traded recently a Winchester rifle and 200 cartridges to an Indian who had come on snowshoes from a place 800 miles inland and to the eastward. The Indian had left the fox skin and gone back, taking the rifle and cartridges. But the buyer could not be certain for weeks of permanent possession in such trades."

"About two months later that Indian returned with the rifle and cartridges protectively wrapped and unused. He placed them on the floor, remarked simply 'Squaw no like,' motioned that he wanted his silver gray fox skin back and departed. Altogether that Indian had traveled about 3200 miles, or as far as from New York to San Francisco on that shopping expedition, and because 'Squaw no like' the trade was off. It is into that kind of woman rule country that Miss Bertha R. Stevens is going as emergency nurse in a district of vast distances."

"Travin" related this incident of "your money back if not satisfied," Molly's husband said something in Eskimo to Molly. She, with a grin and after a few moments' "read out for my amazed inspection a bedrobe, about nine feet long by about six feet wide, and the entire thing sewed by Molly and all of it made of ermine skins. I did not ask, 'Squaw no like,' but assumed that in some respects the female of the species is not so very different in the Arctic clime from her sister in more civilized circles where extravagance rules."

NOT TO BE FORGOTTEN.

"Could you let me have a vesper spot for a few days?" asked Blithersby, in a confidential whisper. "Here it is," shouted Mr. Grumpson at the top of his voice.

"Thanks, but why so loud?" "I was hoping I'd be able to impress the transaction on your memory,"—Birmingham Age-Herald.

COLLEGES MEET TO NAME DATE FOR ANNUAL FOOTBALL GAME

UMPIRES ARE NOT GIVING PITCHERS THE CORNERS THIS YEAR, ASSERTION OF BABE RUTH

SANTA CLARA-SANT MARY'S GAME MAY BE ARRANGED TODAY

Nevada and O. C. Men Attending Meeting; California Inter-Class Practice Starts.

By DOUG MONTELL

Delegates from the University of Nevada, Santa Clara University, the Olympic Club and St. Mary's College are scheduled to meet this afternoon at St. Mary's College to attempt a readjustment of the football schedules of the four teams involved so as to permit St. Mary's and Santa Clara to meet on the gridiron this fall. This information was conveyed in word late yesterday and indicates that Santa Clara and St. Mary's, having agreed on the date that would be most acceptable for such a game, are now in a position to carry on negotiations for a peaceable release from contracts binding them with other teams on the date agreed upon. No official word has been received as to which date is desired, but it is significant that St. Mary's has a game scheduled with the Olympic Club for November 19th in San Francisco and with Nevada on November 30th in San Francisco.

One of these two dates are being sought and inasmuch as Santa Clara will be able to meet St. Mary's on either date selected the meeting today will resolve itself into a matter of financial negotiations. It is not expected that St. Mary's will seek to drop either the Olympic club or the University of Nevada from their schedule, merely seeking a different date, probably on an earlier date in the season for which every team will make the change.

California Starts Inter-Class Work.

Football practice has started at California. Active work in preparation for the annual inter-class series started yesterday with over two hundred and fifty candidates for positions on the four rival eleven out in suits. The training quarters reported that 237 sets of equipment had been issued up to last night with more turning out daily. This constitutes a record number for an inter-class tournament and is indicative of increasing enthusiasm with the approach of the date of the first workout for the Varsity squad. Unusual interest centers around the workouts preparatory for the inter-class series this year on account of the rumors regarding the quality of the entering freshman material.

Varsity squad men freshmen of last year are debared from participation in the workouts going on at present, the Pacific Coast Conference opening date for practice being set for September 15. In the meantime the class teams will have the assistance of the veterans as coaches. Andy Smith, Boles Rosenthal, and others are being barred from appearing on the field in the role of coaches until the date for the first scheduled practice.

Freshmen Have Eleven Coaches.

It would appear that the freshmen are to have a coach for every position on the team, eleven in all, having been chosen by the Babes. Instruct them in the mysteries of the gridiron while the juniors Evanville, Ind. The ceremony will worry along with three, the sophomores two and the seniors a like number. The freshmen coaching staff for the inter-class series will be composed of the following varsity men from last year's squad: Don Nichols, "Fat" Clark, "Brick" Muller, Bob Berkey, Stew Beam, Duke Morrison, Archie Nisbet, Mugs Van Sant, Bill Gallagher and Best.

First Year Men Picked to Win.

Last year the inter-class series was won by the seniors coached by Brodie Stephens while the then sophomores were close seconds in the race. The dopesters have narrowed the coming inter-class series down to a battle between the seniors and freshmen, the freshmen being picked to win from the sophomores on account of the large number of experienced prep school stars who will be available to make up the first year eleven, many of them coming from Berkeley high.

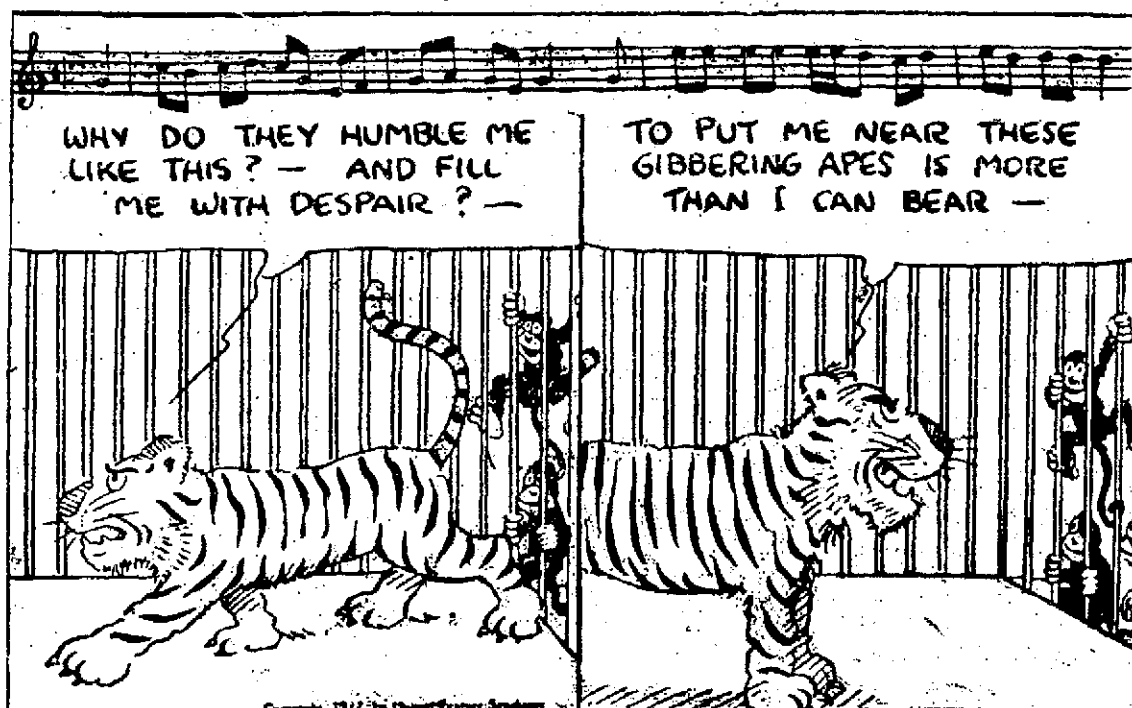

The experienced seniors are rated over the juniors in the initial tilt which will take place this Saturday and the final game the following week should bring together the freshmen and seniors.

While Andy Smith and Nibs Price will not be able to take any part in the work of the next two weeks they will be perched up on the bleachers taking it all in and watching their charges "do their stuff" as coaches.

GOLF FACTS worth knowing

by INNIS BROWN

Q. Where a player stops his partner's ball in a four-ball match, does the side lose the hole because of this?

A. No. Only the player whose ball is stopped is disqualified for further competition on that hole.

Q. Is there any penalty if a player steps on and mashes down a lump of loose dirt on the putting green?

A. Yes. The player loses the hole in match play and two strokes in medal play. The rules provide that such an obstacle must be lifted.

Q. What is the rule where a player involuntarily hits the ball lightly then hits it again before it stops moving?

A. Both strokes count. In other words there is a penalty of one stroke, considering that his intention was really that of playing one stroke.

Q. Please give a decision in the following case. A and B are playing a match while playing one hole of the course which runs practically parallel to another. B sliced his ball into the rough between the two. Just before he reaches the ball a player, playing the other hole, plays a ball from near where B thought his ball stopped. He found a ball, but was not certain that it was his and called to the other player.

The latter requested B to throw the ball to him, saying he could positively identify his ball. B did so, and the other player said it did not belong to him. B then replaced the ball and played it. Did he incur any penalty?

A. No. A player has the right to lift his ball for identification, if he is in doubt as to its identity.

Q. Is a player entitled to lift a ball from a hoof print left on the fairway by a horse used to draw a mowing machine?

A. No. However, the rules recommend that, if such hoof prints are at all prevalent owing to location, a local rule to that effect be adopted.

If any golf rules puzzle you, write Innis Brown, care of our sporting editor, enclosing stamped return envelope.

Women Athletes Protest Decision

PARIS, Aug. 30.—(By The Associated Press).—The protest of the Americans against the placing of the American team, fourth in the 400 yards relay in the women's Olympic games at Pershing stadium August 29, has been endorsed by the French Feminine Athletic Federation. The federation recommended that the Czech-Slovakian team, which was guilty of interference, be "disqualified" and that France be placed second, the United States third and Czech-Slovakia fourth.

Bambino Says Umpires Fair In American

Yank Hurlers Are Hurt When "Guessers" Do Not Allow Corners

By BABE RUTH

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—I see by the papers that Commissioner Kenesaw Mountain Landis, the supreme dictator of organized baseball, is receiving many complaints about the umpiring in the major leagues this season. The appointment and the assignment of umpires is outside the province of the commissioner's office, yet according to one report Mr. Landis has received no less than 10,000 letters charging the arbitrators with everything from incompetence to bribery.

The latter charge may be dismissed as utterly absurd for there is not the slightest doubt in my mind that the umpires of the American League at any rate are absolutely honest and "call 'em as they see 'em" regardless of the effect of their decisions for or against any club. Of course, I can speak from hearsay only in regard to the National League umpires, but it is my sincere belief that they, too, are above reproach in this respect.

UMPS EFFICIENT.
That some of the American League gentlemen should be more efficient than others goes without saying. Billy Evans is a few and far between and it isn't to be expected that every member of Ban Johnson's staff should be as capable as he. Some of the others are not far behind, however, and it is my peculiar notion that the umpiring in the American League this year is better, on the whole, than at any other time within the span of my major league experience.

Evans has been called the "perfect umpire" and in my opinion he is all of that. He seldom makes a mistake in his judgment on strikes and balls, his calling of plays on the bases is practically 100 per cent perfect and in his case exceptional ability is coupled with splendid tact and a temperamental worthy of a diplomat. Unlike some umpires I could name, Evans will acknowledge a mistake when he makes one, but does it in such a way that it does not weaken his hold on the situation or impair the respect in which he is held by the players.

DON'T GET CORNERS.
One complaint the Yankee pitchers have registered against the umpires this year is that they do not "give" them the corners this year as they used to. They say they have to "groove" the ball to get a strike and declare that this is one reason why some of the Yankee pitchers have been less successful this year than last.

This is one of the theories advanced in explanation of Squire Sam Jones's failure to win a many games for the Yankees as he did for the Boston Red Sox. Jones never has lacked for stuff, but much of his success with the Fenway Fuelers was due to his control. He seldom or never gave an opposing batsman a good ball and by playing the corners of the plate for strikes forced them to hit at balls that were good in the opinion of the umpire, but not good to hit at.

This year, however, he hasn't been able to do this and his club mates attribute his failure to the fact that he hasn't been "getting" the corners. During the past six weeks, Sam has been showing to better advantage, but whether this is because of improved umpiring or increased confidence in his own skill and ability to weather the pinches, I am not prepared to say.

As for my own game, it seems to be subject to sudden fluctuations. I batted very well during the Yankees' second swing through the West and held the pace for a time after our return to the Polo Grounds, but just when I thought I was all straightened out I ran into another slump and didn't get a hit in three consecutive games against the Cleveland Indians. I didn't allow my slump to prey on my nerves, however, and soon snapped out of it. (Copyright, 1922, by The Christy Walsh Syndicate)

POWELL RESIGNS.
CLEVELAND, Aug. 30.—Walter R. Powell, physical director at Cleveland "Stanford" University, has resigned to enter business in Atlanta, Ga., he announced here today.

GOLF

By W. D. McNICOLL

The women members of Sequoyah have received their tournament announcement for September. Mrs. Milton Bernard, the new captain, has arranged an attractive schedule, which starts off with a novel three club event next Friday, September 1.

Players can choose their favorite weapons and have to arrange their own matches. Mrs. Calindo is donating the prizes for this event. This will be the last opportunity for practice before the Del Monte championship. A good representation of local players is expected to travel to the Moca of golf in quest of honors.

Friday, September 8, will be set aside for the popular flag tournament. There will be two prizes for the players, who succeed in gaining the "spot" distance with their handicap plus par.

Another 36 hole medal contest is to be held, a trophy and prizes donated by Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Lorber. A previous event on similar lines seemed to loose interest in the second and third days' play, but this second event may be more closely contested and interest maintained until its conclusion.

The first day's play on Friday, the 15th of September, will be over 18 holes at handicap, medal play. The second 18 holes will be held the succeeding Friday. The final round of 18 holes will take place September 23.

The annual Inter Club contest between the women players of Sequoyah and the California Clubs will take place early next month. The first match will be over the Sequoyah course on Friday, October 6. The return engagement at old Ingleside will take place on October 17. California members may play over the Sequoyah course without green fees from September 25 to 29 inclusive.

Invitational day for women members is now restricted to the last Friday of the month, when each member is entitled to have like John J. Dougherty took St. Mihiel.

Harry Maloney Will Line Up Strong Team

FALO ALTO, Cal., Aug. 30.—Harry Maloney, Stanford coach and director of sports for the California American Legion, is busily engaged in signing up C-lifornia's most noted athletes for the track and field meet to be held in conjunction with the National Legion convention in New Orleans in October.

Maloney hopes to take with him Charley Paddock, "the world's fastest human," and Morris Kirtley, who until recently has been known as the "world's next fastest human." "Tiny" Hartranft, who tosses a 15-pound weight and a good sized discus around for Stanford as if they were no heavier than tennis balls, Jack Merchant, of California, who throws the hammer so far that everyone has given up hope of competing with him, and many others.

Maloney believes he can pick an All-Western team which can take the rest of the Legion athletes just like John J. Dougherty took St. Mihiel.

Members and their friends desiring to go will meet at the clubrooms not later than 7:30 p. m. Saturday evening, September 2nd. Those who can not be at the clubrooms at this time may meet the party on the Northwestern Pacific boat leaving San Francisco at 8:45 for Sausalito.

The club is co-operating with members of other organizations that will be at Legunitas over the holidays, to hold a dance Saturday and Sunday evenings.

About fifty members and their friends have already signified their intention of making the trip and others who desire to go can receive full information from any of the members of the following committee: F. ENTRIES FOR TENTH ANNUAL MARATHON MARATHON CLOSE SATURDAY

WILLIAM T. TILDEN AND VINCENT RICHARDS CAPTURE U. S. TENNIS DOUBLES CHAMPIONSHIP

TECH AND OAKLAND HAVE SAME NUMBER IN ANNUAL MARATHON

Local Athletes Entering in Large Numbers as Date of Closing List Draws Near

Three days to go before the entry list closes for the tenth annual TRIBUNE Lake Merritt Marathon and the two leading high schools who have been battling for supremacy since the start of the entries more than three weeks ago are still tied. Technical High and Oakland yesterday after the Twelfth street school had held the lead by a margin of one entry for more than a week. Both schools have eight men entered in the race and it is difficult to pick a winner of the high school prize for the school having the most starters in the race a week from next Saturday. Both schools have three days left in which to break the tie, but they should not forget that they are not alone in the field.

Golden Gate Junior high and Alameda are right on the trial of the leaders, being tied for third position with six entries each and the Golden Gate team are the ones who should be watched in as much as they are a "dark horse" entry and there is increasing interest in the school now that six of the runners from there have entered. It would not be surprising to see double that number send in entry blanks within the remaining three days and force the front.

In the industrial field the Western Electric Co. has been clearing sailing unless the other companies who have promised to have strong teams in the race make good all of a sudden. The Shredded Wheat runners appear to have given up their intentions while those of the Oakland Mazda Lamp Company, although they have been in training, according to the best of reports, have thus far failed to send in the necessary blank. It will be regrettable if, through some oversight, some one has been entrusted with these blanks and has failed to turn them in.

The Eastbay Enameling Company, and Sunset Lumber Company are the other two industrial plants who have shown activity in lining up their men for the coming annual race.

Yesterday's mail brought in six more entries, three of which were from the unattached list while the other two belong to the high school division. The second runner from Vocational High school to enter, Harold Anderson, filed his blank yesterday afternoon. At the same time Kangaroo Coughlin of Technical High also entered.

From the University of California came the first entry from the Berkeley college, Russell Baker being the first to enter under the colors of the University of California.

Mr. Baker's college will have a team lined up by Saturday, according to Coach Edward P. Madigan, who believes that the Tribune Merritt Marathon will afford his men an excellent bit of training for the coming football season.

The other runners who entered in the unattached list yesterday were:

The last minute entry rush in on the list will pass the century mark within the next two days when the high school entries come to a close. Send that blank in today before it slips your mind for you want to be among the prize winners in the running of the ninth. It is your race and the prizes are open to all amateurs regardless of affiliations. Send in the blank and go over the ground of the course, following the route of the running privileges offered by the Oakland "Y" and be one of those who participate in the greatest of all annual Merritt Marathons.

Elsh Is Awarded to Chicago White Sox

CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—Eugene Elsh, star outfielder with the Sioux City club, and runner-up for the batting championship of the Western League, today was awarded to the Chicago club of the American League. In a decision by K. M. Landis, baseball commissioner, on a re-hearing of the case, in a previous ruling Landis held that Elsh belonged to the White Sox, although the player had been sold to the Pittsburgh Nationals for $10,000.

Elsh is regarded by baseball writers as one of the best major league prospects of the season. He is batting second in the Western League with an average of .384 and is tied with the leading base stealer with a total of 43 this season. His batting record includes 24 doubles, 6 triples, a home run, and fourteen sacrifices. In 116 games Elsh has hit 117 times.

Australians Are Defeated In Net Finals

William Tilden and Vince Richards Smash Way to Doubles Victory.

BOSTON, Aug. 30.—The national championship in lawn tennis doubles remains in the United States. The Australian invasion which has as its triple objective the Davis cup, the doubles title and the singles championship, was defeated in its secondary phase when W. T. Tilden, H. and Vincent Richards, playing through titlists, turned back Gerald L. Patterson and Pat O'Hara Wood, Australian stars, after losing the first set. The scores were: 4-6, 6-1, 6-2, 6-4.

The match, which had a double significance because of its bearing on the doubles play in the forthcoming Davis cup tournament for which the contenders of today have been regarded as the probable nominees, was marked by the irresistible team effort of the Americans following their opening setback.

Loss of the first set seemed to be the spur needed to bring Tilden and Richards to the heights of tennis. With the second set, a new spirit was manifest in their play, Richards served. He shot one ace par Patterson, and with his opponent's errors, won 4-1. Patterson's service was turned against him when Tilden made good on his, for the Australian's only victory of the set, and the next three games went to the defending titlists. Patterson had lost again at service, in which he is ranked with the world's best.

The third set was a somewhat similar story. Service decided the games. In the fourth set the Australians pressed hard against their opponents, but with only a success, however, and the match went to the Americans.

Tilden said the victory was one of team play and paid high tribute to Richards' collaboration. Patterson had praised for his competitors, but in the end the sure strokes of the match on the Davis cup play, said he felt he had played very poorly, and hoped he had all the bad tennis out of his system.

WINS IN DOUBLES.

Tilden and Richards again after only a few minutes rest and left them within an hour a double champion in doubles when he and Mrs. Mallory won in straight sets.

They did not gain their honors easily, however, and the old Willis' forbearance in the first set, and Tilden's being turned against him in the second.

Miss Willis was keen in play and Kinsey's ball was troublesome, but in the end the sure strokes of the two national champions proved too much for them, without great strain, 6-4, 6-3.

Of greater interest among the spectators, however, was the largest tennis crowd seen at a tennis program in this city, was the singles match which Mrs. Mallory won from Miss Willis. The champion, who defended her title successfully against the girl recently at Forest Hills, N. Y., found her a more difficult opponent today and it was only after losing the first set to her and half-time decisions in the third that she won, 3-6, 6-3, 7-5.

The final point was played over under unusual circumstances. After the crowd had roared and clapped the disapproval of a line umpire's decision which would have given victory to the champion, Mrs. Mallory turned to the stands, and the point would be replayed, and she served again to the girl who had won the partisanship of the gallery. Miss Willis netted the ball and Mrs. Mallory's victory was made complete.

JONES WINS TITLE.

The other national championships were decided. Arnold W. Jones of Providence, R. I., succeeded to the national junior championship vacated by Richards, winning with a sweeping stroke from Lewis N. White of Austin, Texas, 6-0, 6-0.

Young Jones won 13 consecutive games before White won his only one. Young David O'Loughlin of Pittsburgh, playing in knickerbockers and new tan shoes, won the boys' championship by defeating M. T. Hill, Jr., of Newton, 7-5, 6-3.

Champ Sought For Match in Mexico City

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 30.—James C. Coffroth, the California fight promoter, leaves today for New York, where he is to confer with Jack Kearns regarding a fight between Jack Dempsey and Jack Johnson in Mexico City next October. It is said Coffroth will not attempt to promote a bout in the bull ring, but that he will confer with Kearns on the possibility of arranging a fight between the champ and the former heavy-weight champion.

Scott's Comeback Has Aided Seals

"Death Valley" Jim Scott, leading pitcher this season of the Pacific Coast Baseball League, is disproving the theory that a baseball player can come back. Once a world class star, but later released as a has-been, Scott has forced his way to the head of the Coast League in a manner that has attracted widespread attention.

Bothered for several years by rheumatism that made it increasingly difficult to get into condition, and by some extra pounds of weight that did not disappear until the season was well under way, Scott spent all of last winter hunting in the forests of Oregon and appeared in fine trim this spring. The results of his extra months of training were apparent in his pitching, which has been as baffling to Coast League batters this season as it once was to major leaguers.

Scott was among the leading pitchers of the Chicago White Sox in the days when they were known as the "Hitless wonder," and was one of the first baseball players to don a uniform when the United States entered the war in 1917.

The 1917, a month before the opening of the world series, but after the Chicago team had clinched the American League pennant, he asked C. Miesky for permission to drop out so he could enter an officers' training camp at the Presidio of San Francisco. He has given a leave of absence and received his share of the world series money despite the fact that he did not play in the contests.

100 HOMELESS IN FIRE

BEAVERDALE, Pa., Aug. 30.—Many families fled from their homes today when fire swept over two town blocks, destroying a dozen stores and dwellings and causing an estimated loss of $150,000. Over 100 persons are homeless. Firemen from nearby towns were summoned.

ALL CHAMPS OF MAT GATHER AT TITULAR MEET

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—The largest and most representative entry in the history of the amateur athletic union championships will compete in the annual titular track and field events at Newark, N. J., September 8, 9 and 11. Nearly 400 of the leading athletes of the nation will take part in the three-day meet.

While the metropolitan district will have the widest representation, almost every state in the union will send one or more performers, and some of the middle-western and Pacific coast sections will enter teams of unusual numbers and strength.

New York City will send about 150 athletes to the starting line: Chicago 55; Los Angeles, 11; Baltimore, 13; Pittsburgh, 7; Newark, 60; New Orleans, 6; Omaha, 4; Boston, 20, and Philadelphia, 35.

Among the champions who won events at the 1921 games and will defend their titles in the coming meet are: W. E. Stevens, New York A. C., Princeton, in the 440-yard run; Jole Ray, Illinois A. C., mile run; Gus Dasch, Notre Dame University, 440-yard hurdles; E. J. Thomson, Los Angeles A. C., 120 and 220-yard hurdles; Ned Gordin, Harvard University, broad jump; Ed Knourek, Illinois A. C., pole vault; D. Y. Albert, Chicago A. C., high jump, and Alvin Helfrich, New York A. C., and Penn. State College, half mile run.

Whittier Looks to Have Strong Eleven

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 30.—Whittier college, winner of the Southern California conference football title in 1921, will come back with a team fully as strong this fall, rival conference coaches say.

Whittier will have practically the same team this fall that won the title last season. Edward Suggett, picked by nearly all last season as all-conference halfback, will be back "heavier and faster than ever," Coach Perry says. Besides the players of last year's eleven, six players of last fall's junior college squad will try out for the team.

NIGHT HAWKS LOSE GAME.

KNIGHTS, Cal., Aug. 30.—The Night Hawk baseball team went down to defeat before the General Chemical Company team at Nicholls Sunday. The score was 1 to 0, with only three hits allowed on each side.

The Hawks had men on bases in nearly every inning, but were kept there with the willow in the plow. Twice they had three men on, but the pitcher, who had been tightened up, with no score. Nicholls made their run in the eighth inning. The Hawks expect to play the Cedar Products of Stockton at Brentwood Sunday.

Showalter Leads in Chess Contest

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 30.—Jackson W. Showalter, former national champion, came into his own again yesterday when he achieved an advantage of two pawns on Edward Lasker of Chicago, present Western champion in the second round of the Western Chess association tournament here. The old master's advantage is considered a commanding one by chess students.

R. P. Spencer of Picher, Okla., was high man in the national tournament yesterday, winning seven games. He scored 172 points and 76 double ringers. Other winners yesterday were: H. J. Taylor of Des Moines; Fred Hay, Minneapolis; E. B. Steindorf, Stillwater, Minnesota; George Atkins, Indianapolis; Ab McConkey, Des Moines; Robert Walls, Missouri Valley, Ia., and Verne Erlison of Alcester, S. D.

Terry McBride of Vallejo will box Joe Cardinatti of San Jose at San Jose next Thursday night.

Barnyard Golf Is Delayed For a Day

DES MOINES, Ia., Aug. 30.—Failure of Iowa players to complete the state tournament until late yesterday afternoon delayed the start of the National Horseshoe Pitching association's tournament here with the result that only two of the ten sections of eight contestants each were played yesterday.

"Tut" Jackson Bows to Wills Before Fourth

Knockout Record on Paper Only; Loser Fails to Land a Decisive Punch.

By DAVIS J. WALSH, International News Service Sports Editor.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—Quite without warning, "Tut" Jackson, the Washington Court House, O., negro, ceased to be the mean, vicious, two-handed master at a press agent's fancy last night at Ebbets Field, Brooklyn, and became a human opera hit, collapsible to the touch. The touch was supplied by Harry Willis, who, midway through the third round, landed the responsive Tut across the chin with a right and the latter gently but firmly folded up and called it an evening. They will refer to the occasion in the record books as a knockout for Willis because Tut does not seem to have any official recognition as a legitimate thing in pugilism. The bout was a joke from the start. The joke, as usual, was on the 20,000 spectators. They were led to believe that Jackson was some sort of a one-piece riot who knocked them first and explained afterwards, a wild-eyed Senegambian mauler, who might spoil Willis' dream of a bout with Dempsey.

Much had been made of Jackson's record, but at the expense of many flippant remarks. He did not land a single decisive punch during the few minutes the affair lasted. He did nothing but hold on desperately with both hands and break through his foolish knock-kneed defense for a right to the jaw that knocked Jackson out.

His body attack brought Jackson's jaw lower than usual in the third and a right uppercut was waited with neither emphasis nor courtesy upon Jackson's chin. Willis then stepped back obligingly. Jackson eased forward to the floor on his face. He remained there until the end of the count. Dick Hanley, who last year coached football for the Pendleton, Ore., high school, has left for Lawrence, Kansas, to coach the Haskell Indians this coming season.

Another BUCK KILLED.

F. Schrader and family of 3015 Bonar street, Fruitvale, near Al. Thomson and family of 3763 McGee avenue, Fruitvale, have returned from a four-day hunting trip in the vicinity of Livermore. They brought home a large buck.

Rowdy Elliott, who has been backstopping for Portland in the Pacific Coast League, has been suspended for the remainder of the season for "misconduct and insubordination."

Merchants Beat BOTS.

The Berkeley Merchants added another to their string of victories by defeating the Alameda Scouts at Alameda park, Alameda, a score of 10 to 3. The game was fast, being played in 40 minutes.

Both Hutton, for the Merchants, and Helmer, for the Scouts, kept the ball well down the line, with three two-run hits, was the heavy striker. The Scouts won the game, with three two-run hits, with two for third out. The pitch struck one on the pitcher's head. Score: Merchants, 10; Scouts, 3.

Merchants' WIN SERIES.

The Berkeley Merchants added another to their long string when they romped home with a 6 to 4 victory over the Alameda Scouts. It was the final game of their series, and the Merchants won two out of three. Fred Mitterwald continued to pitch for the Merchants, and he was again the star of the game. He allowed but five hits and whiffed 17. The hitting was done by the Alameda Scouts, who featured Ed broke up the contest in the seventh frame when, with the score 3-0, he struck out one on a bunt, and on a circuit drive. Elliott and Coston pitched for the Scouts. Sunday the Merchants took the last game of their series at Alameda.

CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—Wheat lacked support at the start today and values turned down during the early dealings. Some persistent selling by commission houses developed shortly after the opening, but the trade was not large, the market being easily influenced. Some short covering which came out on the break acted as a check on the decline. The opening price was 1/2 to 1/4 lower with September 1.01 to 1.01 1/4, and December 1.02 to 1.02 1/4, followed for a further sag all around and then by something of a rally.

A house with Omaha connections was a free seller of September corn. After starting 1/2 to 1/4 off with September 30 to 30 1/2, the corn market underwent a further general decline.

Oats started unchanged to 1/4 lower with September 31 1/2 to 32c and held close to the initial range. Provisions were unsettled.

BUSINESS WORLD IS CURIOUS OVER STEEL WAGE RISE

Industrial Leaders Anxious to Learn Its Effect On Present Strikes.

By J. C. ROYLE.
NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—The action of the United States Steel Corporation and the independents in voluntarily increasing wages, the reasons for the move, the probable effect on business and prices both in steel and other basic lines was the dominating subject of interest in business and financial circles.

Widely varied motives were assigned for the move as dispatches from widely separated localities showed. But the main reason for the advance probably is that the steel mills need labor and want into the market for it just as they would for any other commodity.

Mill gates for weeks have borne signs "Men Wanted." The steel producers are swamped with orders to such an extent that under present production they could not handle the additional volume of business expected by the end of the year. The restriction of immigration has cut down the supply of labor from foreign sources. The passing of unemployment throughout the country has absorbed other possible sources of supply.

The adjustment of the steel strike is expected to call back many men who took jobs in the steel mills while the steel was at the mills. As a result the steel companies are forced into competition with other industries in which the rate of pay is on a more generous basis.

LABOR COMPETITION.
Nor is competition for labor lacking within the industry itself. In many localities independents have raised wages and in general the scales have been higher than that of the local steel industry against whom they bid for men as well as orders.

The steel industry was one of the first to liquidate labor costs during the period of depression and it seems to have been found that whether that adjustment made in 1921 was adequate to conditions or not, it is not commensurate with conditions since depression has passed.

In addition to present needs, many of the mills of the country have been closed down and their resumption undoubtedly will follow renewal of raw supplies and settlement of the rate of steel. In view of the tremendous volume of orders known to be in prospect for the railroads and other consumers, such resumption of course broadens the demand for an immediate supply of labor.

PSYCHOLOGY RESULTS.
Considerable stress is placed by industrial leaders on the psychological effect of the voluntary increase. Executive of industry feel that such a move would tend to strengthen the demand of organized workers in other industries now asking increases in pay.

Prices have risen about 16 per cent since the low point of last February and in bars, plates, shapes and on some other products the advance has been much greater. Production costs other than labor have also increased and it is expected that additional price advances will follow the addition of $50,000,000 to the annual payroll of the steel corporation alone.

NEW ORLEANS

By L. V. SHANNON.
NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 30.—Failure of the cotton market to respond to the news of the estimated shrinkage of a million bales in the cotton crop outlook in the last 30 days is attributed to the unsettled labor conditions throughout the country. Cotton prices are expected much higher prices as soon as the world realizes that it is facing a crop that may be less than ten and a half million bales.

There is every evidence that the cotton who are producing the crop are not going to let it go except at high prices. This feeling is stimulating business throughout this section and retailers are stocking up as they have not done for years.

CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—Business in this section which has been feeling the pinch of strikes is expected to show much marked improvement until some little time after wage matters are adjusted, although the wage advance of the steel corporation is expected to aid the industry in this section. During the fall, however, business is confidently expected to be very active.

Banks are lending freely but show concern over interest rates which, however, continue low. Lack of credit facilities will not hold business back this autumn.

PHILADELPHIA

By FRANK D. McLAINE.
PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 30.—Retail trade here is holding its own remarkably well as the summer wanes. Furniture sales and attractive bargain in all sorts of merchandise are stimulating buying and attracting out of town customers.

Coal dealers hold out no hope of a reduction in the price of anthracite coal. Local coal supplies have been reduced to a state where both municipal and private plants are being pinched.

be an Executive of Newest Oakland Bank.

The Commercial Trust & Savings Bank, Oakland's newest bank, announced today the selection of E. B. Richardson, son of San Francisco, as cashier. He will assume his duties at once, making preparation for the opening of the bank's permanent quarters in the Athens Hotel building on Broadway about the first of the month.

Richardson is a native of E. B. Richardson, Michigan, where he was graduated from the state university in 1917. In 1915 he came to California as treasurer of the Pacific Lumber Company, with whom he remained for six years. One of his last activities was that of the First National Bank of Seattle, a company institution.

He was one of the organizers of the Morris Plan Company of San Francisco and for the past six years has managed its bank on New Montgomery street.

"I have lived in Oakland for fourteen years, but like many other San Francisco business men, I hardly realized the tremendous growth that has been going on here. During the past few months, however, I have got a better understanding of the spirit that is alive in Oakland and the big strides she is making in development," says Richardson.

The Nettleton Company and its dealers. It is a tried and true retail selling method such as interior layout, window dressing, window illumination, advertising and fitting. Instead of experimenting with sales methods at a distance, officers of the company have the store right at hand for testing different effects and ideas.

HAIR.
NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—As a result of the trade of the summer season hat, dealers here express confidence that the light weight felt hat heretofore will enjoy a very considerable vogue through the summer months although it is not expected to displace the straw headpieces generally.

MILLINERY.
FOR WORTH, Aug. 30.—Millinery purchases from local wholesalers have been extremely heavy this summer. Fort Worth merchants are figuring that the trade this fall will be the best in three years. Prices are considered acceptable.

AUTOMOBILES.
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 30.—Recent cuts in automobile prices have filled Pittsburgh's streets with new cars. Buying of accessories and tires is on a par with the car trade. The pace with the increase in the business of the car distributors.

PAINT.
NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—Paint manufacturers and varnish makers report a continued good demand from the jobbers and retailers for finished products but they themselves have not so much inclination to anticipate their wants so far as raw materials are concerned. Not much change is noticed in dry colors. Carbon black prices are strong in stone on account of the small stock available. Lamp black is steady.

LINEN.
NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—Linen dealers expressed the opinion today that there will be a decided shortage of handkerchiefs in the local linen market within the next three months due to the fact that importations have been extremely light, amounting to only about one-third of the normal amount required for the fall and winter season.

COAL.
BISMARCK, N. D., Aug. 30.—It is estimated that 1,000,000 tons of North Dakota lignite coal can be delivered through the Northwest in the next two months. The short haul for the mines is expected to keep the price down.

MINE.
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 30.—Large consumers which purchase coal in this market are not inclined to buy at present prices. They express confidence that fuel costs will be materially reduced as soon as mine production gets all under way.

MACHINERY.
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 30.—According to E. C. Biggs, Jr., president of the United States Engineering and Foundry Company, his concern closed more machinery business in the last two weeks than in any two months during the preceding year and a half. He anticipates a large volume of sales.

COLLARS.
NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 30.—The demand for reversible collars here far exceeds the call for the starched styles, and soft shirts with collars attached undoubtedly are cutting into all forms of collar.

BUSINESS TOPICS
SYRACUSE, N. Y., Aug. 30.—The A. C. Nettleton Shoe Company has just opened a shoe store which "won't sell any shoes. It is the only shop of its kind in existence and is used as a sales laboratory for the executives and salesmen of the

BUSINESS AND FINANCE

A strong tone prevailed at the opening of today's Wall Street market, reflecting the more favorable overnight developments in the industrial situation. Nearly 20 issues broke through to new high records in the first 15 minutes of trading, including Norfolk & Western, Crucible Steel preferred, Continental Can, Associated Dry Goods, Western Maryland, Vandum, Tobacco, Pittsburgh Coal, Union Traction, American Telephone, Detroit Edison, Allied Chemical, and American Tobacco. Railroad shares moved to higher ground in response to reports of increased car loadings, gains of substantial fractions being recorded by Northern Pacific, Reading, New York Central and Atlantic Coast Line. Oils were in good demand under the leadership of Mexican Petroleum, which closed at 33 1/2 points to 15 1/2 from yesterday's low. The index for the day was 100.00, a point more than a year ago. A point more also took place in North American Baldwin, Gulf Steel, General Asphalt and American Smelting. For three weeks started during August 22 new high records, as compared with 23 during the previous year. The total gain for the year is 100.00, a point more than a year ago. A point more also took place in North American Baldwin, Gulf Steel, General Asphalt and American Smelting. DEARTH OF NEW BOND FINANCING IN PROSPECT.

Investment bankers and bond dealers reported today that there was a dearth of new bond financing in the market. The reason for this was that new bond offerings have established new low records for the year, the total last week being only $7,750,000, as against a weekly average of $100,000,000 in the early spring of the year and somewhat less in the latter part of the year.

Several reasons are assigned for the slump besides the usual mid-summer dullness. Virtually all the large industrial corporations are reported to be in a position to obtain immediate new financing and to be in no further need of cash. Continuation of easy money rates also has resulted in corporations finding it more profitable to raise money by the issuance of stock in preference to the sale of bonds. Disturbed economic conditions in Europe are said to virtually preclude any further financing in that quarter as no definite negotiations are pending for South American loans although several of those countries are reported to be in the market for money.

It is reported in banking circles that the government will issue a long term coupon issue to take care of short term notes in the near future. It is generally believed that official announcement of the issue would be made before the close of the year. There are $392,500,000 certificates of indebtedness falling due in September and in addition large interest payments will be made on the third 4 1/2 per cent bonds.

ALAMEDA COUNTY LOAN RE-ELECTS ITS DIRECTORATE.
The Alameda County Loan Association has re-elected its board of nine directors as follows: J. B. Richardson, Henry C. Hacke, Henry C. Hacke, Jr., Edward W. Lerner, J. B. Richardson, Jr., D. Muller, H. K. Jackson, R. A. Leet and Arthur T. Lerner.

The officers of the association are: J. B. Richardson, president; Henry C. Hacke, vice-president; Miss H. L. Kruger, secretary; Girard N. Richardson, treasurer. The financial report issued by the association one June 30, showed the total assets of the association were $1,000,000. In the past year almost $250,000 was loaned out on homes.

LITTLE AMERICAN MONEY NOW IN JAPAN.
Although 7 and 8 per cent interest is being paid on money in Japan, there is little American money invested in Japanese industries according to Osamu Matsumoto, financial representative of the Japanese government in the United States, who arrived in San Francisco yesterday from Tokyo.

Matsumoto said that his country welcomes American capital and that great construction works are in progress in which such capital could be utilized profitably in both parties concerned. Matsumoto will make his headquarters in New York, which he says, is now the world's financial center. He will act as a medium between American investors and their interests in Japan.

THREE NEW BOND ISSUES APPROVED ON MARKET.
Three new bond issues were put on the bay region market today. The total amount involved is $4,380,000. The issues are: 1. $2,000,000 Pacific Coast Joint Stock Land Bank 5 per cent 30 year bonds. 2. $2,000,000 Pacific Coast Joint Stock Land Bank 5 per cent 30 year bonds.

ALBERS BROTHERS SHOW $648,000 PROFIT IN 1921.
The operating profit of Albers Brothers Milling Company for 1921 was $648,000. In 1920 the company's profit was $208,491, and a depreciation reserve of $153,728 was also set up.

The outlook for the coming year is considered good, grain prices now being on a high level, as also are supply materials. The years of heavy inventory writeoffs in the milling business, it is confidently believed, are past.

The volume of business showed an increase in tonnage over the preceding year, though the lower price level prevented the increase being carried into volume as expressed in dollars and cents.

The company's statement shows a plant account, less a reserve, of $1,035,207 for depreciation, of $3,728,073. The water's information is that the company's policy in the matter of write-off for depreciation has always been a very liberal one.

George Albers has been elected president of the Albers Brothers Milling Company at the annual meeting in Seattle. Monte Thompson is retiring. Other officers were chosen as follows: William Albers, J. W. Edmondson and F. A. Albers, vice presidents; Frank Albers, treasurer, and E. A. Deming, secretary.

The directors follow: George Albers, William Albers, Frank Albers, J. W. Edmondson, Charles H. Carey and F. A. Brown.

ORDERED SOLD!

SMASHING AND DASHING ALL MEN'S CLOTHING SALES ANNOUNCEMENTS HIGH AND WIDE. THANK THE UNLUCKY SITUATION FOR THIS MOST AMAZING LOW PRICE CONCESSION OF THE FORMER MEL. ANDERSON INC. HIGH GRADE STOCK OF KUPPENHEIMER CLOTHING. SELL AT SOME PRICE IS THE CRY.

ENTIRE STOCK THROWN AT YOUR MERCY FOR WHATEVER IT WILL BRING

"AN HONEST CONFESSION IS GOOD FOR THE SOUL"

Wholesale prices on men's clothing will be shot to pieces during this sensational disposal sale of the former Mel Anderson, Inc., stock of high-grade Kuppenheimer clothing, bought from the Trustees, which will be thrown to the mercy of the buying public for whatever it will bring. Oakland's most complete exclusive clothing stock has been ORDERED SOLD. Their clothing was recognized all over the city of Oakland to be of the highest grade. The former firm of the Mel Anderson, Inc. overstepped the bounds of judicious financing in expanding their business and only recently they found that there was nothing else to do but submit to the inevitable and turn over their stock to the creditors.

It is understood that the buying public participating in this sensational disposal sale of the former Mel Anderson, Inc. will be forced on the public at prices that have never dared to be exhibited to the people of Oakland before. Remember you are not buying any truck, inferior or second grade clothing, every garment is guaranteed to be the best that the clothing market affords and only the price will prove 100% saving on every dollar you spend here.

Men's and Young Men's Suits PRICED TO SELL

FASHIONS THAT THE MEN OF OAKLAND DELIGHT IN—STYLES UP-TO-THE-MINUTE IN EVERY DETAIL. VALUES THAT FAIRLY SHOUT OUT THEIR SUPERIORITY. MEN AND YOUNG MEN WHO KNOW A GOOD THING WHEN THEY SEE IT WILL BE THRONING THIS STORE BY THE HUNDREDS. OAKLAND HAS HAD CLOTHING SALES BEFORE. BUT NEVER ONE EQUALLING THIS. RIGHT NOW WHEN EVERY MAN IS THINKING SERIOUSLY OF BUYING HIS NEW FALL OR WINTER SUIT WE LAUNCH THIS UNPRECEDENTED RAPID FIRE DISPOSAL SALE OF THE FORMER MEL ANDERSON INC. CLOTHING STOCK.

"A FEW WORDS FROM THE MERCHANDISE ADJUSTER"

MY ORDERS—are to take the former stock of Mel Anderson, Inc., bought from the Trustees and drag it to the bargain block for quick immediate disposal. Convert it into cash in the shortest possible time. Sell at some price, is the cry, regardless of loss, costs, or favors. THIS I WILL DO. My prices will turn the men folks of this city into a seething, scrambling mass of clothing buyers. I will forget profit, positively ignore costs, in my eagerness to sell this stock in a limited time. People will flock here because of this peculiar upheaval in the clothing world, and will have a great opportunity to save; and people are not slow to grasp the significance of a sale like this, and seldom do they get a chance to purchase Kuppenheimer clothes at almost your own price. Come expecting crowds—come expecting the greatest clothes values of your life—you will not be disappointed. Signed: R. A. POWELL,

Merchandise Adjuster Selling the former Mel Anderson Clothing Stock.

Radio Bandit Chasers Boost Method in 2 Departments

The equipping of two police departments with radio as a result of the "bandit" chase held last Sunday under the direction of the radio department of The TRIBUNE and The TRIBUNE Radio Club to determine the efficiency of radio in police work is indicated in plans now under way by the heads of both departments, it became known today.

The letters to their chiefs from the two police officers who observed the chase are indicative of the success of the test. These officers were Sergeant A. R. Mehrtens of the Berkeley department and Robert P. Tracy of the Oakland department. Their letters are as follows:

"Mr. James T. Drew,
Chief of Police,
Berkeley, Calif.

Dear Sir:
I beg to make the following report of my investigation and experiment to determine the practicability of the radio for police work.

The experiment to determine the value of the radio for locating a bandit automobile was started from the Oakland Tribune building at about 3:45 a. m., August 27, 1922. I made the pursuit in a Borch Radio Corporation automobile.

FIRST RADIO
The first radio received from the broadcasting station was that the bandit car was seen in the vicinity of Thornhill Road at about 10:00 a. m. We proceeded to Edith and Moraga Road where a radio was received at about 10:15 a. m. that the bandit car was seen in Berkeley, and we proceeded to the vicinity of Piedmont and Mather. At about 10:30 a. m. a radio was received that the bandit car was seen in the vicinity of 14th and High streets.

We proceeded to the Joaquin Miller road where we picked up a message that the bandit car was seen in San Leandro headed for Bay Farm Island. On the way to Bay Farm Island we received a radio that the bandit car was seen on Bay Farm Island. Upon arrival at Bay Farm Island a radio was received that the bandit automobile was captured by another pursuing automobile at 11:40 a. m.

The experiment was a complete success. It demonstrated beyond all doubt in my mind that the radio would be of great service to the police in locating and recovering automobiles, and I heartily recommend the adoption of the radio in the Oakland Police Department.

I believe that the bandit automobile would have been captured in a shorter period of time if the pursuing automobiles had been equipped with instruments whereby they could have communicated with each other.

Very respectfully,
(Signed) ROBERT P. TRACY,
Assistant Inspector.

Then Admitted
By Boy on Spree

ALAMEDA, Aug. 30.—A too free expenditure of funds in the vicinity of the Cliff House in San Francisco caused the police of that city to arrest a 13-year-old Oakland boy and hold him for investigation. A severe examination led the boy to admit that he had procured the sum of $45 at Neptune beach. He said he had stolen it from a man. The Alameda police were notified and Police Officer M. Guy brought the boy to this city where he is said to have told another story of having found the purse.

With a boy companion of the same age, he had spent over half of the money for popcorn, candy, ice cream, sodas, etc., when the police picked him up.

Nightrobbed Woman Is Taken Off Car

BERKELEY, Aug. 30.—A woman who started to Oakland with a nightgown as her sole article of attire started residents along San Pablo avenue yesterday afternoon. A detachment of officers led by A. Abbey took the woman from a street car and later removed her to the Emergency hospital, where an investigation will be made as to her sanity. The woman's name was given to the authorities as Eva Cavanaugh, and her address as 3005 San Pablo avenue.

PHONES WILL BE MADE RECEIVING SETS FOR RADIO

New Device to Be Installed by Company at Everett, Wash.

EVERETT, Wash., Aug. 30.—Telephones in Everett, already equipped with a device which measures conversation, are to be made into wireless receiving stations through the use of an attachment supplied by the Puget Sound Telephone Company, an independent corporation which serves this city.

To hear concerts, news bulletins and other features thrown onto the air by broadcasting stations of Seattle, thirty miles from here, Everett radio fans, who also are telephone subscribers, will simply hook their radio receiving sets onto the attachment, which is known as the radio adapter, and which will fit into the telephone bell box.

In addition to supplying the adapter, the telephone company, working with the Seattle Radio Association, will mail to its radio subscribers weekly programs of the broadcasting stations and will collect $5 a year from each fan to defray the cost. The Seattle association hopes to have telephones in all other cities within a radius of 100 miles, equipped with the adapter.

The conversation measuring device, which is said, is not used anywhere else in the world, has been operated here for eight months, and enables the company to charge for the telephone service according to the length of the conversation.

Some twenty residents found that the device, called the telechromometer, increased their monthly bills. They protested to the State Department of Public Works, which is to hold a hearing September 6th to decide whether the affair must be abandoned. In the meantime 623 Everett residents have signed applications for new telephones to be installed if the machine is given up.

Friends of the telechromometer say that some of the opposition was caused by the fact that it made "listening-in" on party lines cost just so much for every minute the telephone receiver is off the hook.

Mixed Parties Knock Out Suttles Bathing

RIGA, Aug. 30.—Baltic pre-war bathers never had any use for bathing suits until mixed bathing came along. Now the police are setting aside certain hours when men and women may bathe separately and naturally.

(Signed) A. DEBENTENS,
Detective Sergeant.

Mother Snake and 40
Young All Show Fight

MURRY CITY, O., Aug. 30.—A forty copperhead snake, with forty little ones following her, were killed here by an undertaker. The snake killer declared that even the smallest of the reptiles showed fight.

Fifteen Minutes of Radio Daily

By Edward M. Davis

LESSON NO. 140.
The External Heterodyne.
(Copyright by Edward M. Davis.)
(All rights reserved by United Feature Syndicate. Reproduction prohibited.)
For the satisfactory reception of undamped signals such as emitted by a continuous radio telegraph station it is necessary to generate locally in the receiving system itself a radio frequency current of slightly different frequency from the incoming frequency. That is, the local frequency should differ from the frequency of the incoming signal by an amount which is an audio frequency. The combination of the two radio frequency currents produces beats at a frequency which is the same as the difference in frequency between them.
There are several ways in which the radio frequency current may be generated locally at the receiving station. If the coupling of the ordinary regenerative receiver is continuously increased a point is reached where the circuit starts to oscillate. If properly adjusted, faintly audible beats may be produced on the heterodyne principle. This is probably the most common method of utilizing the heterodyne principle for the reception of continuous wave signals.
The external heterodyne requires one more tube for its operation than the regenerative receiver, but usually obtained by its use, in the reception of continuous wave telegraph signals. The external heterodyne is not necessary for the reception of spark or radio-telephone signals, although spark signals may be amplified with distortion of the tone so that the characteristic note of the spark is lost.

Prosecute Ghouls Who Sold Bodies

BERLIN, Aug. 30 (by mail).—A Budapest firm sold hundreds of corpses and parts of dissected bodies to medical institutions and making a profit of about sixty thousand kronen per body.
Some twenty persons were employed by the firm and paid from 2,000 to 4,000 kronen for each of the delivered corpses, which were stolen out of fresh graves and also from the morgue of the city. They were arrested and a charge will be made against them for robbery and desecration of dead bodies.

Race Track to be Put in Condition

(By International News Service.)
SALEM, N. H., Aug. 30.—The Rockingham Park race track will soon be open again, it is believed after many years of idleness.
Negotiations are now under way for the lease of the track and also for horse and auto racing. A large force of men will put the track in shape for the first races scheduled for Labor Day. During the early days of the World War Rockingham Park served as a training camp for young men.

IT MEANS NOTHING!

CAPE GIRARDEAU, Sept. 30.—Mike Vasil, of this city, is today a "millionaire." Vasil recently felt heir to one million six hundred thousand Russian rubles. When they were delivered to him, sixteen certificates of 100,000 each, he found by consulting the rate exchange list, that at the present time the bulk of "paper" is worth just $3.20. Before the war this number of rubles would have been worth $500,000.

Last Rites Held For Auto Crash Victim

RICHMOND, Aug. 30.—Funeral services for Richard Robertson, who died Saturday at the Cottage hospital as a result of injuries received when the auto in which he was riding with three companions was hit by a Santa Fe freight car, were held Monday from Wilson & Kratzer's funeral parlors.
Robertson was a native of California and 52 years of age. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Alice Robertson and several brothers.

BERKELEY C. OF C. OPPOSES WATER AND POWER BILL

Proposed Act Called "Unsound, Unnecessary and Dangerous."

BERKELEY, Aug. 30.—Defeat of the water and power act of the November election is urged by the Berkeley Chamber of Commerce today following a report made by the board of directors as a result of a study conducted into both phases of the proposed plan to place all hydro-electric power under the control of a state board.

The act as proposed is "unsound, unnecessary and dangerous," is the statement of the chamber's directorate as headed by President Roy O'Long.

REASONS SET FORTH.
Following is the statement of the board's stand as issued this morning by Secretary Charles Keeler:
Careful consideration of the so-called Water and Power Act by your committee convinces us that it should be defeated for reasons as follows:
"That it would create a super-political machine of unprecedented and unbelievable power."
"That its proposed $500,000,000 bond issue would place a mortgage upon every acre of California land to one-eighth of its assessed valuation."

"That it contains provisions which permit of pyramiding the State debt and which, therefore, savors of wildcat financing."
"That it permits unlimited increase in taxation at the behest of the proposed all-powerful board."
"That it authorizes unjust and even tyrannical exercise of the right of eminent domain."

"That it jeopardizes the value of millions of dollars in securities in which thousands of our citizens have invested."
"That because of the years necessary to carry its program through and because its passage would necessarily halt all electrical development through private investment it would probably bring about a period of business stagnation."

"That it proposes to substitute state responsibility and risk for private responsibility and risk."

TAX LOSS SEEN.
"That the state will lose taxes it now receives from private companies, which loss of income must be made up from other tax sources, thus adding to the present burden of the taxpayer. State investments for development of hydro-electric energy are tax exempt; the same investment by private companies provide new sources of tax revenue."
"That if the state goes into the power business, as the proposed amendment contemplates, it must either take over, at appraised valuation, the power plants and power rights of existing companies, which would probably leave no money available for future development."

Girls Graduating Guests At Party

RICHMOND, Aug. 30.—The girls members of the 1922 graduating class of the Richmond Union High school were guests of Miss Miriam Garrard on Saturday evening at her home, 297 Cottage avenue. A short business meeting of the club was organized, Miss Helen Axelson being elected president. Dancing games took up the balance of the evening with refreshments served at the close.

The next meeting of the club will be on Wednesday evening, September 20.

or, it must undertake to develop much less valuable and economical water power projects, many of which, have already been expected and rejected by the existing power companies as much less valuable and economical than the projects which they have developed, or are now developing.
"That the proposed measure should have been first presented to the Legislature, where its many defects in form and substance could have been disclosed and remedied, and that until it is so remedied, even those who conceive in the public ownership of all power projects should vote against it."
"That we declare our opposition to the so-called Water and Power Act on the further ground that it is unsound, unnecessary and dangerous."

BRITISH WOMEN BEGIN WAR ON HIGH FOOD PRICE

Wives of Men Whose Wages
Have Been Cut Try to Slash Supply Cost.

LONDON, Aug. 30.—The latest war to threaten the British Isles is that between the housewife and the allied forces of the grocer and butcher.
Everywhere in England the tendency has been during the last few months to cut the wages, but the cut in price of the necessities of life has not been commensurate with the drop in the salary packets.
Hubby struck when they attacked his wages and lost. Wifey now strikes when the grocer charges extra cents on the flour and sugar and the butcher for his increased rates on the viands, and again hubby loses; he has got to go without.

Many commodities are dearer considerably than they were in the spring. In all the cost of living has gone up ten points. The following table shows the percentage above normal in the cost of living since 1921:

September	120
October	110
November	100
December	95

January	85
February	79
March	77
April	73
May	72
June	70
July	60

The best lamb costs thirty cents a pound, while a pound of the best English beef now costs fifty cents. Butter reaches the highest mark it has made since September, 1921, and fifty cents the pound is the lowest price at which it can be had.

Bread and fruit are higher and the latter rather than usual. Bananas are four cents apiece, potatoes are twenty-five cents a pound, eggs thirty-six cents a dozen, milk twenty-four cents a quart, apples twenty cents a pound, while the baker charges twenty cents for a quarter loaf.

A Book of Practical Economy

You will find the volume pictured here—which you may have on opening a savings account at The American Bank—one of the most useful and valuable "books" you have ever possessed.

You will discover that it is literally a book of practical economy, suggesting, encouraging and facilitating systematic home-saving.

To all outward appearances—size, shape, richly embossed morocco-like covers and gilded edges—it is a real book. But between its covers is a cleverly contrived steel bank, a handy depository for regular small savings.
